ROLL OF HONOUR.

IN MEMORIAM.

DEANE—In ever-loving memory of Captain Ernest Cotton Deane, R.A.M.C., (M.C. and mentioned in despatches), 1st Indian Expeditionary Force (attached 2nd Leicesters), killed at battle of Loos, 25th September, 1915.

DIGGES LA TOUCHE—In ever-present and intensely loving and proud memory of my precious son, Averell Digges La Touche, Lieutenant, Royal Irish Rifles, 5th (attached 2nd) Battalion, dearly-loved youngest and last surviving son of the late Major B. N. Digges La Touche, who gave his life for God and the Empire at the battle of Hooge, France, September 25th-27th, 1915. "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends."

"Something that nothing can alter,
Something that nothing can quench;
It lives through the roar of battle,
It leaps with the men in the trench;
Something that nothing can alter,
Though they lay us under the sod,
Is the infinite pity of Jesus,
'Tis the measureless love of God."

His devoted mother.

FOGERTY—In proud and loving memory of Lieutenant John Frederick Cullinan Fogerty, R.E., killed in action at Ypres, 25th September, 1917, aged 21 years; and of Lieutenant William Perrott Fogerty, 57th Wildes Rifles (F.F.), died on active service in Egypt, 19th October, 1919, aged 20 years.

"They shall not grow old as we that are left grow old;
Age shall not weary them, nor the passing years condemn.
At the going down of the sun and in the morning
We will remember them."

SNOW—In ever-loving memory of our dearly-beloved son, Joseph Snow, Sergeant, Irish Guards, late of the R.I.C., Wexford, killed in action on the Somme, 25th September, 1916. Sadly missed by relatives and friends.

And with the morn those angel-faces smile
Which I have loved long since and lost awhile.

NOTICE OF CHARITABLE BEQUESTS.

In the Goods of ANNA THOMPSON, late of Kilmalogue, Portarlington, in the County of Offaly, Spinster, deceased.

Notice is hereby given, pursuant to the Statute 30 and 31 Vic., cap. 54, that said Anna Thompson, by her Will, dated the 5th day of May, 1923, made the following bequests:—

All Testatrix's Five Per Cent. War Stock and Bank of Ireland Stock and Preference Shares in Ferrier, Pollock, Limited, to the Representative Church Body of the Church of Ireland, upon trust, either to permit said securities to remain in their present investment, or, at their discretion, to reinvest them in any securities in which Trustees are by law permitted to invest in and to apply the annual income thereof for the sole purpose of the Sustentation Fund of St. Paul's Church, Portarlington. And Testatrix also devised her two houses in Kilmalogue, Portarlington, to said Representative Church Body upon trust (with power to retain or sell same), to pay the annual rents and income thereof, or the proceeds of a sale, for the sole purpose of the Sustentation Fund of said St. Paul's Church, Portarlington. And Testatrix bequeathed all her shares in the Dublin United Tramways Company to the Irish Church Missions Society for the purposes thereof, and directed that, in the event of any of the investments thereinbefore specifically bequeathed being realised in her lifetime, the respective legatees should receive a sum equal to the proceeds thereof, respectively.

And, by a codicil dated 23rd June, 1926, Testatrix confirmed said Will so far as relates to the house she did not reside in, but as to the house in which Testatrix resided, the said Representative Church Body should take said house, subject to the life interest therein of her servant, Katherine Leavy, but otherwise subject in all respects as in said Will provided. And Testatrix devised and bequeathed all the rest residue and remainder of her property, real and personal, to the Reverend John Richards Goff, upon trust, subject to keeping the grave of Testatrix and that of Miss Lilly in order, for the Sustentation Fund of St. Paul's Church, aforesaid.

Said Testatrix died on 1st July, 1926, and Probate of her said Will and Codicil was on the 3rd day of September, 1926, granted forth of the District Registry at Mullingar of the High Court of Justice (Probate) in Saorstat Eireann, to the said Reverend John Richards Goff, the Executor therein named.

Notice is hereby given, pursuant to the Statute 30 and 31 Vic., Cap. 54, that the above-named Gerald Doyle, by his Will, dated the 23rd of January, 1914, made the following charitable bequests, that is to say:—

To the Parish Priest of Saint Michael and John's, Exchange street, Dublin, at the time of his death, for Masses for the repose of the souls of testator's father, mother and brothers, £50.

To the Parish Priest of St. Michan's, North Anne street, Dublin, at the time of his death, for the like purpose, £50.

To the Prior of the Franciscan Church, Merchant's quay, Dublin, at the time of his death, for the like purpose, £50.

To the Parish Priest of the Parish of Dunboyne, at the time of his death, for the like purpose, £50.

To the Parish Priest of the Parish of Blanchardstown at the time of his death, for the like purpose, £50.

To the Parish Priest of Saint Paul's, Arran quay, Dublin, at the time of his death, for the like purpose, £50; and

To the Prior of the Church of St. Mary of the Angels, Church street, Dublin, at the time of his death, for the like purpose, £50.

And he thereby directed that his trustees should hold the residue of the trust funds in trust as to one equal third part thereof for his sister, Julia Anne Doyle, to be disposed of by her, either in her lifetime or by her last will, or any codicil thereto, amongst their poor relations and for such charitable purposes and in such manner in all respects as she should think fit.

By a Codicil to said Will, dated the 28th of April, 1915, the testator declared that the seven sums of £50 each bequeathed by said Will had been so bequeathed for Masses for the repose of the souls of himself, his father, mother, brothers and sister, and he thereby directed that said Will should be read and construed as if the words "myself and my sister" had been inserted therein between the words "of" and "my" in the bequest of £50 to the Parish Priest of Saint Michael and John's, Exchange street, Dublin; and he thereby bequeathed the further sum of £50 to the Parish Priest of Finglas, Co. Dublin, at the time of his death for the like purpose.

The said testator died on the 23rd of November, 1925, and Probate of said Will and four Codicils thereto was, on the 18th of August, 1926, granted forth of the Principal Probate Registry in Saorstat Eireann to James A. ROYAL HOSPITAL FOR INCURABLES.

A meeting of the Board of Governors was held at the Hospital on Tuesday morning, 21st inst., at 9.30 o'clock.

William Perrin, Esq. (Chairman) presiding; 282 Governors were present at this meeting.

The proceedings of the last meeting of the Board were read, confirmed and signed. Apologies were received from a number of Governors unable to be present.

Miss M. E. Mooney, Miss Janet B. Stark, Sir Wm. J. Thompson, M.D., and Patrick J. Brady, Esq., having kindly consented to act, were appointed Visiting Governors for the month.

Payment (£21) gratefully acknowledged, and Mrs. A. Channing was duly elected a Life Governor.

The Chairman made special allusion to the Hospital's Bank Debt (£6,906 13/9), and he appealed for financial help to assist in its reduction, particularly for contributions of £21 to qualify the kind donors as Life Governors, who as such have complete control of the management of the institution. The Hospital, which is capable of accommodating 249 patients (if funds were forthcoming to maintain this large number of beds), has claims on all classes of the community, as it admits poor, incurable and necessitous patients, without religious distinction, from all parts of Ireland, and supplies them with food, lodging, clothing, medical and surgical assistance, medicines and all manner of necessaries without fee or reward from the sufferer. It costs the Hospital at present between £400 and £500 per annum for bank interest on overdraft. If the debt were cleared this sum of money would be available for the wants of the suffering inmates.

The election of patients was then proceeded with. Twenty names appeared on the printed list, and 13 candidates were in attendance. All the absentees were medically certified by Dr. Preston Ball as unable to be present. The following, having obtained the highest number of votes, were declared duly elected patients, seven for immediate admission, and one to remain out on a weekly allowance from the funds, pending a suitable vacancy:—Mary McKenna, tubercular disease of the spine; Agnes Mary Russell, rheumatoid arthritis; Frances Walsh, tubercular hip disease; Anne Graham, heart disease and rheumatoid arthritis; Elizabeth Young, heart disease and rheumatism; Anastasia Hegarty, rheumatoid arthritis; Annie Clarke, consumption; Elizabeth Martin, rheumatic arthritis.

The Board were reluctantly obliged to refuse patients urgently in need of admission, and suffering from consumption, heart disease, paralysis, rheumatoid arthritis, etc.

The Board adjourned to Tuesday, 16th November, 1926, when an election for male patients will take place.

The following kind contributions received since last meeting are gratefully acknowledged:—£2 2/-, Miss E. F. Montgomery; £2, Rev. Aloysius Corbett, O.D.C.; £1 1/-, Major Arthur Whewell; £1 each, Miss R. M. Winslow, Miss H. L. Little, John Fogarty, Esq., J.P.; 10/-, Miss E. FitzGerald.

Further contributions are earnestly solicited to reduce the Hospital's Indebtedness to their bankers, and will be gratefully received by William Perrin, Esq. (Chairman), 27 Palmerston Gardens, Dublin; Sir Walter H. Boyd, Bart., K.C. (Vice-Chairman), 13 Upper Mount street, Dublin; Alfred G. Hollinshead, Esq., J.P. (Hon. Treasurer), The Haven, Palmerston Gardens, Dublin, or by the Registrar at the Hospital.

The super-submarine Oberon was successfully launched at Chatham yesterday.

GOSSIP FROM THE COURSE.

NEWBURY CUP FIELD.

TRAINER'S TROUBLES.

THE SATRAP SOLD TO STATES.

FROM OUR TRAVELLING CORRESPONDENT.

NEWBURY, Friday Night.

Rain here this evening seems to portend a break in the weather, which will not be unwelcome to owners and trainers, who have other troubles as well as the hard ground at the moment. There is coughing in several stables, and I believe that one of the Manton candidates for the Cambridgeshire, Delius, is now affected. Coughing made its appearance at Manton earlier in the week when Tournesol, who was to have run in the Newbury Cup to-morrow, became a victim. All this will make people very shy of speculating in advance on the Cesarewitch and the Cambridgeshire, and they will naturally think it better to take shorter odds and a run on the day of the race about a live horse than long odds with the possibility of having supported an animal who is sick in his box when the race is being run.

The race for the Cup to-morrow afternoon will not be quite so interesting as it was thought a week ago. It is doubtful whether Vermilion Pencil will run. He certainly will not be started if the going is hard, but in case of a downpour to-night Mr. Dawson could send him on in the morning. If he runs he will have a very good chance, indeed, for I take it that his lapse when he would not face the gate at Liverpool in July was only a temporary one.

In his absence it is likely that Pons Asinorum will be a strong favourite. He has all the class of the race on his side, and he is very well at the moment. It is doubtful whether he can get seventeen furlongs in the best company, but it looks as though it will be moderate here. Foxlaw does not run, and Mr. Joel's colt should easily account for such as Camden, Lamintone, Carlotta, Try, Try Again, and Blacon. The one I am a little doubtful about is Mafoota, for she represents Market Basket here at 7st. 5lb., which would sound attractive. PONS ASINORUM has to give her 26lb., and it will tax him at the distance. He is so much better class that he may do it, and, while choosing him to win, I regard the mare as a great danger. As Mr. Gilpin has sent TUGELA instead of Baby Polly, who seemed to have such a good chance in the Donington Castle Maiden Plate, she is very likely to win, for she has been particularly well galloped. EMBARGO looks like a good thing for the Kingsclere Plate.

Several trainers would not run horses this afternoon on account of the state of the going, but even then fields were large. Mr. Gilpin took the most interesting race of the afternoon, the Highclere Nursery, with Lieutenant-Colonel Loder's Cresta Run. The daughter of Hurry On started favourite, and, taking the lead soon after the start, she was never headed, and won easily by three lengths from the Helenora filly, Flashing Star putting up a good performance in finishing third under 9st. 5lb. Cresta Run has at last run up to her home gallops in public and showed none of the flightiness which marked her when she has run earlier in the season.

Gay Baby, the filly by Gay Crusader out of Tete-a-Tete, for whom the Aga Khan gave Lord Furness 10,500 gns. at Doncaster last year, was a general choice for the Newbury Foal Plate, for which she started at evens. On her performance this afternoon she does not seem destined to take high rank on a racecourse, for Alan came away from her at the distance and beat her easily by three lengths. Alan is a half-brother to Marvex, by Alan Breck, who was put in a selling race at Newmarket in the spring, and was bought in for 1,000 gns. after winning. He was beaten by Nun of Kent at Doncaster, so the form to-day does not seem exalted. Another high-priced yearling from last year's Doncaster sales, Grey Hill, a colt by Tetratema out of Betty Hill, bred by Mr. Bellaney, was running on at the finish and was placed third, a neck behind Gay Baby. He also does not seem to have an exalted future before him.

The Aga Khan, owner of Gay Baby, won a couple of races during the afternoon, not with the yearlings for which he has paid big prices, but with a couple of French-bred horses, Caprier and Astre D'Or, both of whom until this afternoon were maidens in this country. Caprier has been here three years without winning a race, and was used last season as a pace-maker for Charley's Mount in the Alexandra Stakes and the Goodwood Cup, in both of which he did rather better than the filly. Last July he ran third in the Goodwood Cup. Ridden by Mr. Gerald Wellesley this afternoon in the United Services' Cup, a race confined to soldier riders, he took the lead in the straight from Kwannon, who stopped at the end of two miles, and Myra Gray, and then beat the latter by a length and a half. Lord Killeen was third, four lengths away on Spanish Thorn, with the favourite, Bachelor's Call, ridden by Major Cavenagh, fourth.

Astre D'Or was a very easy winner of the Moderate Plate from Caramond, a three-year-old trained by O'Sullivan, who must not be confused with Coramond, the colt bred by Mr. James Daly, who was close up fourth in the Grand Prix De Paris a couple of seasons ago, and then met with an accident which practically put an end to his racing career.

Bright Land, a five-year-old brother to Bright Maid, bred by the late Mr. Cullinan, looks like being the super-plater of this back end. First exploited in this sort of event at Doncaster he won comfortably, and to-day he took the opening selling plate very easily from the favourite, Bridge of Dun, being afterwards bought in for 600 guineas. The Selling Nursery fell to Lord Londonderry's Val de Grace gelding, by Glanmerin, who beat Know All easily.

Fred Darling states this afternoon that Lord Woolavington has decided that Coronach will not run again this season, which removes the possibility of his ever meeting Solario.

It is known now that Major McCalmont's brilliant two-year-old, The Satrap, has been sold, and will be shipped to America very soon. It is a great pity that an accident robbed this colt of what seemed a most promising career if he kept right.

LEOPARDSTOWN.

TO-DAY'S SELECTIONS.

There is promise of an enjoyable afternoon's sport at Leopardstown, where an attractive programme will be submitted. The principal event is the Dargle Plate, in which Caustic, on his running with Lavengro in the Railway Stakes at the Curragh, must have a big chance. Neither Archway nor West Indies may be sent, but with a run it would not be surprising to see Cuddler supplement her Phœnix Park success. Laudamus and Elphenor are others with claims to consideration, but in the absence of Archway Caustic may win. Selections are appended:—

Autumn Plate—O, May.
Scalp Plate—Misogynist.
Dargle Plate—Archway; if absent, Caustic.
Foxrock Plate—Royal Miller.
Dundrum Plate—Wild Argosy.

SELECTIONS FOR TO-DAY.

The Autumn Cup, run over a distance of two miles and one furlong, provides a strong attraction at the wind-up of the Newbury Meeting to-day, and the possibility of its influencing the Cesarewitch is likely to prove an additional attraction. Walter Earl entertains no doubts about the ability of Pons Asinorum to get this distance on the form he showed when finishing third to Solario in the Ascot Gold Cup. The issue looks an open one, and I take Mafoota and Pons Asinorum as the pick, with a preference for the last-named. Selections are appended:—

Two-Year-Old Plate—Balta.
Long Distance Handicap—Black Cargo.
Kingsclere Plate—Tenacity.
Autumn Cup—Pons Asinorum.
Donnington Plate—Tugela.
Whatcombe Handicap—Poliwog.

CESAREWITCH GALLOPS.

Trainers with horses engaged in the Cesarewitch gave their charges some interesting gallops at Newmarket yesterday.

R. W. Colling sent Templestowe with Wykeham and others a smart spin over five furlongs.

Day's Foxlaw, with Solario, was indulged in two canters.

W. Earl's Glommen, with Pantera and Prompt, had a striding gallop over a mile and a quarter.

P. P. Gilpin's Finglas acquitted himself in good style over a mile and a quarter in company with Pendor and Tom Bowling.

S. Pickering's Longquill had Noisy Oyster for a companion in a sharp spin over five furlongs.

G. Blackwell's Sir Joshua shaped well in a mile and a quarter gallop with Arduous and Marsin.

Walter Grigg's Loch Sen (Wedgewood) shaped well in a seven furlong gallop with Marie Rocket.

H. Leader's Hidennis strode out freely over a mile and three-quarters in company with Disposals and Serene George.

CORONACH NOT TO RACE AGAIN THIS SEASON.

A definite decision was arrived at yesterday concerning the running of Coronach again this year. Fred Darling, the trainer of the colt, informed the Press Association that the Derby, Eclipse Stakes and St. Leger winner had concluded his three-year-old career. It was at one time thought probable that Coronach would have met Sir John Rutherford's four-year-old, Solario, the winner of last year's St. Leger and of this season's Coronation Cup and Ascot Gold Cup, in the Jockey Club Stakes, which comes up for decision on Thursday next at Newmarket.

The decision not to run Coronach again this season renders it extremely unlikely that he will ever meet Solario on a racecourse, for, if the present plans are adhered to, Solario will take up stud duties at the beginning of next year. A meeting between such admitted Turf champions as Coronach and Solario would have created great enthusiasm, for they were regarded as the best of their respective ages.

The policy of retiring Coronach for the present season is unquestionably a wise one, for, apart from his victories in the Derby, Eclipse Stakes and St. Leger, the son of Hurry On—Wet Kiss has had a busy time as a three-year-old. He won the Column Produce Stakes at the Newmarket Craven Meeting from Lancegaye, who subsequently finished second in the Derby, was second to Colorado in the Two Thousand Guineas and won the St. James's Palace Stakes from Lex at Ascot. The total amount won by Coronach this season amounts to £39,624.

RUGBY.

OPENING MATCHES.

The Dublin Rugby season opens to-day with three senior matches and many junior, minor and schools games. Most of the senior clubs are again running four teams, which is a healthy sign, and the spread of the game in the provinces is also very encouraging. At this, the opening period of the new season, we have been asked to call the attention of half-backs to Laws of the Game, 1926-27, page 14, par. (g): "No player shall by speech or otherwise give information as to how or when the ball is being put into the scrimmage." Of to-day's senior games, Blackrock College and Bective Rangers, who meet at Williamstown, should provide about the best game. On the Bective side many new names appear in the back division, and a valuable addition to the forwards should be C. Carroll, the Belvedere schoolboy of last season. Lansdowne, with E. Davy as out-half, and some new forwards from Blackrock and University College, and W. E. Crawford still in his old position, look like having a good season. They open to-day with a match against Palmerston at Lansdowne road. Wanderers, who will be captained by their scrum half, P. Murray, have not secured any new men of note, but with a side mostly composed of young players may mould into a useful team. Their opponents at Donnybrook to-day will be Old Wesley.

ST. JAMES'S GATE S.C. GALA.

DUBLIN WIN IRISH CUP TIE.

The Gala of the St. James's Gate Club is annually one of the most attractive of the list of indoor functions, and, therefore, it was not surprising to find a large crowd present last evening at the Iveagh Baths. An excellent programme was arranged and was handled smoothly and expeditiously.

The principal items on the card was the first round tie in the Leinster section of the Irish Cup, in which the holders, Dublin, were opposed by Pembroke, the first Metropolitan team to win the trophy in competition, and the only Leinster club to win it in Belfast. Dublin were easily the better team, and won a one-sided game by 10 goals to nil, thereby qualifying to meet Dublin University in the second round at the St. Andrew's College Gala on the 8th October. The 100 Yards Senior Championship of the club was won by T. V. Chute; and J. Lyster, of the Sandycove Club, was successful in the Men's (Open) 88 Yards Handicap. Details:—

22 Yards Beginners' Race (Club)—C. R. Dunne (6), 1; W. Fidler (6) and T. Byrne (5), dead-heat, 2. Six competed. Time—19 secs.

100 Yards Club Championship (under 21 years)—M. Ronan, 1; R. O'Brien, 2; J. O'Connor, 3. Time—1 min. 37 secs.

66 Yards Boys' Handicap (Open)—1st Heat—F. Holland (17), 1; E. Levin (17), 2. Four competed. Time—54 secs. 2nd Heat—F. W. Morgan (10), 1; D. Healy (15), 2; E. J. Harper (9), 3. Four competed. Time—46 2-5 secs. 3rd Heat—P. O'Byrne (6), 1; J. Dowds (6), 2; R. Swaine (2), 3. Four competed. Time—45 2-5 secs. Final—Holland, 1; O'Byrne, 2; Vaughan, 3. Won a fine race by a touch; same. Time 54 3-5 secs.

44 Yards Breast and Back Handicap (Club)—T. Doherty (9), 1; P. Parker (12), 2; J. Walsh (4), 3. Eight competed. Time—50 secs.

88 Yards (Open) Handicap (Men)—1st Heat—J. Lyster (19), 1; C. Brady (13), 2; M. Brady (13), 3. Five competed. Time—75 secs. 2nd Heat—H. Styles (2), 1; C. V. Brewster (6), 2; R. K. Boylan (2), 3. Four competed. Time—57 2-5 secs. Final—J. Lyster, 1; M. Brady, 2; C. V. Brewster, 3. Time—72 secs.

100 Yards Club Championship (Senior)—T. V. Chute, 1; M. Ronan, 2. Won easily. Time—80 secs. Mr. Chute's victory was very popular, the winner receiving an ovation from the crowd.

88 Yards Handicap (Club)—J. O'Connor (7) and F. Wilkinson (5), dead-heat, 1; F. Gasteen (4), 3. Eight competed. Time—87 secs.

Inter-Departmental Team Race—Brewhouse, 1; Traffic, 2; Engineers, 3. Time—2 mins. 22 secs.

Graceful Diving (Club) (Scratch)—P. O'Brien, 1; T. O'Brien, 2; G. Moore, 3. Six competed.

WATER POLO.

Teams:—

Dublin—H. Doherty; W. H. Sexton, N. Judd, M. A. O'Connor; N. M. Purcell (capt.), J. A. O'Connor and R. M. Corbett.

Pembroke—C. Heather; J. C. Wallace, J. P. Shannon, J. Beckett; J. H. Mecredy (capt.), O. N. Armstrong and C. Carroll.

Referee—Mr. H. G. Ellerker.

After some up and down exchanges, Purcell scored, following fine play by Judd. Almost immediately the Dublin back again was prominent in a good move, and a pass to Purcell was smartly converted. Dublin began to monopolise the play, and despite solid work by Beckett and some good saves by Heather, Judd, Corbett and Purcell added further goals before the interval.

Dublin again were much superior in the second half, and scored five times—J. O'Connor (3), Judd and Corbett. Result:—

SHIPBUILDING IN BRITAIN.

HOW CONTRACTS CAN BE RETAINED.

A meeting of the Shipbuilding Employers' Federation was held at Carlisle yesterday to consider questions arising out of the report of the shipbuilding joint inquiry.

Interviewed after the meeting, representatives of the Employers' Federation stated that, having regard to the spirit of co-operation which had been maintained with the unions in connection with the work of the joint inquiry, they preferred not to make any comment on the statements of the result of the meeting of the trade unions at York. Arrangements had been made for an early meeting of the parties, at which the trade unions would communicate to them and explain their decision.

One of the employers said that there was a danger that a misunderstanding may arise, having regard to the terms of the men's statement about the Furness Withy contracts for German motor ships, and what the employers' and employés' representatives have agreed upon in connection therewith.

DIFFERENCE IN TENDERS.

The men's statements at York do not quite correctly represent the actual opinion set out in the agreed joint report, and it is necessary that the actual reference to the matter in the report should be emphasised. The report, he said, states that there was no substance in the contention that the difference in the German tender as compared with the British tender was due to any greater skill on the part of the German workmen, or superiority in technical equipment, organising capacity, or in science of naval architecture.

Under the heading of foreign competition generally, the report went on to say that during the proceedings of the Joint Committee the employers' representatives pointed out that the margin of difference between the British and German prices in the case of the Furness Withy contracts was quite abnormal, and did not represent accurately the general run of the margin between British and foreign tenders. The shipbuilders' representatives explained that in many contracts for new work, particularly for the bigger ships, which gave the greatest amount of employment, and in the majority of contracts for repair work—in which the Continental competition, particularly of the Rotterdam firms, was most keenly felt—the margin of difference was not so great.

THE REMEDY.

In these cases, by minor re-adjustment in handling and greater elasticity in the organisation of work, by interchangeability and by the loyal and full observance of the conditions of the 47-hour week, much of the new work and the greater portion of the ship-repairing work which at present goes to the Continent could be retained for the British workmen and the British shipbuilders.

This would also, the shipbuilders hoped, encourage shipowners to place work at the reduced prices, which would thus be secured without interfering with the wages or increasing the working hours of the shipyard workmen.

TUAM, KILLALA, AND ACHONRY.

EXAMINATION FOR MEDALS AND PRIZES.

At the recent examination held by the Tuam, Killala and Achonry Diocesan Boards of Education for the bishop's gold and silver medals, and the Rev. Dr. Henry's bequest book prizes, there were eighteen candidates in the senior and seventeen in the junior division. No candidate gained the number of marks necessary to win the gold medal.

For other prizes the successful candidates were as follows:—

Senior Division—Molly Fitzpatrick, Westport, 83.1 p.c., silver medal and £2 prize. Henry Prizes—Kathleen Denniston, Westport, 79 p.c., £3; Midia Hanberry, Westport, 75.5 p.c., £2; Ethel Sharpe, Kilglass, 76.1 p.c., £1; Emily Denniston, Westport, 75.1 p.c., £1; Margaret Griffith, Galway, 74.5 p.c., £1; Mollie Leslie, Tuam, 74.1 p.c., £1.

Annie Lougheed, Kilmacshalgan, 76.6 p.c., and Anna Sharpe, Kilglass, 75.1 p.c., qualified for prizes, but, having won prizes of the same or higher value in a previous year, are eligible only for a higher prize in this examination. The Board of Education of Killala and Achonry awards them both a book prize.

Junior Division—Dorothy Hearne, Ballinrobe, 92.5 p.c., Henry prize, £2, and Church History prize, 10s. Henry Prizes—Gladys Morrison, Easkey, 85.5 p.c., £2; Patricia Clarke, Skreen, 85.9 p.c., £2; Gertrude Scott, Easkey, 81.5 p.c., £1; Lizzie Walker, Kilglass, 79.2 p.c., £1; Jennie Stuart, Easkey, 72.2 p.c., £1; Dorothy Blakeney, Kilglass, 65.4 p.c., £1.

THE SUPERVISION OF CINEMAS.

LIMERICK PROPRIETOR FINED £5.

At the Limerick District Court yesterday, before Mr. Flood, James J. Trehy, proprietor of the Abbey Cinema, was fined £5 for failing to exercise proper supervision in the matter of ingress and egress.

The evidence of the Corporation sub-sanitary officer was that he visited the cinema at a matinée performance on the 8th inst., and found one of the main entrance doors blocked with a hoarding, and a passage leading to an exit was blocked with chairs. He spoke to the assistant, Mr. Trehy being away, and when he visited the place at night the same condition of things prevailed.

The defence was that the defendant had not received notice of the regulations.

Mr. Flood remarked that there should have been notice enough or warning enough after the dreadful happening at Drumcollogher. The Justices of the country had a duty to discharge to the public in this matter, and would discharge it, and for any future offence of the kind the maximum penalty of £20 would be imposed.

DIRTY MILK.

INSPECTOR'S DISCOVERIES IN COUNTY CORK.

At the Kilmallock District Court several farmers were prosecuted for tendering dirty milk in cans at creameries.

In one case the inspector said that he found that 47 gallons of milk was visibly dirty with cow manure; in another cow hair and flies were floating on the milk, and in four others the vessels were dirty, yellow slime being in contact with the milk.

The defendants pleaded that they were not aware of the condition of the vessels, which were supposed to be cleaned by the workpeople.

In the case in which the cow manure was found the justice imposed a fine of 40s., with 20s. costs, and in the others fines of 20s., with 20s. costs.

THE LICENSED TRADE IN GALWAY.

CHAIRMAN'S FEARS.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the County Galway Licensed Traders' Association, held at Loughrea, Mr. W. J. Duffy, Chairman, who presided, expressed the belief that an attempt would be made later on to pass legislation of a kind calculated to destroy their business interests.

Proceeding, Mr. Duffy said that, small as it was, their little organisation had achieved wonders since it was started twelve months ago. The biggest thing that it had accomplished was at the Senate elections. Prior to that they could remember their fellow traders were brought before the Courts on the pettiest of charges, laughable charges had they not been so serious afterwards. Down to that time the District Justices declared that they had no option but to fine, and, in addition, endorse the licence. Traders coming before them were now, in most cases, allowed out under the First Offenders Act.

DURHAM GAS POISONING TRAGEDY.

At the inquest at Shotley Bridge (Durham) yesterday on the four victims of last Thursday's gas poisoning tragedy, the jury returned a verdict, "That the two children were murdered by their parents, and that Jeremiah Jarves and his wife committed suicide whilst suffering under disappointment, but the evidence was not sufficient to indicate their state of mind."

A DIVER'S ORDEAL.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM DEATH.

Interviewed yesterday, in a Fleetwood hospital, Diver Lee, who was almost drowned on Thursday, through the breaking of the glass in his helmet, whilst he was working on the wreck of the Glencona, near the Lune Light, Fleetwood, told a graphic story.

"It was the most dreadful experience and narrow escape from death I have had in fifteen years' diving," he said. "To feel the water swirling in and suffocating, seventy feet down, together the awful pressure of fifty pounds to the square inch was horrible. Had it not been for Skipper Doran and the crew, who acted so promptly, I should have been dead. I was crossing from one side of the wreck to the other. Everything was pitch black, owing to the depth, and a strong tide was stirring up the mud."

Showing his hands, covered with cuts, Mr. Lee said—"Those are with groping amongst the tangled iron in the dark. I have constantly to balance against the current, and one of my clogs got fast in a hole in the deck, and I was swept off my feet. I fell over the edge of the deck of the forepart of the wreck, which had been blown up already. As I dropped, I felt a piece of iron gash my right sleeves, and I clapped my left hand over the hole.

"I then fell with the window, right on to a girder. The glass broke. I put my hand to the hole, and cut it badly on the glass. I then drew a deep breath, and tugged frantically to be pulled up. It was awful. The tremendous pressure of the water seemed to crush me. I felt myself being raised, and then remembered nothing more until I was in hospital."

DERRY WAR MEMORIAL.

WILL NOT BE READY FOR ARMISTICE DAY.

Delay in the erection of the Londonderry war memorial was discussed at a meeting of the War Memorial Committee, when Sir Robert Anderson, D.L., M.P., Chairman, who presided, made a statement on the subject, in the absence of the Hon. Secretary, Captain Wilton, M.C.

Sir Robert said that the contract for the memorial was entered into in April, 1925, and to Captain Wilton was delegated the duty of providing the sculptors with the names of the fallen. He (Sir Robert) was for a long time under the impression that much progress was being made in that direction, but early in the spring of the present year he ascertained that the sculptors had not received the list, and, although he had been in frequent communication with Captain Wilton on the subject, the sculptors recently informed him that they had not yet received the names.

As a consequence, Sir Robert declared, it would now be impossible to have the memorial ready for Armistice Day this year, as had been originally intended. As the sculptors pointed out, it would take three or four months to inscribe the names on the panels. He felt that it was but right that the public should know that neither he nor the Committee were to blame for the delay in getting the memorial erected. The delay was solely due to the fact that the names had not been forwarded to the sculptors.

Personally, he had exhausted all his resources in order to procure the names, and had frequently corresponded with the Secretary since April with that object in view. Unfortunately he had not been successful. He wished to put the facts clearly before the Committee and the public, because he had been subject to a great deal of criticism in the Press and from other sources because of the delay.

If given authority, he could procure a list of the fallen within six weeks. His first consideration was to have the memorial completed with the least possible delay.

It was decided to adjourn the meeting, and a deputation was appointed to interview Captain Wilton in the meantime in reference to the position.

UNLICENSED REVOLVER.

DISTRICT JUSTICE FINES FORMER MAGISTRATE.

At the Longwood monthly District Sessions, before Mr. McCarthy, District Justice, Mr. Edward Conlan, Legar, Hill of Down, a former County Councillor and Justice of the Peace for Meath, was prosecuted by the State for having a revolver without a permit, as required by the Firearms Act.

Superintendent Burke, Trim, appeared for the State; Mr. O'Toole, solicitor, Edenderry, defended.

Sergeant McCann, Kinnegad, said that he visited the house of the defendant on the 13th inst. under a search warrant for firearms. He met the defendant and told him his business, and the defendant produced a revolver. It was a six-chamber Webley. He had no licence for it, but he had a permit for a gun and a game licence.

Mr. Conlan, an extensive farmer, was sworn, and said that it was his intention to make application for a permit for the revolver, but he was busy, as he had to go to the Dublin cattle market that week.

Cross-examined—He had the revolver when the sergeant called to his house on the previous Sunday, but in the conversation that followed concerning another matter he forgot to mention about the revolver.

Justice—What was the other matter?

Defendant—A sheep was stolen from me; I thought that more important than the revolver.

Justice—Where did you get this weapon from?—A friend of mine.

What is his name?—I would rather not disclose his name; it would be a dishonourable thing for me.

Justice—It will influence my mind. You know something about these regulations?—Yes.

A friend gave this weapon to you, and you will not disclose his name?—No. He came and left the revolver with me as a present.

I suppose you take an interest in the welfare of the State?—Yes.

You have large interests in this part of the country?—Yes.

And you state that you think it more important to look after your cattle than after the revolver. Have you a recollection of business being held up in this country for almost three years because people did not look after these revolvers, and people could use them without permission?—I know too much about it.

And yet you think it far more important to look after your cattle and private business?—I hope you do not look upon me as one of that class.

Justice—I look upon any man who gets a revolver and keeps it surreptitiously as a class of man that ought not to be tolerated at all in this country at present.

Mr. O'Toole said that it was hardly fair to dub Mr. Conlan as one of the class who did not care for the country. It was a technical offence. He asked the Justice not to order the confiscation of the weapon.

The Superintendent asked for a severe penalty. The State, he added, took a very serious view of these cases. Mr. Conlan knew the law; he refused to disclose the name of the person from whom he received the revolver. For all they knew that person might have used that revolver for an unlawful purpose.

The Justice said that this was a perfectly new revolver, in working condition. If the person who had it originally had a permit, Mr. Conlan would have given his name. He took it that there was never any permit for that weapon in existence. Mr. Conlan knew the law and the seriousness of having these weapons without permits. The penalty was six months' imprisonment and, in addition, there was a fine of £50. He would impose a fine of £10. He ordered the revolver to be confiscated.

DUBLIN SINGER'S DISTINCTION

Followers of music in Dublin will be interested to learn of the recent success in London of Miss Hilda Dobbs, who has obtained the Singing Diplomas of L.R.A.M. and A.R.C.M. Miss Dobbs, who is only 20 years of age, first came before the public as winner of the Rathmines and Rathgar Cup in the Feis two years ago, when she was but 18 years of age. Since then she has appeared at numerous concerts and oratorio performances with much success. She studied in the Royal Irish Academy of Music, and afterwards at the Royal College of Music, London, under Mr. Dan Price.

REPUBLICANISM IN DUBLIN.

SACKVILLE STREET MEETING.

Mr. de Valera was the principal speaker at a largely attended meeting in Sackville street, Dublin, last night in support of the policy of Fianna Fail. Mr. Sean T. O'Kelly also spoke on his return from his recent trip to America.

Mr. Sean McEntee, who presided, said that for the last six months the followers of Eamon de Valera had been putting forward a policy that appealed not only to the patriotism, but the common-sense, of the Irish people. Fianna Fail appealed to the people to take the next step towards the liberty of their country, and they were that night asking the people of the capital of the country to pledge themselves publicly to the programme and policy put before them.

THE REPUBLICAN GOAL.

Mr. Sean T. O'Kelly, who was received with loud cheers, proclaimed himself as strongly an advocate of the cause of absolute independence for Ireland as he had been any day during the twenty years since first he had been elected as representative to the Dublin Corporation by the citizens of Dublin. Having reviewed at some length the growth of the Republican movement and the events of the last ten years, he said that he believed that he could speak for the citizens of Dublin and tell the world and those who stood in the path of Irish independence that they must leave the road and let the citizens of Dublin, at any rate, march forward to the goal which they had marked out for themselves, and which they intended to reach in their own time, no matter who or what obstacles were placed in the way.

MR. DE VALERA'S SPEECH.

Mr. de Valera, at the opening of his speech, said that, no matter what the Press might say, he had no apology to offer to anybody who really knew the conditions for any of their actions during the years 1922 and 1923. He believed that the Irish people in their hearts did not want to give away their independence, but in consequence of the way that the issue had been put in the Press the people had never been able to understand it. The Constitution had not been made in Ireland, but all its vital principles were framed in England with the express purpose of securing the defeat of Irish national aspirations. They had not an Irish Constitution. There was an oath of allegiance in it, and before any of the elected representatives of the people could serve the interests of the nation they must betray the principles for which Irishmen had ever fought. No man could enter the Free State Dail and say that he had not compromised the claim of Ireland. The British Army had not gone out of the country. He was at Cobh lately and saw English troops in khaki walking about as if they owned the place. Those who believed that the Treaty meant evacuation by England were deceived.

He saw in the newspapers a couple of days ago that the great aim of the Free State at the Imperial Conference was to make good their neutrality in case of war. How could there be neutrality when any facilities demanded must be given to England in case of war? Under the Treaty England had a claim to use this country practically as she wanted to use it in case of war. It was obvious that if this country could be made the base by Great Britain for attack on any of her enemies, those enemies are going to hit back at this country. If they wanted to preserve their absolute neutrality they must see to it that Britain would get no facilities except those that this country wished to give. They had given away their will in the matter if they accepted the settlement with England. Irish Republicans neither accepted foreign domination nor did they accept the commitments entered into in the Treaty. If they could do nothing else they would stand out in solemn protest, if necessary to the end of their lives, for the sovereign independence of Ireland.

THE COST OF GOVERNMENT.

Referring to the continued decrease of the population of Ireland, as disclosed by the recent census, Mr. de Valera advocated such works as reafforestation, road-making and the proper survey of railways necessary to open up their resources as schemes which would provide distributive employment and help to keep their young people in the country. The Shannon scheme gave emloyment only in a restricted area. Instead of starting on the Shannon, he would have developed power on the Liffey. That could have been done at a cost of about three-quarters of a million, and give employment at the greatest centre of unemployment.

Referring to the cost of government in the Free State, he said that the country could not afford the grand imperial scale in which the Government had tried to carry on. Their little country could not afford to pay a salary two-thirds of the salary paid to the President of the United States to a man who did nothing for them but was the agent of a foreign Power. The expensive Army should also be got rid of. It was there for no other purpose than to prevent the Irish people from achieving the independence which was theirs by right.

Mr. de Valera concluded by saying that he held more hope for the Irish nation that night and for the last six months than at any time since the passing of the Treaty.

The Synod of the Diocese of Meath has been summoned to meet in the Synod Hall, Christ Church place, Dublin, on Thursday next, at 12 noon. There will be a celebration of the Holy Communion in Christ Church Cathedral, at 11.30 a.m., for members of the Synod.

The death of the late Mr. Stuart Verschoyle causes a severe loss to the Church in the Clogher Diocese. He was a member of the Diocesan Council and of the General Synod. Mr. W. Mills, of Ballybay, succeeds him as member of the General Synod.

The late Rev. C. R. Thompson retired from the Incumbency of Killea (Diocese of Derry) in 1923. He was ordained in 1902, for Derry Cathedral, whence he was appointed to the Curacy of Dunfanaghy. Afterwards he became Incumbent of Kilcar until 1905, when he was nominated to Killea. He was beloved for his gentle disposition and kindly sincerity.

THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

The Dublin Presbytery held a visitation of the congregation of Naas on Wednesday last. It is little more than two years since the present minister, the Rev. John Wilson, was installed in Naas. The members of Presbytery and congregational representatives were entertained at the Manse previous to the visitation. Despite the unsettled times since the previous visitation, it was satisfactory to find that the congregation was unaffected; that the attendance at Communion was undiminished, and the finances increased. The Presbytery noted the improvement in the praise Service, and congratulated the minister, office-bearers, and people on the manner in which they co-operate in carrying on the Christian work in the district.

The North Strand Mission held an opening social meeting of the winter work on Friday evening last, which drew an audience to fill the Hall to its full extent. The friends of the Mission from the city congregations rallied to encourage the workers, and Mr. Ernest Logan, the missionary, was supported on the platform by these and by the Rev. T. Byers, convener of the City Missions Committee. Apologies were received from the Rev. J. L. Morrow and others, who were prevented from being present by other engagements. Encouraging addresses and an excellent musical programme gave the Mission a good send-off for its winter session.

The Rev. J. E. Hamilton, M.C., son of the late Rev. Samuel Hamilton, a former minister of Rutland Square Church, Dublin, parish minister of St. Michael's, Edinburgh, was married on Wednesday at Kilmalcolm to the Hon. Lilias Maclay, elder daughter of Lord Maclay. Miss Maclay is a Bachelor of Medicine.

GOLF.

THE £1,040 TOURNAMENT.

TWENTY YEARS AFTER.

SANDY HERD'S GREAT VICTORY.

Twenty years ago Alexander ("Sandy") Herd won the News of the World Tournament at Hollinwell. That event has now come to be regarded as the match play Professional Championship, and it carried prize money amounting to £1,040. Since that far-off day of Herd's success there have come into being many great golfers who at that time were infants. Many of them played in the contest, which to-day at Mid-Surrey Herd again won. It was a great final, and it took 38 holes for its decision. It showed marvellous tenacity and endurance on the part of the fifty-eight years old winner, and it showed his opponent, the forty-eight years old J. Bloxham, of Coventry, to be a rare fighter. Herd has had much of the limelight of golf in his long career. Bloxham has had little more than a local reputation, but distinction has come to him by reason of his very gallant fight. At one time he was five down to Herd, but he was not beaten until, in a deluge of rain, which rendered his task a difficult one, he failed with a yard putt on the thirty-eighth green. Fine weather prevailed until the closing stages of the great struggle, but it poured in torrents during those tense minutes when the match was finally won and lost.

HERD'S EARLY LEAD.

Herd took the lead at the second hole of the match, and never at any time did he permit his opponent to secure an advantage. At the third hole the veteran delighted the spectators by successfully lofting a stymie to retain the lead, and at the fifth he holed out from eight yards for a 2 and a two holes lead. Such play as this was enough to disconcert Bloxham, and when Herd won the sixth and the seventh to become 4 up, it looked as though the match would be a one-sided affair. Bloxham got a hole back at the ninth, but with Herd out in thirty-three and three up, his was not an enviable position. Herd won the eleventh and the twelfth, and was now 5 up. Then Bloxham made a great stand against the veteran. He won the thirteenth, but threw away the fourteenth, and after a halved fifteenth he finished the round in great style by taking the last three holes. Thus, although it had seemed that he would go to lunch with a very big deficit, he was only 2 down.

BLOXHAM SQUARES.

The Midlander continued his voyage of recovery to such good purpose that he won the first two holes of the second round and thus squared the match. He had won five holes running, and it remained to be seen whether Herd would crack. So far from doing so he played a magnificent mashie shot to secure the lead again at the next hole. At the sixth Herd was 2 up again, and he won the ninth to turn for home on the final stretch with a three holes lead.

BLOXHAM'S UP-HILL FIGHT.

Again Bloxham fought him. He holed a five yards putt to win a hole back at the tenth, played a valiant spoon shot through the trees to snatch a half at the twelfth, and then holed a six yards putt on the thirteenth to secure another hard half. Herd duffed a shot into a bunker going to the next hole, and Bloxham won another hole. He had to make another recovery to halve the next hole, and he squared at the sixteenth with a difficult putt. Going to the seventeenth, Bloxham was twice bunkered, and Herd won the hole to become dormie 1. There was tremendous enthusiasm when Bloxham, after playing a masterly second to the home hole, saved the match by holing a six yards putt. They went out again to decide the issue, and the weather broke down as they left the first tee. Bloxham pushed his drive out, and yet again had to recover for a half at the thirty-seventh.

A £200 PUTT.

The finish came at the next hole. Both players were on the green in two, and Bloxham was finally left with a yard putt for a half. It was a £200 (the difference between first and second prizes) putt, and as Bloxham took his stance rain poured in torrents. He missed it, and the match was over. Herd had won again after twenty years. It was a magnificent match, and both men came out of it with honours. Result:—

Alex. Herd (Moor Park) beat J. Bloxham (Coventry) at the 38th hole.

DEMPSEY AND TUNNEY.

750,000 DOLLARS FOR RETURN MATCH.

LOS ANGELES, Friday.

Two local oil magnates have telegraphed to Tunney and Dempsey offering a purse of 750,000 dollars for a return match, to be fought in an open-air arena near Los Angeles before January 30th, 1927.

SCHENECTADY TO SKERRIES.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—It may interest your readers to know that I heard the description of the Dempsey versus Tunney fight broadcast from the ringside through Station 2XAF of the General Electric Company, Schenectady, New York, commencing at about 2.45 a.m. (summer-time). This transmission on 32-79 metres was the only one which I could receive on account of bad atmospheric conditions; and, as very few people in the Free State can receive on such short wave-lengths, I expect that few have heard the fight.

Reception was quite clear and at comfortable strength on head-phones, using two valves. "Atmospherics," which were very prevalent on the higher wave-lengths, were almost entirely absent.—Yours, etc.,

T. N. MONTGOMERY.

Skerries, Co. Dublin,
September 24th, 1926.

CONTESTS WITH FREE STATE ARMY.

In contrast to the enormous prices paid for seats at the Dempsey-Tunney fight, the Army Amateur Boxing Association opens its season at Aldershot on October 15th with a tournament in which sixteen Service champions will box eight contests of six rounds each. Admission will be one shilling, which represents a farthing a round, somewhat different to Philadelphia prices. The winners of these contests will represent the British Army at Dublin against the Free State Army champions on Nov. 19. A week later Army officers will meet Oxford University at Aldershot, and the next week will oppose Cambridge University at Colchester. The army team championships will be fought at the Holborn Stadium, London, on March 24th

CRICKET.

DEPARTURE OF M.C.C. TEAM FOR INDIA.

Seven of the thirteen players who form the M.C.C. team which is to tour India, under the captaincy of A. E. R. Gilligan left St. Pancras Station yesterday morning to join the P. and O. ss. Narkunda at Tilbury. They are—Major R. C. Chichester Constable (Yorkshire second XI.), R. E. S. Wyatt (Warwickshire), M. L. Hill (Somerset), Brown Boyes (Hampshire), Astill (Leicestershire), and Parsons (Warwickshire). Of those who are travelling overland next week to join the boat at Marseilles, A. E. R. Gilligan (captain) (Sussex), P. T. Eckersley (Lancashire), G. F. Earle (Somerset), and Sandham (Surrey) were on the platform to see their fellow-players depart. The other members of the team are Tate (Sussex) and Geary (Leicestershire). A large company assembled to give the players a hearty send-off, among those present being Lord Harris, Sir Edwin Stockton, Colonel C. Heseltine, H. D. G. Leveson Gower, W. Findlay (Secretary, M.C.C.), R. Aird (Assistant Secretary, M.C.C.), R. H. Mallett and A. P. Freeman, of Kent.

Lord Harris, who with several other well-known cricket personalities went on to Tilbury, said that it was a unique happening in cricket for the M.C.C. to send such a powerful combination to India. He wished the amateur strength had been greater, but the M.C.C. had experienced difficulty in getting acceptances for a tour that will last six months. The previous team that visited India was purely amateur, and not nearly so well equipped all round as that got together this time. He looked forward to the side doing well, provided the players escaped the illnesses to which many men unused to the climate in India were subject on visiting that country for the first time.

Mr. A. E. R. Gilligan was equally optimistic, and he looked forward to the team having a very good time. He thought they would acquit themselves creditably on what was bound to be a trying tour, for he realised that he had an excellent lot of players under his charge, strong enough at all points to meet the requirements of the tour. Astill, the Leicestershire player, was presented with a mascot in the shape of a white rabbit, with black spots, before the train left St. Pancras, amid loud cheering. The team play the first of thirteen matches at Karachi on October 18th, and the tour concludes on March 3rd, the players commencing the return journey from Bombay about a week later.

BILLIARDS.

NEWMAN v. DAVIS.

The new rule regarding losing hazards was almost touched upon in yesterday's session of the 16,000 match between Newman and Davis (receives 2,500), at Thurston's, London. Newman had got well settled, and when he got to 210 he pocketted the object white. He then proceeded to make 60 more, solely off the red, when he failed. Had he played five more shots he would have been compelled to retire, as, under the rule, with the white off the table he would have had no chance of a cannon. The champion, first of all, went to 42 from his overnight unfinished break; and Davis, later, had 62 and 202. At that point the cueist found the balls covered, and a kiss robbed him of a cannon. Newman's 270 was the next effort of note, and his other breaks were 75, 31 and 34. Davis's best afterwards were 66, 97, 93, 53, 45, 32 and 35 (unfinished). Interval:—Davis (rec. 2,500) (in play), 7,705; Newman, 5,886.

Davis outpointed the champion by 118 points in the evening session, scoring 788 against Newman's 670. The receiver of points made breaks of 55, 114, 87, 129, 230, 40, and 34, while Newman's best were 260, 44, 95, 71, 98, and 37 (unfinished). Closing scores:—Davis (rec. 2,500), 8,493; Newman (in play), 6,556.

SMITH v. EARLAM.

Smith played consistently well during yesterday afternoon's session against Earlam at Liverpool. He took his unfinished break to 225, and proceeded to have most of the play, so that when the session closed he had wiped off nearly half the 8,000 points which he conceded his opponent in an 18,000 match. Interval scores:—Earlam, 10,943; Smith (in play), 6,751.

Smith was in capital form in the evening session, and registered five three-figure breaks, the best of which was 303 (unfinished), with which he closed the session. In addition he had 131, 166, 157, and 118. Earlam failed to reach a century, his only runs of note being 53 and 40. Closing scores:—Earlam (rec. 8,000), 11,106; Smith (in play), 7,502.

GAELIC GAMES.

(BY PAT'O.)

All interest still centres on the finals, and the match in Thurles on Sunday last is as much discussed this week-end as it was that evening in Thurles. All hearts are intent on seeing this year's finals brought to a successful conclusion, and the delay that has necessarily arisen is forgotten in the eclat attaching to both major events. The negotiations which have been proceeding in Kilkenny to surmount the difficulty arising from the prolongation of the Hurling Championship have proceeded in an amicable spirit. Tact has won where any other attitude would have failed, and the actual arrangement of a date cannot present any insurmountable difficulty when such a fine spirit prevails. The situation, in brief, is this: Kilkenny, within their rights, had protested against the postponement of the Hurling Final to October 3. They have now waived that technical point, and desire the event to be decided on October 17—the date of the Football Final replay. This, we think, is an unfortunate condition, but one which the Central Council will, no doubt, be able to adjust. No meeting of that body has been convened so far, but it is almost certain that it will be called together for to-morrow in Dublin. By Monday we will have the definite dates for the conclusion of this year's thrilling events. Meantime preparations are being pushed forward in Croke Park for all eventualities, and, so far as the exigencies of the ground permit, the public are going to be facilitated in future. The situation arising from the crowd at the Kerry-Kildare match has opened the eyes of the responsible authorities to the demands which may be made upon them, and they are determined to cope with them regardless of expense. The receipts accruing from recent draws could be devoted to no better purpose; for, no matter how interest in athletics or team games in Ireland may progress, the demand will still be for greater accommodation and better facilities.

Personally, I think that the date fixed for the Football Final should stand. That event had precedence in the original programme, and might well be allowed that privilege in unavoidable re-adjustments. The keenness of Kilkenny to meet the climax of the competition is easily understood, and Kilkenny must be equally aware of the needs of a team surviving the Munster Final in the way of breath and recuperation. There is no doubt that reciprocal chivalry will prevail.

So far as to-morrow is concerned, things are quiet. Even in the metropolis, the programme has taken on an expectant scantiness—that simply means that it was the date of the All-Ireland Hurling Final. The Junior Football League concentrates on Parnell Park, with four ties—Rathfarnham (three matches) and Grangegorman (one). Most of their matches are in junior grade, with a leaven of minors. The Hurling League, Fingal League, and a trio of tournaments make up the Dublin programme, and there is little of consequence arranged for the out counties.

Official inter-county ties are at a standstill. Few yet remain to be disposed of, and next month, notwithstanding the inter-position of national events, should see the end of these. It is the finals—Cork, Tipperary or Kilkenny in hurling, and Kerry or Kildare in football—that vex the partiality and arouse the enthusiasm of the popular mind just now. So far, the games have surpassed expectations in thrill and ensemble, and when the Council has done its business well the tense minds of Gaeldom will concentrate as never before on the final tests in two memorable championships.

YACHTING ON LOUGH ERNE.

SEVERAL TROPHIES CONTESTED.

The Lower Lake Branch of the Lough Erne Yacht Club has just concluded a most interesting series of races for several of the club trophies. The races had been temporarily suspended owing to the death of Mr. Stuart Verschoyle, D.L. The races were open to the Lower Lake Fairy Class and the Upper Lake O.D. Class, and the average entry was from eight to ten boats competing.

The events were:—

Mr. G. Gartside Tipping's (The Squire's) Cup—Won by Colonel Richardson's Iris. Sailed by Mrs. Richardson.

Lady Dudley's Cigarette Box—Won by Mr. Geoffrey Irvine's Storm.

The Gretton Cup—Won by Iris. Sailed by Mrs. Richardson.

Lord Crichton's Cup—Won by Pastime. Sailed by Major J. G. C. Irvine, D.L., owner.

Fermanagh Club Cup—Won by Mr. G. Irvine's Storm.

Burdett Coutts Cup—Won by Iris. Sailed Mrs. Richardson.

Lower Lake E.Y.C. Cup—Won by Pastime, Sailed by owner, Major Irvine, D.L.

Other boats competing besides those mentioned above were:—Zephyr (Sir Charles Falls, M.P.), Pixie (J. Lemon), Snipe (Lord Claud Hamilton), Jabbawok (J. E. S. Beamish), Doreen (Dr. J. Herbert), Petrel (Ernest Lemon), Fay (John A. Irvine), Cygnet (Messrs. R. A. and C. H. Herbert). Lady Kathleen Crichton also was one of those taking part in the races, and sailed Zephyr; Lady Kathleen Hamilton sailed Snipe, and Miss Herbert sailed Cygnet in some of the races. There are still four further races to take place before the season concludes.

ATHLETICS.

DONORE HARRIERS.

The Three Miles Flat Handicap for the Inniskilling Cup will take place to-day at the training ground, Rathfarnham, starting at 3.30 sharp.

LABOUR AND BROADCASTING.

"In respect of general education, Labour has the same kind of interest as it has in the improvement of the educational system from national school or university," says Mr. R. J. P. Mortished, Assistant Secretary to the Irish Labour Party and Trades Union Congress, writing in the current number of The Irish Radio and Musical Review. "Broadcasting may, indeed, be regarded as a system of adult education; or, since education is too often construed with a forbidding narrowness of culture, Labour would, therefore, look to the broadcasting stations from which workers would otherwise be debarred by economic and social conditions; and, secondly, they would look to it for opportunities of acquiring a wide range of knowledge and stimulating the faculties of curiosity and criticism. Programmes should be definitely cultural, and even in a large part "high-brow" in intention, though not so "high-brow" in practice as to be boring to an audience that has not yet progressed sufficiently to be able to digest the fare offered to it.

The Home Office yesterday informed the Newcastle Chamber of Commerce that it was powerless to extend summer time this year by one month. The Postmaster-General has intimated to the same body that a sixpenny six word telegram is impracticable, as a reduction of the present shilling minimum would increase the already heavy loss on telegrams.

WHEN SLUMBER COMES,
Repose so vital to the well-being of humanity ensues. But it does not come always to those who want it most; and the reason, not always thought of, is the mattress in use.
Many are the mattresses that can be bought, but not all will bring sleep, as owing to the insanitary materials used in the making of some of them they are dangerous to the health, cause unrest and are dear at any price.
In our mattresses only clean new materials are used, and the perfect satisfaction they give is proved by the persistent and increasing demand for them.
If you want to pass the Winter nights in Slumberland—that haven of supreme peace—get a mattress with the "OD" label on it.

All the persons who were injured in the French railway accident near Fontainebleau on Thursday are reported to be doing well.—(Page 8.)

The German Cabinet, having heard the Foreign Minister's report of his conversation at Thoiry with M. Briand, unanimously approved his actions both there and at Geneva, and the Chancellor thanked him in the name of the Government.—(Page 7.)

Dublin Market was dull. Distillers (Scotch) Co. fell to 50s. and Guinness closed at $60\frac{1}{4}$.—(Page 10.)

China at Geneva.

At the meeting of the League of Nations Assembly, at Geneva yesterday, the Chinese delegate, Mr. Chu, acting on instructions from the "Chinese Government," was responsible for a startling innovation. Without any warning to his British colleagues in the Assembly, he made a formal complaint against the action of His Majesty's Government in sending ships of war to the Yangtze River, and gave a highly-coloured account of recent events at Wanhsien. Viscount Cecil of Chelwood protested immediately against Mr. Chu's remarkable procedure, and refused to accept his presentation of the case in the absence of a statement from the British Government. He added, as we think, very properly, that, while everybody hoped for a friendly settlement of the Anglo-Chinese dispute, Mr. Chu's unprecedented action hardly was likely to hasten it. The Chinese delegate's position is very curious. China was elected to a seat on the Council of the League of Nations last week; but at present, of course, she cannot play a serious part in the League's affairs. Mr. Chu informs the Assembly that he is acting on his Government's instructions. What is the Government of China? Is it the routed and discredited administration upheld by Wu Pei-fu; is it the tottering régime of the Shanghai Tuchun, or is it the Bolshevist anarchy of Canton? Nobody seems to know. The only thing that is quite certain is that the so-called "Central Government" at Peking has ceased to exercise any power over anybody. It has no authority, no prestige and no money. Again, China really has no standing in the League of Nations, for the sordid, but sufficient, reason that she has failed to pay her annual contributions. At present her arrears amount to no less than four and a half million gold francs, or nearly a quarter of a million pounds. Apart from that aspect of the case, however, the conduct of Mr. Chu cannot be justified. After Lord Cecil's dignified rebuke the President of the Assembly refused to allow the matter to be discussed at further length, and the incident now may be regarded as closed.

In the meanwhile the Cantonese troops seem to be winning all along the line. The Cantonese authorities have declared their willingness to raise the boycott on British trade in return for certain revisions in the existing Customs tariffs. When China entered the war on the side of the Allies the Treaty Powers agreed to increase the tariff then in force to an effective ad valorem value of five per cent. In 1918 the duties were fixed at specific rates, based on the average prices between 1912 and 1916; but since the war the Chinese have been agitating for a further increase, and this would have been granted but for the impossibility of negotiation with a State that was in the throes of civil war. The Canton Government suggests now that all import taxes shall be increased by two and a half per cent., with an additional five per cent. on luxuries, and that a corresponding sur-tax shall be levied on exports. The Powers, in fact, already have offered an increase of two and a half per cent. to a properly constituted Government; but, as no such Government exists, they find themselves now in a serious difficulty. If they consent to the Cantonese proposal, they will be providing an important increase of revenue for one of the contending parties. The others will insist on a like concession, with the result that the Powers will be forced to conclude treaties of sorts with a number of rival Governments, thus recognising, in fact, if not de jure, every one of them. Manifestly, this course of action is impossible. The Powers still treat China as a unit, and hitherto all their negotiations concerning the tariffs have been with a central Government at Peking. If they should fall into the trap which seems to have been laid for them by Canton—at the instigation of Moscow—they would surrender all their treaty rights. It may be argued that, in any case, the increased taxes will be levied and collected by the soldiers of Chang Kai-shek; but, even at the risk of a still higher tariff and the maintenance of the British boycott, the Powers' position under the treaties must be upheld.

Mr. Hogan's Message.

With a fine chivalry Ireland's Canadian rivals in the British market gave liberal assistance to Mr. Patrick Hogan, Saorstát Minister for Lands and Agriculture, when he visited the Western Dominion for the purpose of studying Canadian methods in stock-raising and agriculture. The burden of Mr. Hogan's observations is by no means discouraging to Irish farmers. Given enterprise, hard work and co-operative endeavour, Irish agriculture, he thinks, will not find Canadian competition unconquerable. Canadian cattle, despite the removal of the British embargo four years ago, are not entering British ports in substantially increased numbers. The United States attract supplies of young cattle, and many years must pass before production exceeds the demand at Canada's doors. On the other hand, Mr. Hogan noticed many tokens of the growing importance of the Canadian cattle trade. Strenuous efforts are being made to improve the quality of the breed. The future is likely to see a steady growth in the quality and quantity of Canadian cattle on offer, with a constant possibility of a large diversion of beasts from the markets of the United States to those of England. Mr. Hogan found that butter-production is increasing rapidly in the eastern provinces of Canada. The average milk yield of cattle in those fertile territories is high, but thus far Canadian dairying is conducted with nothing like the thorough-going State supervision which in recent years has raised the quality of Irish butter so conspicuously. Canadian creameries mostly are proprietary, and the well-organised co-operative system of Ireland is unknown. Cheese is graded before export from Canada. The grading of bacon, on the other hand, has proved to be difficult by reason of the absence of uniform breeds of pigs. In grain-production, of course, the virgin Canadian soil offers enormous advantages. The Irish farmer will read with wondering envy of a soil that yields abundant crops year after year without the application of any kind of fertiliser.

We assume that Mr. Hogan took careful stock of Canadian transport methods, and we hope to see action taken to bring Irish transport into line with that of the great Dominion. How are cattle assembled from ranches far removed from railways? What co-ordination exists between railway, road and water transport in a land which is undeveloped, just as Ireland is backward? The Minister does well to bid the farmers of our country be of good cheer and of stout heart, but he warns them that they must be as alert as their rivals. Their competitors are applying all the resources of science to production, and of modern business organisation to distribution and marketing. They are building ships to hurry across the ocean produce that will be as good and as attractive as enterprise can contrive. Perhaps, the greatest advantage possessed by colonial lands in competition with ours is not a rich soil or enlightened Governments, but a class of producers almost every one of whom is devoted whole-heartedly to his industry. In Canada great provinces have been opened up by young men who have equipped themselves with all that sound vocational education can provide before seeking careers upon the land. In Ireland the soil largely is held by old-fashioned folk who suspect "book-learning" and the advice of skilled instructors, preferring to muddle along with unambitious and unproductive methods. Irish farming cannot thrive when it is the Cinderella of professions. So long as agricultural production is regarded as the one trade that can be followed by rule of thumb Ireland will continue to have a dwindling and dispirited population. The land must be regarded in Ireland as in Canada—as the basis of national prosperity, and worthy of the best that brains can give to its development.

Dempsey's Dollars.

"To the victor the spoils" is a sound rule of life, but has its exceptions. In the boxing fight at Philadelphia (William Penn's city) the defeated Dempsey was rewarded with sum of £160,000, while the victor's honorarium did not exceed £50,000. These sums were the fruit of a ten-round contest, fought with gloves, which occupied less than half-an-hour. The champions of the Regency were content when a day-long fight with naked fists brought them a fifty-pound note; and they were not the physical or (so far as we can judge from obiter dicta) the intellectual inferiors of Tunney or Dempsey. Clean boxing is a manly sport, but the modern rewards of professional pugilism represent appalling waste in money and a social phenomenon of disquieting significance. The "gate" of £400,000 at Philadelphia, which went mainly into the pockets of three men, would have relieved the difficulties of all the hospitals in Dublin for the next five years. As mere waste such spectacles shock the sober-minded, but their moral results must be definitely and widely hurtful to the public welfare. Even in rich America the payment of £200,000 to the loser and the winner of a boxing bout upsets all the material values on which society is based. Especially in America, where money is the criterion of success, Dempsey's huge prize cannot fail to foster injurious discontents. Tens of thousands of young men working in shops, banks and factories, or studying for the learned professions, will feel that life is dealing unjustly with them. Their minds will become unsettled and their ideals will be blunted by the reinforced resolve to "get rich quickly." Naturally, we do not blame the pugilists, who take what they can get. The blame lies with the public that rushes to pay £400,000 for the hectic excitements of a prize-fight and has such a sorry taste in heroes. These, it may be said, are symptoms of the crude and vigorous youth of a great people. Throughout history, however, they have been also symptoms of the decline of peoples that once were great. Does Dempsey's £160,000 mean that the United States are a civilisation in growth or that they are a civilisation in decadence? The philosopher may take his choice.

The French Stocking.

The peasant's stocking, which helped to restore France nearly sixty years ago, will emerge again from its hiding-place during the coming weeks. An immediate announcement is expected of the Bank of France's readiness to purchase gold coins at current rates. Coins of all types will be accepted and "no questions will be asked." The Paris Correspondent of the Morning Post makes a rough estimate of the amount of gold which is likely to be forthcoming. Before the Great War some five thousand millions of francs (£200,000,000) were in circulation as gold coin. About one half of the total was exchanged at the Bank of France during the war or immediately after the Armistice. It is supposed that a substantial part of the other half is now irrecoverable for various reasons. The correspondent explains, for instance, that cunning persons have persuaded large numbers of the peasantry to accept 100 francs for twenty-franc gold pieces which were worth more than 130 francs. This statement will surprise people who have studied the French peasant's shrewd and suspicious nature; but, as we know from the frequent success of fortune-telling and other cheats in this country, the shrewdness of uneducated persons is not always inconsistent with a large credulity. Making all allowances, however, the correspondent thinks that the traditional stocking will be able to bring a useful contribution of about £40,000,000 to France's reserve of gold. Shall we ever discover the amount of gold that is hidden to-day under the thatched roofs of rural Ireland?

INDIAN SUMMER.

At dawn, a mantle of mist over the valley spread;
At noon, the hum of the bees in the sunshine hot and bright;
At eve, the sigh of the wind in the branches overhead;
The moon like a lamp of gold in the curtained skies, at night.

At dawn, no voice of a bird from the bush where the haws are red;
At noon, the song of a robin—gentle and sweet and slight;
At eve, some yellowing leaves from the silver birches shed;
The clouded breath of the frost on the dewy grass, at night.

WEATHER FORECAST.

General Inference.—A secondary trough, extending southwards over the North Sea from an almost stationary depression near the Faroes, will move away eastwards, and an anti-cyclone will move in across Southern districts from the Atlantic. In the Northerly current, between the depression and the anti-cyclone, further secondaries are likely to develop and move south-eastward, causing occasional rain or showers in most places.

N.W. and N.E. Ireland. — West to north-west winds, light to moderate, becoming strong at times locally; occasional rain, then fair periods, with, perhaps, thundery showers; visibility poor at times, improving; becoming colder; ground frost locally at night.

S.E. and S.W. Ireland. — North-west winds, strong at times locally; mainly fair, occasional thundery showers; visibility mainly moderate to good; becoming colder; ground frost locally at night.

LONDON LETTER.

THE CABINET AND THE STRIKE.

59 FLEET STREET, LONDON,
FRIDAY NIGHT.

The Cabinet meeting this afternoon was fully attended, and it was noted that all the Ministers, as they arrived at No. 10 Downing street just before three o'clock, were looking very well and bronzed. Lord Birkenhead looked particularly well, and received a very hearty greeting from some of his colleagues as he stepped out of a tremendous touring car. The proceedings were protracted, but it is understood that the Cabinet gave special consideration to all the circumstances attending the recent coal negotiations in view of the full statement to be made in the House of Commons next Monday. This will be undertaken by the Prime Minister, who has the intention of going down to Chequers for the week-end in order to prepare his speech. A somewhat lively debate is expected, and the intervention of Mr. Lloyd George is regarded as certain.

Miners and Owners.

The reluctance of the Government to continue negotiations with the Executive of the Miners' Federation seems to have inspired Mr. Smith and Mr. Cook with a keen desire to advance. These leaders to-day expressed hopefulness that the Prime Minister would ask them to resume negotiations without delay; but it is improbable that the Government will take any further steps in the direction of negotiations until after the meeting of Parliament. In political circles the idea is expressed that the Government will take no further steps at all in this direction, though it is agreed that such a course of action must depend entirely on circumstances. In this connection the absolute refusal of the Mining Association to meet the Miners' Federation in conference is a point difficult to overcome. The Government, it is declared in Conservative quarters, cannot be blamed for the failure to arrange the differences outstanding between the Mining Association and the Miners' Federation. A view was expressed to-day in some quarters that, after the meeting of Parliament and the explanation of the Government relating to the recent break-down in negotiations, the miners may drift back to work in large numbers.

Poor Law Relief.

The amount of Poor Law relief paid by Boards of Guardians in this country since May 1st has increased by £300,000 weekly as a direct result of the coal stoppage, the total increase to date amounting to over £6,000,000. The pressure caused by this enormous increase in the rates is reflected in the fact that in several places ratepayers are refusing to pay, directing attention to the large sums paid by some Boards of Guardians to the miners and their families. The Newport and Usk branches of the Farmers' Union have been considering a policy of passive resistance to the rates demands, and it is likely that this step will be followed in other districts. In Monmouthshire it is reported that very large arrears are due to the Guardians on the poor rate account, while the overseers report that they are unable to collect the money from a large percentage of the ratepayers.

Mr. Cobham's Return.

The proposed spectacular welcome to Mr. Alan Cobham on the Serpentine in Hyde Park when he arrives on the conclusion of his Australian flight is not to take place. It seems that there are many and insuperable objections to the arrangements. The police think that it would demand the detachment from their ordinary duties of such a number of officers and men that it would strain their resources, and are also of the opinion that such an event would bring together a most undesirable element. Danger to life, and certainly damage to the Park, are other objections put forward. It is possible that the landing may be made on the Thames at a point between Westminster and Chelsea.

Army Safety Razors.

The War Office to-day declined to make any statement regarding its action in placing with a United States firm the contract for the new safety razors to be issued to the Army. In view of this fact a Sheffield member of Parliament will seek to put a private notice question to Sir L. Worthington-Evans, the Secretary for War, in the House of Commons on Monday. A statement certainly would clear the air in connection with this rather mysterious business; but, undoubtedly, the placing of the order abroad is due to the demand for economy. It seems that the razors are to be made at Slough and the blades at Montreal, so that the workmanship will be British. In the circumstances the profit cannot be very large, but objection is taken to the fact that a Government department should have placed a contract abroad.

The Soldier's Kit.

It is not improbable that tests made during this autumn in Army training and miniature manœuvres will result in a considerable lessening of the weight carried by the soldier. How much, or how little, should be carried by the individual always has been a knotty problem, which now has been accentuated by the addition of steel helmet and anti-gas apparatus to the equipment. Altogether, the soldier marches under a load of about 60 lb. Necessaries are added to his fighting gear that they may be at hand when the march is over and a halt called. With horse transport these often reached the bivouac hours later; so the man was called upon to carry them himself. Experiments have proved that, with mechanical first-line transport, these essential articles can arrive almost simultaneously with the troops. The change from horse to tractor would involve expense, but it would relieve the soldier of many pounds of kit with which he is now encumbered on the march.

An Irish Rescue.

The Royal National Lifeboat Institution has made special awards for the gallantry shown in rescuing the crew of the fishing boat Avonmore, of Cape Clear, which struck the Splough Rock, off Rosslare, County Wexford, on the morning of September 2nd. A strong northerly wind was blowing, and the sea was rough. The fishing boat was seen by Commander H. Linklater, owner of the yacht Theodora, of Poole, lying in Rosslare Harbour, with the result that a boat was manned with two of the crew of his yacht, five men from the steamer St. Patrick, of the Great Western Railway Company, and four of the Rosslare Pier officials and men, with Mr. W. B. Moncas acting as coxswain. The seven men of the Avonmore were rescued, and the boat tried to make Rosslare Harbour again. Owing to the strong wind and rough sea she found this almost impossible; but the Wexford motor lifeboat, which had been informed of the wreck, arrived on the scene, took the nineteen men from the boat on board, and, towing the boat, brought them safely into harbour. Later, as there seemed a chance of the Avonmore's coming off the rock, the lifeboat took out her crew again, put them on board their vessel, which was rolling heavily, and succeeded in towing her off. The Institution has presented Commander Linklater with an aneroid barometer and Mr. Moncas with a pair of binoculars, both inscribed, and has given monetary awards to the men of the Theodora, the St. Patrick, and Rosslare Pier.

SURPRISE FOR LEAGUE.

CHINESE VERSION OF THE WANHSIEN AFFAIR.

MR. CHU'S STRANGE STORY.

TOWN BOMBARDED BY "BIG CRUISERS."

LORD CECIL'S PROTEST AND DENIAL.

MR. CHU, the Chinese delegate, sprang a surprise on the Assembly of the League of Nations, at Geneva yesterday, when, without having warned either the President or Lord Cecil, the British representative, that he intended to do so, he gave his Government's version of the Wanhsien affair.

It may be recalled that some weeks ago Yang Sen, a subordinate of General Wu Pei-fu, seized two British steamers on the River Yangtze and imprisoned their officers. Two gunboats that were sent to the rescue were fired at from Wanhsien, and in the engagement that followed three officers and four men were killed.

Those are the facts as related by the Press correspondents in China and by the Admiralty. Mr. Chu, however, had a very different story to tell the Assembly of the League.

He asserted that three steamers sailing on the Yangtze had run down Chinese vessels, causing 100 deaths and the loss of much property; that the crew of a gunboat had caused a hundred more deaths; and that "big cruisers" had shelled Wanhsien, destroying thousands of houses and killing thousands of innocent civilians.

Lord Cecil, in a dignified speech, protested against the course taken by Mr. Chu, whose statement did not agree at all with the reports received by the British Government. He hoped that a friendly settlement of the question would be reached, but Mr. Chu's speech was not helpful.

Lord Cecil's speech was received with applause in which, it is reported, Mr. Chu joined heartily.

MR. CHU'S STORY.

THOUSANDS KILLED BY BIG CRUISERS.

Mr. Chu said:—I desire to state the facts with regard to the international incident which has just occurred in my country. On July 8th, August 2nd, and August 29th, several British merchant ships, by name the Tyankong, the Wanliu and the Chaili, sailed up the Yangtse at full speed. A number of native wooden ships and small boats were wrecked by these British merchant ships, and over a hundred passengers, military officers and soldiers were drowned, and goods and silver were lost.

When the Chinese authorities sent soldiers to make an inquiry on board these British merchant ships they were interfered with by a British cruiser (sic), which happened to be on the spot. Moreover, the British cruiser threatened the villagers on both shores with the points of their cannons. The Chinese authorities were obliged to detain the British merchant ships, and took up the matter with the British Consul at Chungking.

MORE SERIOUS INCIDENT.

Unfortunately, before the case was settled, a much more serious incident followed. It was reported that a British gunboat had arrived at Wanhsien on September 5th, and had opened fire on the gendarmerie in the town, killing over a hundred of them. Following this, other big cruisers (sic) used their big guns to bombard the town of Wanhsien. Over a thousand houses were destroyed, and thousands of civilian lives were lost as a result of the bombardment. The Chinese soldiers were obliged to return the fire in their self-defence. My Government has also informed the Chinese Delegation that instructions have been given to the local authorities to settle the matter peacefully, if possible.

Owing to such an extraordinarily serious incident of international importance, which, if it developed, would endanger peace in the Far East, the Chinese Delegation has been instructed to make known these facts to the Assembly as a matter of record.

LORD CECIL'S REPLY.

ASTONISHED AT STRANGE PROCEDURE.

The following is the text of Lord Cecil's reply to Mr. Chu:—"Mr. President, Ladies and Gentlemen,—I have heard with some astonishment the statement which the Chinese Delegation has thought it right to make from this Tribune. He gave neither me nor my Government any kind of notice or intimation that he was going to raise this matter, or going to make any statement to the Assembly of any such kind.

I cannot but regret that that very strange course of procedure prevents me from replying in any detail to what he has stated, but I happen to know sufficient about the facts as they have been reported to the British Government to say at once that we do not in any way agree with the statement which the Chinese delegate has made, and that our view of the incident is entirely different from that which he has laid before the Assembly.

Beyond that, I am able to agree that the matter is a subject for negotiation in China, and it is to be hoped that a peaceful and friendly settlement will be reached. I cannot, however, pretend to think that such a statement as has just been made is in any way likely to assist in a peaceful and friendly settlement of this question.

PRESIDENT INTERVENES.

The President of the Assembly then intervened, declaring that it was impossible to prolong the debate on a question which was not on the agenda, and that they would, therefore, proceed with the business of the sitting.

The Chinese incident was much commented on in the Lobbies of the Assembly, particularly the surprise sprung on the Assembly and the British Delegation by Mr. Chu. The latter's statement was received without any demonstration on the part of the Assembly, while the Chinese delegate himself joined in the applause which greeted Lord Cecil's tactful reply.—(Reuter.)

FURTHER ATTACKS.

BRITISH GUNBOAT UNDER FIRE.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.
FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.
PEKING, Friday.

It is reported here that the British gunboat Scarab has again been fired upon by the Chinese Northern Forces near Shasi. The British commander returned the fire. An American steamer is also reported to have been fired upon at the same place and by the same forces. The quartermaster of the American boat is reported to have been killed.

The Customs launch at Kongmoon has been attacked by pirates, looted and destroyed. The American gunboat Pampanga is said to be pursuing the pirates. All traffic of British vessels on the Yangtaze River above Ichang has been suspended owing to the refusal of the pilots to pilot British merchant vessels or warships. British women and children are being evacuated to Ichang.

The situation is reported to be getting worse. Additional American destroyers have arrived at Hankow. The siege of Wuchang has entered upon its twenty-fifth day. The foreign residents, including twenty Americans,

FRANCO-GERMAN RELATIONS.

HERR STRESEMANN THANKED.

ACTION APPROVED BY CABINET.

BERLIN, Friday.

At this morning's sitting of the Cabinet the Foreign Minister, Herr Stresemann, explained fully, and at length, his conversation with M. Briand at Thoiry, emphasising that no binding agreements were made, and that his discussion with the French Foreign Minister was on the general political programme, the aim of which was to bring about a definite Franco-German understanding.

Herr Stresemann further declared that the question of the amount to be paid by Germany for the evacuation of the Rhineland was a matter for thorough examination by the experts, and that the sum of eight thousand million marks which had been mentioned in the Press was quite out of the question, as an additional burden to the obligations resulting from the Dawes agreement could never be accepted.

The realisation of part of the Railway Bonds, added the Minister, could only be effected if it entailed no increase of Germany's reparation burdens.

The Cabinet unanimously approved Herr Stresemann's actions at Geneva and Thoiry, and the Chancellor, Herr Marx, took the opportunity to thank the Foreign Minister, in the name of the Government, for his successful efforts to improve the Franco-German relations, which, it was hoped, would result in the final release of the occupied regions.

THE COMMITTEE OF MINISTERS.

It is stated that the Cabinet Committee which will examine and deal with all matters arising out of the conversation between M. Briand and Herr Stresemann will consist of the Minister of Foreign Affairs, the Minister of the Interior, the Minister of Finance, the Minister of Economics and the Minister for the Occupied Regions, which is, in fact, practically the whole Cabinet.—(Reuter.)

MINISTER'S MESSAGE TO THE RHINELAND.

THE GREAT IMPORTANCE OF THOIRY.

COLOGNE, Friday.

In a special message to the Koelnische Zeitung, Dr. Stresemann, the German Foreign Minister, says:—

"At the moment of leaving Geneva, I feel the need of saying to the population of the Rhineland some words of true remembrance. Here, in the town of the League of Nations, we have lived days of historical importance, and seldom has such a short span of time been filled with so many important political events and conferences. But in the midst of all the work we did our eyes were always directed towards the Rhineland. We thought of the Rhineland in that hour when we were greeted by forty-eight nations as we entered the hall of the Assembly of the League. All our thoughts were for the Rhineland in the Conference at Thoiry, the great importance of which to the future of the German Rhineland I need not enter into here.

"The Rhenish population, which in the dark and hard hours showed so much faith and devotion to the great Fatherland, may, at the end of the memorable Geneva days, have the happy feeling that their faith and devotion have remained unforgotten, and that it was the sure foundation upon which alone we worked for the restoration of German liberty."

The message is held here to indicate that an understanding has actually been reached regarding the evacuation of German territory now occupied by the Allies.

LORD BYNG'S FAREWELL ADDRESS.

CANADA'S FUTURE.

OTTAWA, Friday.

His Excellency Lord Byng, in a farewell address at the Ottawa Canadion Club to-day, which was attended by many members of the outgoing and incoming Cabinets said:—

"The sands have run out, and my Governor-Generalship slips into its niche in history, along with those of my predecessors. Never shall I forget the welcome that has been extended to me from every city, town and hamlet and homestead in your Dominion. I have learned to appreciate the nature and character of your destinies. I have learned to believe in Canada; from the day I first arrived, till the present moment, my faith has never wavered. It was here in Ottawa that I first learned the most satisfactory and encouraging sentiment that exists throughout the Dominion—the Canadians' loyalty and affection for the Mother Country, coinciding and running parallel with a cold common sense and unswerving confidence in their ability to vindicate their national spirit, elaborate their own destiny, and guard and embellish to the utmost the glorious inheritance with which they have been endowed by providence."

His Excellency declared that he was leaving Canada a blatant optimist in respect of the future of the Dominion.

The present Premier (Mr. Meighen) and the former Premier (Mr. King), who is also the Premier-to-be, met on this occasion for the first time since the election, and sat adjacent to Lord Byng.

Lord and Lady Byng are leaving the capital for Quebec on Monday, and sail in the Empress of France on Wednesday.

Lord Willingdon is expected to arrive in Quebec in the Empress of Scotland on October 2nd.

WRECK OF THE SIGORSKY

"LAST WORD IN AEROPLANE CONSTRUCTION."

NEW YORK, Friday.

Captain Fonck and Lieutenant Curtin to-day gave evidence before a Coroner and jury in regard to the deaths of M. Clavier, the French wireless operator, and M. Islamoff, the Russian mechanic, who lost their lives in the wreck of the Sigorsky, the aeroplane designed for the New York-Paris non stop flight.

Both declared that no trouble had been experienced, either with the machine or with the engines, until immediately before the crash. The machine, they said, was "the last word in aeroplane construction."—(Reuter.)

PROPOSED ATLANTIC FLIGHT.

AMERICAN'S OFFER.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.
FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.
PARIS, Thursday.

Speaking at the luncheon given by the International League of Aviators in honour of Colonel Falchi, the Italian irman, who arrived here this morning from Etampes on a flight to Brussels and other entres of the League, Mr. Cliffordd Harmon, the American pre-war pilot and founder of the League, declared that he was ready to subsidise an attempt to cross the Atlantic with an Italian machine, and that if Colonel Falchi would act as pilot he himself was ready to go as passenger.

CARDINAL BOURNE AND EDUCATION.

THE CONTROL OF THE PARENTS.

Cardinal Bourne, Archbishop of Westminster, in his inaugural address to the eighth National Catholic Congress, at Manchester, last night, put forward a solution of the educational problem, which would increase parental interest in the subject, and would eliminate mere cranks and faddists.

The scheme recognised scholarships at schools, optional at the parents' will, and definite religious teaching for those who desired that parents, and not the State, should have most control.

The Bishop of Salford said that, if they could only settle this question by revolution, they must revolt in the right direction.

DISARMAMENT.

CAREFUL PREPARATIONS ESSENTIAL.

LORD CECIL'S APPEAL

GENEVA, Friday.

Viscount Cecil of Chelwood made a forcible speech on disarmament in the Assembly of the League of Nations to-day He appealed for careful preparation work before the convening of the conference on disarmament, as it would be a very great disaster for the League if the conference met prematurely and failed in its object. He made a special appeal to the Press to aid in the efforts for disarmament. The speech was loudly applauded.

He believed that when they reached agreement on the broad general question of disarmament the differences of opinion that might still exist on the question of control will, as it were, automatically disappear. He welcomed the immense progress that the question had made. The question of disarmament was absolutely vital to the League of Nations. It was what their American friends called "the acid test" of the whole procedure and conception on which the League rested It must succeed.

In his concluding appeal to the Press, he said: "Make the righteousness of the cause clear beyond dispute, and make the support of the people so vocal that no Government, however timid, however unwilling, can fail to carry out to the best of its power this great, this vital cause for peace, for prosperity and for happiness."

Herr Von Schubert, Germany, recalled the fact that even before the admission of Germany to the League she was co-operating in the work of the Preparatory Committee on Disarmament.

"We are all agreed on disarmament," he declared, "and the present inequality of armaments among members of the League should be remedied in the interests of the League." (Applause.)

The Assembly adopted a resolution expressing satisfaction at the work of the Preparatory Committee, requesting the committee to hasten the completion of the work, and requesting the Council to convene the conference before the eighth ordinary session of the Assembly, "unless material difficulties render this impossible."—(Reuter.)

THE WORLD COURT.

AMERICA EMBARRASSED BY GENEVA'S DECISION.

WASHINGTON, Friday.

While officials of the State Department have declined to comment on the action of the conference at Geneva in conditionally accepting America's reservations regarding her joining the World Court, the feeling is apparent here that the entire question of American membership is thereby greatly complicated and may need another bitter struggle in the Senate, as the President is not believed to have the authority to approve the wording of the acceptance without the consent of the Senate.

The New York Herald Tribune states that Geneva's decision is polite in tone but highly obstructive in effect, and will hopelessly entangle the situation.

The World, a Democratic paper, on the other hand, says that no reasonable American sincerely interested in the World Court will have any ground for further objection. "It is plain that more has been conceded than many nations thought it wise to concede, and that they are only enabling themselves to withdraw their approval of the reservations if, in practice, the reservations do not prove workable."—(Reuter.)

GERMAN DELEGATES.

PREMIER'S REPORT APPROVED BY CABINET.

BERLIN, Friday.

The report of the German Foreign Minister, Dr. Stresemann, on the activities of the German delegation at the League meetings in Geneva was to-day approved by the Cabinet, which expressed the thanks of the Government to the delegation for the work it had accomplished.

The Cabinet unanimously approved in principle the report of Dr. Stresemann on his discussions with M. Briand. A committee representative of the several Ministries was appointed to deal further with the Franco-German discussions and to report to the Cabinet.—(Reuter.)

DESTRUCTION IN PORTUGAL

BY CYCLONE AND BOMB EXPLOSION.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.
FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.
LISBON, Friday.

Twenty persons were more or less seriously injured, a church destroyed, and a building, housing a bomb factory, blown to pieces this afternoon at the village of Ribalonga, in the north of Portugal, resulting from a terrific explosion of bombs caused by negligent handling.

The proprietor of the bomb factory was uninjured, and has been arrested.

A violent cyclone, lasting four minutes, yesterday laid waste the entire region of Santarem, damaging especially the towns of Almeirim and Alpiarca, near Lisbon. Trees were uprooted, plantations laid to waste, roofs torn from houses, and buildings and property damaged, the loss being considerable.

Many sections of the population are homeless and panicky. Fortunately, no deaths have as yet been reported.

THE SHAH OF PERSIA.

LETTERS ACCUSING HIM OF DESPOTISM.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.
FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.
TEHERAN, Friday.

Following the discovery yesterday of a plot against the life of Shah Pahlevi, and the arrest of many military and other public service officers, another sensation is reported today.

Royal Household officials discovered this morning a batch of anonymous threatening letters placed in the Shah's bedchamber, accusing him of despotism. How the letters came to be in the Shah's own personal bedroom is a mystery, but a close investigation is proceeding.

The arrests in connection with the conspiracy against the Shah are proceeding. Many of the later arrests are of former close supporters of the Shah in his activities before he ascended the Throne.

THE MIAMI STORM.

25,000 PERSONS HOMELESS.

FROM "THE TIMES" CORRESPONDENT.
MIAMI, Thursday.

The truth of the matter concerning the damage to property in the whole storm area is that the houses, which architects had designed to resist a hurricane, escaped with little more than trivial damage—window panes smashed, a few tiles blown off and awnings stripped. The punishment fell mostly on the less solid buildings. This is shown by the list of casualties which occurred chiefly among the artisans and their families, who are occupying ill-built houses and shacks.

Altogether there are 860 seriously injured in the greater Miami area, which claims to have 200,000 inhabitants. About 400 are suffering from minor fractures or shock, but 460 received serious fractures of limbs, ribs or skulls, and 5 per cent. of them are not likely to survive.

The injured are also mostly destitute, hence the need of relief for the ensuing two months, until they can re-establish themselves. A survey shows that 5,000 homes were either destroyed or need to be completely rebuilt, making some 25,000 persons homeless.—(Per Press Association; Copyright.)

GOVERNMENT AND MINERS.

FEDERATION TERMS REJECTED.

PREMIER'S LETTER TO MR. COOK.

A CALL TO TIMELY ACTION.

THE Government has rejected the latest proposals put forward by the miners as a basis of negotiation in the coal dispute.

The announcement was made in a letter addressed by the Prime Minister to Mr. Cook after last night's meeting of the Cabinet.

Mr. Baldwin recognises the advances which the miners' proposals indicate, but says that the Government do not feel that they afford a means of reaching an early or a lasting settlement. The Government are not prepared to go beyond the proposals in the Prime Minister's letter of September 17th. These proposals, however, cannot remain open indefinitely, and if the miners desire to avail themselves of them, they should order district negotiations to be set on foot, subject to review by an independent tribunal.

Mr. Cook accuses Mr. Baldwin and the Government of taking side with the coal-owners against the miners. He adds that if the Government persists in this attitude, there can be no sign of an end to the struggle.

MR. BALDWIN'S LETTER.

LIMIT OF GOVERNMENT'S PROPOSALS.

The Cabinet, which met yesterday evening to consider the coal situation, sat for just over two hours. The outcome of the meeting was the decision to despatch a communication to Mr. Cook, Secretary of the Miners' Federation.

The text of the Prime Minister's letter to Mr. Cook was as follows:—

10 Downing street,
September 24th, 1926.

DEAR SIR,—I am desired by the Prime Minister to inform you that both the Coal Committee and the Cabinet have now given close and earnest attention to the proposals you submitted to him on Tuesday night, and which you have since made public.

While recognising the advance which the proposals indicate, His Majesty's Government do not feel that they afford the means of reaching an early or lasting settlement of the present dispute.

In these circumstances, I am to say that the Government are not prepared to go beyond the maturely considered proposals conveyed to you in the Prime Minister's letter of 17th instant.

These proposals cannot, of course, remain open indefinitely, but your Federation are still free to avail themselves of them by taking the practical step of ordering district negotiations to be set on foot, subject to the subsequent review of an independent tribunal, where any departure from the old hours is involved.—Yours faithfully,

RONALD WATERHOUSE.

A. J. Cook, Esq., Secretary of the Miners' Federation.

MR. COOK'S STATEMENT.

MR. BALDWIN DENOUNCED.

A messenger from Downing street arrived at the Miners' Federation offices at 6.15 last night with the letter.

In a statement, Mr. Cook said:—The letter implies that the Government have rejected the proposals put forward by the Miners' Federation as being inadequate. They have refused to call the owners together, and, judging by the terms of the letter, they have again taken the side of the coal-owners against the miners.

Presumably the sacrifices we were prepared to recommend the miners to make are not sufficient to please the Government, and they have definitely rejected their own Commission's report. It will be for the Miners' Executive, at their meeting on Monday to decide what action they will take, and I presume they will need to meet the Labour Party and the Trades Union Congress General Council in view of the Government's attitude. I am convinced, in view of the sacrifices we were prepared to recommend to the men in the coal-fields—to which a great many of the men are opposed, judging by the letters and telegrams we have received—that the attitude of the Government will strengthen the opposition of the men to the terms.

The Government view, apparently, is that the miners should surrender to the coal-owners' terms, and I can say, without fear of contradiction, that there is no sign of a settlement, nor even a sign of the end of the struggle, if the Government persist in this attitude, as the terms and conditions offered in the districts are such as the men cannot voluntarily accept, because they will not procure for them a decent livelihood.

Mr. Cook added that the Government seemed to have reverted to the scheme of Mr. Baldwin. The Miners' Executive would decide whether it was necessary to call a National Delegate Conference.

ON THE EDGE OF A PRECIPICE.

Mr. Cook, speaking last night to the London postmen, declared that it would be many weeks before they got a settlement of the coal dispute by surrender. No terms would be binding except such as were honourable. He had no apology to make for the stand which the miners had taken. The country to-day was on the edge of a precipice after twenty-one weeks of coal stoppage. They had offered to accept a reduction which might mean one shilling or more per day per man. They had offered to accept the whole report and arbitration, and how were they met? Every time they made a conciliatory move, the Press of the country, the Government, and the coal-owners took it as a sign of weakness.

A resolution was passed declaring that the attitude adopted by the mine-owners was a menace to all workers, and pledging support for the miners.

THE NEW SITUATION.

MONDAY'S MEETING OF PARLIAMENT.

The Central News Political Correspondent writes:—The situation which will confront the House of Commons on Monday is now more or less clearly cut, and the Government, through Mr. Baldwin's letter to Mr. Cook, have left the door open for the miners to accept the Government plan of a week ago, which prescribed the resumption of work on district settlements as a preliminary to the passing of an Act setting up a national appeal tribunal to which any matter might be referred by districts working more than seven hours per day.

The miners have already rejected the Government plan. Will they be more favourably disposed towards it now that their own proposals have been rejected by the Government and the owners? It is not expected that the miners will make any move in the direction of the Government plan. Hence the situation on Monday is anticipated as one of a clean slate.

The general opinion is that there will be no formal settlement of the dispute, but that local settlements will be made out after the offer until all districts have gradually resumed work.

The debate in Parliament next week will be very interesting. The Liberal Parliamentary Party will meet on Monday, as will also the Labour Party, and both will criticise the conduct of the Government.

"NOT A HUCKSTER."

"Mr. Baldwin is a Prime Minister, not a huckster," was one of the declarations made at a meeting of Swansea Chamber of Commerce yesterday morning, when a strong re-

CANADIAN FARM METHODS.

BID FOR THE ENGLISH MARKETS.

COMPETITION WITH IRELAND.

Mr. Patrick Hogan, Free State Minister for Lands and Agriculture, returned to Dublin during the present week after a trip to Canada and the United States. He spent most of the time in the former country, studying educational systems, and the live stock industry, how the cattle are raised, their methods of marketing and tranport, and the costings.

Mr. Hogan told an Irish Times representative on his return that he received the greatest kindness from officials of both the State and Federal Governments. Every information was willingly placed at his disposal, and every facility provided for the pursuit of his investigations. At every turn he found Canadians asking questions showing their interest in the young Free State.

IRISH BACON.

WHY ITS PRICE IS HIGH.

Mr. Hogan said that he found that the Canadians are following closely the working of our schemes for the improvement of cattle, butter and pigs. He was frequently asked how it was that Irish bacon fetched considerably higher prices than either American or Canadian.

"What was your answer?"

"I could only give my opinion, that it was due to the more uniform type of our pigs, to the greater use of milk, to the skill of our curers, and to their methods, which have been so long practised as to create a taste for Irish bacon."

"Have you formed an opinion as to the competition of Canadian cattle against the Irish in the English market?"

"I have come to the conclusion that the removal in 1922 of the British embargo on the import of Canadian cattle made no real difference either to Ireland or to Canada. Before 1922—in fact, before the war—Canada sent over 100,000 cattle for slaughter at British ports. Last year they sent 110,000, which is their maximum export in one year. So far this year it looks as if their export of cattle to Great Britain will be very much below that figure. Their exports are not any larger than before the lifting of the embargo. Speaking in averages, I would say that for some years yet their imports against us will be round about 100,000 a year."

"Is there any reason why the removal of the embargo was not followed by the flooding of the English market with Canadian stores?"

"The fact is that the Canadians, so far, cannot attempt to compete with us in young cattle weighing less than 9 cwt. (live). The value of the beast is not sufficient to bear the cost of transit, and, moreover, the incidence of the United States tariff on imported cattle is such that it pays the Canadian producer better to send his young stock into that country. The tariff is 1½ cents a lb. on cattle up to 1,000lbs., and 2 cents a lb. above that weight. That half-cent with the freight to England sends the younger Canadian cattle to the United States. To a very large extent the Canadian cattle coming into England are fat cattle. The stores that arrive are only for short keep. To my mind, Canadian imports will for a long time be confined to those classes."

"Would it appear, then, that the competition of the Canadian cattle is not the serious matter that we in this country were always led to think that it would be—in other words, was it just a scare?"

"Not at all. That competition must always remain a serious thing for this country. The factors which enter into the import of Canadian cattle to England vary from year to year. The trade depends to a great extent on the price in England. During 1925 Canadian cattle were a fairly profitable export, but prices in England have fallen since that, and the trade is not so profitable. If the price were to rise again, or the costs of production and transport were to come down, there would certainly be an increase in the competition from Canada. More important still, every effort is being made in Canada to improve the quality of their cattle. Anyone can see that improvement taking place, both in the breeding and the methods of feeding. If it continues at the same rate, Canadian cattle must always be a factor against us in the English market. We have the advantage over them that I have just mentioned, but that will be counterbalanced by their improvement in quality unless we keep on improving our cattle. We can always retain our place in the market if we produce the article that our customer wants."

CANADIAN DAIRYING METHODS.

Speaking of the dairying methods that he saw over there, Mr. Hogan said that the industry of butter producing was spreading in the eastern provinces. The milking breeds in use were Holsteins, Ayrshires and Jerseys, which seemed to be all good animals of their breeds, and deep milkers. He was informed that the average milk yield was high. In such districts the calves, other than those required for breeding purposes, were mostly sold for veal. The milk was separated at home, and only the cream sent to the creamery. Under that system it was not easy to control all the processes of butter production. The furthest that they could go was to grade the butter at the ports and give a grade certificate available only for a limited period. Under recent legislation all the processes of production are controlled in the Free State and the aim is to bring all the dairy produce exported up to a high degree of quality. In Canada the creameries are nearly all proprietary, but there are also some very successful co-operative concerns. Canadian cheese is also graded for export.

Mr. Hogan also spoke of Canada's efforts to build up a bacon trade. Owing to the fact that there were many breeds of pigs, it was difficult to establish uniformity in the finished product. Another difficulty was that they had to breed lard pigs as well as bacon pigs. Every effort was, however, being made to produce pigs of suitable weights for best bacon.

THE WHEAT RAISING LANDS.

In Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Alberta Mr. Hogan saw the great wheat-raising lands. "The land," he said, "in these provinces is magnificent. Usually there is 3 to 15 feet of heavy, rich black soil without sand or stone. The snow, after the six months' winter, disappears suddenly in March and the spring work commences immediately. The grain comes up quickly and ripens very rapidly. Little moisture falls in summer and the result is that the straw is firm, the crop never "lodges," and the quality of the grain is excellent. Wheat can be produced in this way on the same ground for 10 and sometimes for 20 years. No roots are grown, and neither farmyard manure nor artificial fertilisers are employed."

"During the spring, summer and autumn there is practically no rain, so that farm work is continuous. As the yields are lighter than we are used to in this country and there is no "lodging," there is no difficulty in harvesting. The grain is threshed out on the land and the straw burned. All the work on the farm is done with surprisingly little labour. On the ordinary wheat farm of 640 acres there are about 450 acres of grain, about 100 acres of fallow stubble ploughed in summer, and some 100 acres in pasture. All the work of cultivating such a farm and the harvesting is done by the farmer and two, or, at the outside three, men. On such a farm 25 horses will be kept, but there is ample farm machinery of all kinds. Just as everywhere else, they have to a very great extent given up motor traction for farm work."

SEAPLANE'S FORCED DESCENT.

MARSEILLES, Friday.

A seaplane that was making trial flights on the Marseilles-Algiers air route was obliged to come down at sea two hours out from Marseilles. The three members of the crew were picked up by the passenger liner Timgad. The Timgad took the seaplane in tow, and brought it in here There was some difficulty owing to the heavy sea.—(Reuter.)

SOME REMARKABLE PRESCRIPTIONS.

COSTLY OINTMENT FOR THE POOR.

WATER AND ICE AS MEDICINE.

At the annual conference in Aberdeen yesterday of the Scottish Association of Insurance Committees, Mr. A. B. Gilmour, Superintendent of the Central Checking Bureau, reported that prescription forms for the fifty-four Insurance Committees in Scotland handled during the year numbered 2,691,000, were to the value of £156,963, and represented an average cost of 13.99d.

During the year insulin treatment had been given to about 540 insured persons at a cost of about £10,000.

Among remarkable prescriptions, he mentioned one, whereby a patient had received one and a half hundredweight of ointment, costing ten shillings a week, or £26 a year, and since that return was made the patient had received another quarter of a hundredweight of the ointment.

A STRAINED MEANING.

The meaning of the word medicine was being strained unduly. There was a case of a patient who got, in a comparatively short time, 27 gallons of distilled water, at a cost of £1 13s. Where two pounds of ice had been given, the chemist contended that, as distilled water was in the British Pharmacopœia, and as ice was frozen water, therefore ice was medicine. A practitioner who ordered rectified spirit of wine, costing £2 19s. 10d., explained that an insured person was too poor to pay for whiskey.

Practitioners had to be taught to realise that it was essentially unsound and unscientific to prescribe an ordinary drug or combination of drugs under a proprietary name; for while no person was financially interested in advertising the British Pharmacopœia, every manufacturer was financially interested in advertising his own goods.

A CLASH INEVITABLE.

SOVIET COMMISSAR'S PROPHECY.

RIGA, Friday.

Voroshiloff, the Soviet War Commissar, since his recent return from furlough, has delivered many martial harangues, the most notable of which was to detachments of the 6,000 new officers of the Red Army. He assured these officers that he had data at his disposal, showing that a military clash was inevitable in the East or West.—(Times telegram, per Press Association, copyright.)

GREEK EX-DICTATOR AND TURKEY.

DENIES THAT HE INTENDED TO DECLARE WAR.

ATHENS, Friday.

General Pangalos, the deposed Dictator, has telegraphed from Fort Izeddin, where he is imprisoned, to the newspaper Eleftheros Typos, protesting against the statements attributed to him a few days ago in the Eleftheron Vima in regard to the intentions on his part to declare war on Turkey. The report was to the effect that, if he had not been overthrown on August 21, he had intended to attack Turkey and suddenly reoccupy Eastern Thrace.

WISE SPENDING BEST ECONOMY.

TEACHERS AND PARSIMONY IN EDUCATION.

The National Federation of Class Teachers opened their annual conference at Brighton yesterday.

The new President, Mr. T. R. Evans, Merthyr Tydvil, in his address, said that money wisely spent in education was the very best form of economy. Parsimony in any form was a threat to the very structure of their educational system, but nothing could affect it more adversely than unwieldy classes. Education, he declared, must be freed from the shortcomings of the political parties.

The President pleaded for the primary scholar, who, he said, had probably suffered more than any section of the community during recent years of industrial depression.

"SEE ITALY FIRST."

EFFECT OF CAMPAIGN ON SWISS RESORTS.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.
FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.
BERNE, Friday.

Swiss tourist resorts are beginning to feel the effects of the Italian Government's "See Italy First" campaign. Hotels are finding reserved rooms thrown on their hands "owing to unforeseen circumstances." Italian families have been warned that, in consequence of the crisis through which the hotel industry is passing in Italy, it is not desirable that they should spend their holidays abroad. This recommendation has not been published in the Press, but has been sent forth by other means. Its effect already is marked. At Locarno, a favourite resort for Italians, just across the border on Lake Maggiore, there are few Italians this year; and Italian automobiles have almost disappeared from roads around Locarno.

GROWING DEMAND FOR FOREIGN BONDS.

ENGLISH BANK DIRECTOR'S IMPRESSIONS OF AMERICA.

Colonel F. Vernon Willey, a director of Lloyd's Bank, returned to London last night from another sojourn in New York. In an interview, he said that he had noted an increasing respect towards Great Britain, which had been enhanced by the Government's handling of the general strike.

"Our credit and prestige has never been higher," he said. He had been keeping in touch with the sentiment towards foreign investment, and found that there was a much broadened market for foreign Government bonds, in addition to Continental industrial financing, mainly German. This interest in foreign bonds was fostered by the declining rates of interest on American bonds. Not only private investors were buying foreign bonds, but the banks were prepared to utilise a portion of their resources in acquiring them.

There seemed to be a greater feeling of confidence in the general financial improvement of Europe. There was a marked change of feeling, however, towards France, particularly among bankers and financial men. The old sentimental sympathy had disappeared, and was replaced by marked irritation, particularly regarding the debt settlement attitude of the French.

He was interested in the analysis that was being taken in America of the deferred payment on the instalment plan of salesmanship by the Executive of the American Bankers' Convention. It showed that not more than ten per cent. of the total sales of the country's turn-over were on the instalment basis, and that not more than eight per cent. involved credit; and this reassured those who feared that the system was a menace to stability.

RESCUES FROM DROWNING.

EXCITING INCIDENT AT GENEVA.

GENEVA, Friday.

The usually calm atmosphere of Geneva was disturbed to-day, when a French woman typist to the League of Nations Secretariat, fell into the lake. An elderly man jumped in after her and tried to rescue her, but his attempts were unsuccessful, whereupon a young man, who it was discovered later was the son of M. Paul Boncour, the official French delegate to the League of Nations, plunged into the water and rescued both the drowning people. The rescue was witnessed by a large crowd.—(Reuter.)

LATE NEWS

COAL DEADLOCK.

OWNERS AND MEN ADAMANT.

The discussions yesterday seem to have persuaded Ministers that the differences between the owners and the miners are as wide and as fundamental as they have ever been, says The Times. The owners have not made the slightest concession on national agreements, while the miners remain adamant against district negotiations and any increase of hours.

An impression has got abroad that at one stage, just after negotiations were resumed under the direction of Mr. Churchill, the miners indicated a willingness to discuss both wages and hours. The events of the last week have dispelled that impression. During the discussions which have centred around the miners' plan there has been no indication that the miners are prepared to discuss the question of a longer working day, even in the poorest districts. No further action is now likely before the meeting of Parliament on Monday.

BRITAIN AND THE LEAGUE.

UNFORTUNATE IMPRESSIONS.

The Times Special Correspondent at Geneva telegraphed yesterday:—The seventh annual assembly of the League of Nations is coming to an end, and some of the results of the last four weeks' transactions in the Assembly, the Council and the Committees may now be reviewed. Out of all the discussions there emerges a body of opinion which, carried all over the world through the Press and the conversations of delegates or unofficial observers, has as much influence on the course of affairs as the formal reports and resolutions. This is the League's yearly contribution to world thought. Sad to say, one of the outstanding impressions this year is the effect produced on the Assembly and its attendant public by the policy of the British Delegation, or, rather, by certain acts by which its policy has been judged.

It must suffice to mention two of three of them. The one which aroused the most criticism is the resolution moved in the Assembly by Lord Cecil, that a committee should be appointed to consider what questions are, and what are not, within the sphere of action of the League within the meaning of the preamble and Articles 3 and 4 of the Covenant. The purpose of the resolution, as explained by Lord Cecil, was to prevent the original aims for which the League was created from being obscured, and to avoid encroaching on national sovereignty. He submitted that matters, such as the provision of swimming baths, a question which has actually been raised at Geneva, were not the proper business of the League.

This proposal might be termed fairly harmless, but it provoked a storm of criticism. It was argued with a great deal of force that, if the League kept strictly to the aims mentioned in the preamble of the Covenant—namely, international co-operation and the attainment of international peace and security—some of its most fruitful spheres of action would be ruled out. For instance, the financial reconstruction of Austria and Hungary, famine relief in Russia and the assistance of Greek refugees would all have been beyond its competence if thus interpreted. Numbers of people at once saw in the proposal the desire to cramp the activities of the League. The fact that it was made by Lord Cecil, one of the authors and champions of the Convenant, made no difference.

The second incident which aroused unfavourable comment was Sir Austen Chamberlain's severe castigation of the activities of the Permanent Mandates Commission. This created an unfortunate impression among the delegations of the smaller States.

COLLISION WITH A POLICE CAR.

FOUR PERSONS INJURED.

A serious motor accident occurred at Drumahoe, near Londonderry, last night, when a car, occupied by Mr. Wallace Kennedy, a Derry City Special Constabulary Commandant, Mrs. Kennedy and two friends, and a police car coming from Cookstown came into collision. Both cars were wrecked.

Mr. Kennedy received severe injuries to the face and Mrs. Kennedy sustained serious head wounds, in which Dr. Crosbie had to put several sitches. One of the other occupants also received injuries. The driver of the police car, Thomas Hamilton, was injured in the eye.

NORTHERN MOTOR CYCLIST INJURED.

A well-known motor cyclist, Joseph Corbett, of 23 Railway street, Ballynahinch, who competed in the recent Ulster Grand Prix, and who was to have competed at Magilligan to-day, was seriously injured last night in a collision between his motor cycle and a car on the Ballynahinch-Belfast road.

He was taken to the Royal Victoria Hospital, Belfast, where he is detained suffering from injuries to his legs.

CHILDREN INJURED BY MOTOR CAR.

Two children—Eric McKnight, aged 6, of Balfour avenue, Belfast, and Eileen McCarthy, aged 9, of Albert street, Belfast—were knocked down by a motor car last night. Eric McKnight is in a serious condition.

LEICESTER PARACHUTE ACCIDENT.

CORONER AND CRAVING FOR THRILLS.

At the resumed inquest at Leicester yesterday on Mrs. Dorothy Cain, who was killed while attempting to make a parachute descent from an aeroplane at Leicester on the 9th inst., the jury returned a verdict of "accidental death," adding that they could not attach blame to anyone.

Captain Muir, the airman, said that the release gear was in perfect order. He himself attached the cable after Mrs. Cain got into the machine, and he had no doubt that it was attached to her and to the parachute. He could not explain how the accident happened.

Major Cooper, of the Air Ministry, said that he was satisfied that the harness, quick relief life line and cable were in accordance with the design. Everything was intact and in working order when he examined the machine.

The Coroner said that parachutes were most useful in emergency, but novices should not make exhibition descents. There was too much of the everlasting craving for thrills.

MACHINE GUN DEVICE.

INVENTION OF FREE STATE OFFICERS.

The machine gun device used in the Free State Army manœuvres, which enables blank ammunition to be fired, is the combined work of two Irish Army officers—Commandant Stapleton and Lieutenant Doyle, of Islandbridge Barracks, Dublin.

The invention is an ingenious one, which proved entirely satisfactory during this week's field work. It will shortly be patented in other countries.

LEVEL CROSSING ACCIDENT

HOW THE DOG ESCAPED.

COLOGNE (By Mail).

A singular level crossing accident has occurred near Krefeld. The gates were lowered at the very last moment, and a motor car had passed the first barrier, and was on the line when a fast train appeared round the bend a few yards away. The motorist lost his head, and, without touching any of the controls, leaped out of the car. He fell on the track and was run over by the train, which cut off both his legs. The driverless car was brought to a standstill by the further gate. It was quite undamaged, and a sporting dog, which had not left its seat alongside the driver, was unhurt.

A far worse affair is reported from Hagen, Westphalia. A motor car, without lights, which was being driven at a furious speed along a country road, dashed into the band at the head of a procession of youths. Three of the lads were killed and two fatally injured. The driver of the car is under arrest.—(Reuter.)

FRENCH RAILWAY ACCIDENT.

IDENTIFYING THE VICTIMS.

INJURED IRISHMAN RETURNING HOME.

The latest news from Fontainebleau, where a railway accident on Thursday caused the deaths of six persons and injury to twenty others, states that all the injured are going on well. Mr. P. J. O'Gorman, a business man, of Youghal, who was among the injured, left the hospital yesterday and went to London, accompanied by a friend, who is a doctor. Canon Dent, of Cardiff, who was more seriously injured, is progressing as well as can be expected.

THE DEAD AND INJURED.

INACCURATE DESCRIPTIONS.

PARIS, Friday.

In the confusion caused by yesterday's railway accident between Vulaines and Hericy, no official list of dead and injured was available until to-day, and the description of the injured man, Mr. O'Gorman, as living in the United Kingdom, is typical of the initial inaccuracies.

Mr. Montgomery, who was first described as a British subject on account of the English currency and correspondence found in his pockets, has now been identified as Mr. Eugene Montgomerey, of Kansas City, Missouri, who has been working in Geneva with the League of Nations.

An Englishman named Mr. Blackie, who also met with his death in the Swiss portion of the train into which the Lyons express crashed, was conductor of tours in a travel agency, and was returning from Switzerland alone. Mr. Blackie is reported to have resided in Harrington road, South Kensington.

The official list of the injured states that the Rev. Frederick Dent, a Roman Catholic priest and Canon of Cardiff, who was born in 1866 at Bristol, is suffering from fracture of both legs. The Irishman who was injured is Mr. Patrick James O'Gorman, who was born in 1892, and is a business man at Youghal. He is suffering from dislocation of the left shoulder and injuries to the right arm.

ENGINE DRIVER'S STATEMENT.

The inquiry is still being conducted into the causes of the accident. The driver of the Lyons express admits that he received a bulletin at the station before the section on which the accident occurred instructing him to slow down, as the block system in that section was not working.

He asserts, however, that the hand signal which should have covered the train standing in this section was not against him. He backs up this assertion by pointing out that the engine shows no trace of the steam whistle having been brought into action, although this is automatically sounded by an apparatus on the line whenever a train overruns the signals.—(Reuter.)

MR. O'GORMAN'S EXPECTED RETURN.

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.
YOUGHAL, Friday.

Calling this evening on Mrs. J. O'Gorman, draper, South Main street, the mother of Mr. P. J. O'Gorman, who was injured in the French railway accident, I ascertained that, beyond the Press announcement and a telegram from a medical friend in London to the same effect, she has received no information. He had been expected home to-morrow.

Mr. O'Gorman is a member of several local boards, and he was acting chairman of the Youghal Urban Council for some years.

A BRAVE CLERGYMAN.

PARIS, Friday.

Among the injured in the train accident, Canon Dent, of Cardiff, was one of the bravest. Even though he had both his legs broken, he was able to joke about it.

SAVING THE SIMCOE CHAPEL.

A WESTERN LINK WITH THE EMPIRE.

There lies in a derelict condition, on a farm in East Devon, a little chapel, which has historic and intimate associations with the Empire. It was built in the closing years of his life, over a century ago, by Lieutenant General John Graves Simcoe, the distinguished British citizen, who founded Toronto, and was the first Governor of Upper Canada. Below the chapel lie his remains, as well as those of his wife and children. His house has been pulled down, and the estate has been sold, and in order properly to preserve the chapel and the burying ground, the Western Morning News, Plymouth, has purchased them.

Sir R. Leicester Harmsworth, Bart., also has been able to purchase a large portion of the really splendid library which the General had collected in Devon, and also has in his possession two magnificent oil paintings of the General himself, believed to be the only portraits in existence of him, and many other highly interesting mementoes. But for the patriotic action of the newspaper, there is no telling what might have become of the memorial chapel and the graves.

General Simcoe not only founded Toronto, but also London, Ontario, now a fine city of 60,000 inhabitants, and formed that historic regiment, the Queen's Rangers. After the peace with America he got his soldiers to clear the forests, make roads, build bridges, and, himself, superintended the laying-out of the future Toronto, its streets, buildings, and harbour. The struggling Upper Canada which he founded is now Ontario. Beautiful Lake Simcoe, the County of Simcoe, and the little town of Simcoe, perpetuate his name, and Toronto University has recently added Simcoe Buildings.

HOARDING GOLD AND SILVER.

BANK OF FRANCE'S REMEDY.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.
PARIS, Friday.

Beginning on next Monday, the Bank of France, acting under the law of August 7th, 1926, will purchase French Louis D'Or, or 20-franc gold pieces, and also [illegible] franc silver pieces, for 114.68 and 13.27 respectively. The prices offered are based upon the actual gold and silver content of the coins mentioned.

By this means the French officials hope to induce citizens, who have been hoarding gold and silver, to dispose of it at the official rate, and thereby aid the Bank of France to fight the decline of the franc.

END OF LEAGUE'S SESSION.

BRITISH OBSERVER'S REVIEW.

FROM "THE TIMES" CORRESPONDENT.
GENEVA, Friday.

The seventh annual Assembly of the League of Nations is coming to an end, and some of the results of the last four weeks' transactions in the Assembly, the Council, and the committees may now be reviewed.

Sad to say, one of the outstanding impressions this year is the effect produced on the Assembly and its attendant public by the policy of the British Delegation, or rather by certain acts by which its policy has been judged. It must suffice to mention two or three of them.

The one which aroused the most criticism is the resolution moved in the Assembly by Lord Cecil that a committee should be appointed to consider what questions are, and what are not, within the sphere of action of the League within the meaning of the preamble and Articles 3 and 4 of the Covenant. This proposal might be termed fairly harmless, but it provoked a storm of criticism. Numbers of people at once saw in the proposal the desire to cramp the activities of the League. The fact that it was made by Lord Cecil, one of the authors and champions of the covenant, made no difference.

MANDATES.

The second incident which aroused unfavourable comment was Sir Austen Chamberlain's severe castigation of the activities of the Permanent Mandates Commission. This created an unfortunate impression among the delegations of the smaller States. They are always sensitive about the privileged position of the Great Powers in the League. To find the chief delegate of Great Britain and a permanent member of the Council raising his voice against one of the representative organs of the League shocked their feelings.

These are the two chief causes of offence, but there are others. Over the questions of disarmament and the economic conference the British delegates have been in favour of going slow. Their real object here has been to prevent the League from attempting the impossible.

But their action has been interpreted as malicious opposition. There is hardly a committee in which the action of the British representative has not been attributed to some dark, ulterior motive. It is assumed that for reasons of her own Great Britain wishes to obstruct and neutralise the legitimate work of the League. To avoid creating this impression should be easy. Explanation is what is really wanted.

The British policy with regard to the development of the League seems to be based on the maxim that it is not wise to make a child run before it can walk. With this idea it tends to discourage schemes and suggestions which seem too ambitious, and the failure of which might bring discredit on the League.

NOT PROPERLY CONSIDERED.

The impression which a British observer gets at Geneva is that the presentation of British policy before the League has never been properly thought out. Yet this is surely important, for Geneva at Assembly time is one of the most public places in the world. A thousand keen critics of all nationalities are gathered together to sift and to observe.

France is represented there by two of its eloquent orators, as the country which is taking the lead in pacific action and disarmament. It is true that the trend of the British policy can be pieced together by a systematic observer who has a knowledge of British mentality, and who cares to trace the motives of every action recommended by a British delegate in Committee, but the average foreigner gets no assistance in trying to understand it.

The effect which will be produced at Geneva by every step taken by the British delegation ought to be carefully studied beforehand. If that were done, the painful impression produced by remarks such as Sir Austen Chamberlain's about the Mandates Commission would be avoided.

The influence of British opinion at Geneva would be increased if two, or even three, principal delegates were present at Geneva during the whole of the Assembly. Sir Austen Chamberlain left over a week ago. Sir Cecil Hurst has had to fulfil the double duty of delegate and legal expert. The brunt of the work has thus fallen on Lord Cecil, who has more than he can do. France, even after the departure of M. Briand, has had here men of weight and international reputation, such as M. Paul Boncou, M. Loucheur and M. de Jouvenel, to represent her.—(Per Press Association, Copyright.)

LEVEL CROSSING ACCIDENT.

MOTORISTS' NARROW ESCAPE.

Fred Wilkinson, of 114 Central Drive, Blackpool, had a remarkable escape from death yesterday afternoon, when a collision took place at the level crossing at Burn Naze, near Fleetwood. The motor lorry which he was driving was run into by a goods train, and was carried over a hundred yards on the front of the engine and smashed to matchwood. Wilkinson's mate got down to open the gates, and neither of them saw the train coming. When the engine hit the lorry Wilkinson was thrown from his seat on to the rails, clear of the train, and escaped with bruises and shock.

LONDON PASTOR AND WAR METHODS.

COMPLAINT OF AMERICAN MIS-REPORTING.

Dr. F. W. Norwood, Pastor of the City Temple, London, who reached Southampton yesterday in the Majestic, said that he had been badly misreported in connection with the statements that he was supposed to have made at an American meeting. It was, he said, a private meeting of 150 ministers, all interested in the cause of peace. The statement that there was uproar was "sheer bunkum," and the allegation credited to him that Britain had slaughtered more women and children by air raids of defenceless enemy towns than the Germans was also "bunkum."

"My statement," said Dr. Norwood, "was not that Britain initiated air raids or gas attacks, but that they were compelled to follow suit. My argument was that all war methods, however devilish, necessitate imitation on the part of all belligerents.

"Since the Allies won the war," he added, "it was manifest that we exceeded our enemies in this and other methods.

"I stand by this statement," he declared, "basing it on personal knowledge; but I am not responsible for the twisting given it by the American papers."

GERMANY'S RECOVERY.

COUNTRY'S CHIEF TASK.

"In looking back over the last three years one cannot but be struck by the evidence which they furnish of Germany's inherent economic strength," states the report issued yesterday by the Department of Overseas Trade on the economic and financial conditions in Germany in 1925-26.

"There is hardly another country of similar importance," proceeds the report, "which could have overcome with such comparative ease, and with so little internal disturbance, the complete destruction of its currency, nor passed with equal rapidity through the subsequent period of necessity; but there seems every reason to feel confident as to the future of such a country.

"Of course there will be relapses now and then, and Germany will not escape industrial and commercial disabilities which are besetting the whole of Europe; but anything she may experience can be regarded as insignificant compared with what she has recently been through. Germany's chief task, to the accomplishment of which she will devote all her energies, is the formation of new capital to replace that which was destroyed in inflation. There can be no doubt that she will complete it successfully. That she has already made a good beginning is proved by her banking and foreign trade returns."

WEST AFRICAN FRONTIER FORCE

The Secretary of State for the Colonies has approved of the appointment of Colonel S. S. Butler, C.M.G., D.S.O., to be Inspector-General of the West African Frontier Force, with effect from the 1st of October, in succession to Colonel R. D. F. Oldman, C.B., C.M.G., D.S.O., who has been selected to command the 6th Infantry Brigade solution was passed bearing upon the coal situation. The resolution read:—

GOVERNMENT AND MINERS.

"That this meeting, being convinced that the best method of obtaining peace and stability in the coal mining industry is by leaving the owners and miners to make their own arrangements, respectfully urges upon His Majesty's Government the desirability of refraining from further intervention during the present crisis, unless called upon by both parties to the dispute."

The President, Mr. W. Morgan, said that the coal industry had been subjected to political interference during the last eleven years. The bishops had now taken a hand. He thought that Chambers of Commerce were as competent to revise the Prayer Book as were the bishops to make arrangements between coalowners and miners. He added that, whilst the Government in this case were bound to interfere, yet the time had come when they must stand aside. Mr. Baldwin was a Prime Minister, and not a huckster, and he felt that Mr. Baldwin was giving the miners' leaders a standing to which they were not entitled in the eyes of the nation.

MINERS AT WORK.

NUMBERS STILL INCREASING.

The following return of the numbers of miners at work was received from the various colliery owners yesterday afternoon. The figures relate only to certain districts, and it is stated that they cover only about 70 per cent. of the total number of men now working at collieries actually raising coal:—

YORKSHIRE OWNERS' INVITATION.

The South and West Yorkshire Coalowners' Associations yesterday invited the Yorkshire Miners' Association to meet them to discuss terms and conditions upon which resumption of work could be arranged. Mr. Joseph Jones, General Secretary of the Yorkshire Miners' Association, replied, stating that he was not authorised to accept the invitation, as the Miners' Association are still hopeful that negotiations will continue nationally.

LANARKSHIRE OWNERS' TERMS REJECTED.

Three thousand miners employed at pits in the Mount Vernon and Shettleston districts of Lanarkshire have unanimously rejected an offer by the employers to resume work on a seven-hour day basis, with a guaranteed minimum of 9s. 4½d., with a 5s. bonus, the employers offering to withdraw from the Coalowners' Association.

NATIONAL SAVINGS AFFECTED.

It was grievous, said Major-General Seely, Chairman of the National Savings Committee, at Cambridge yesterday, to see so great a part of the labours of the National Savings workers disappear as a result of the industrial dispute, which had undoubtedly affected the movement considerably. It was impossible to say how much had been lost, but it possibly represented even more than the cost of the South African War. But, grievous as the position was, it was not hopeless. When the present dispute was over, which he was persuaded would be soon, he hoped that they would redouble their efforts.

HOW TO SETTLE THE STRIKE.

WIGAN GUARDIAN'S SUGGESTION.

It was reported at the Wigan Guardians' meeting yesterday that their indebtedness to the bank in consequence of emergency relief paid out during the coal dispute was £160,000. During the course of the proceedings one Guardian said that in the old days, if an able-bodied man received Poor Law relief, a constable had the power to arrest him, and he was whipped, placed in the stocks for twenty-four hours, and then had a hole driven through his ear with a red-hot iron bar. "If we came back again to that state of law," declared the speaker, "we would soon have the strike settled."

HIGH COST OF COAL.

AMERICAN FREIGHT RATES RAISED.

MONTREAL, Friday.

The Canadian Transatlantic Conference announced last night that there was to be a general advance of 15 per cent., effective immediately, in freight rates from Canadian ports to the United Kingdom. The increase in the rates is due to the increasing cost of coal and the necessity of ships coaling in this country for the round trip, thus reducing the available cargo-carrying space.

The commodities affected are only those included under the jurisdiction of the Conference. Cattle, flour and grain are not affected, and there is no change in the freight rates to the Continent.

The North Atlantic and United Kingdom Freight Conference will similarly raise its rates, thus including all freight from America by vessels belonging to the Conferences. The Canadian Government merchant marine is not a member of the Canadian Transatlantic Conference, and it is not known if they will follow the lead of the Conference of Shipping Lines.—(Reuter.)

THE STRIKE AND GERMAN TRADE.

COLOGNE (By Mail).

A big order for 25,000 ladies' hair-cutting machines has been placed by an English importer with a Solingen cutlery firm which specialises in this class of cutlery. The price is stated to be only 50,000 marks. The British coal strike has made very little difference to the Solingen trade with England, but a great improvement in exports to Australia has resulted, and prices are exceptionally remunerative.—(Reuter.)

GIFT TO BRITISH MINERS DEFEATED.

SAARBRUCKEN, Friday.

At a meeting of the Town Council a Communist proposal to send 30,000 francs to the British Miners' Federation was defeated. It was stated that, in addition to being the most highly taxed community in the world, the minimum "living wage," after deducting taxes, was the lowest, being only 24 marks per month.—(Reuter.)

ANGLO-GERMAN INDUSTRIAL CONFERENCE.

BERLIN, Friday.

According to a statement in the Berliner Tageblatt to-day, British and German official quarters have arranged a conference in London between twelve leading German manufacturers and the same number of British representatives of the mining, iron, steel and chemical industries. The Tageblatt adds:—"This meeting will take the place of the proposed conference on which Herr Duisberg, President of the German Federation of Industries, and Sir Max Muspratt some time ago had informal discussions, and which was to have been held in London next month."—(Reuter.)

BEETHOVEN CENTENARY.

The Beethoven centenary pianoforte recitals to be given by Signor Esposito in the Baggotrath Hall, Dublin, in October are attracting a great deal of interest. Signor Esposito's repute as an interpreter of the sonatas of Beethoven is so firmly established that the opportunity of hearing the great composer's principal sonatas performed by him will be generally welcomed. The booking of seats indicates that large audiences will be present.

NORTH AND FREE STATE MAILS.

HOW CHANGE WILL AFFECT DONEGAL.

The announcement that the reciprocal arrangements regarding the postal services between the Free State and Northern Ireland along the border line is about to be terminated, and that in future no letters from Northern Ireland will be delivered to Free State territory from Northern post-offices, or vice versa, will, it appears, considerably affect the mail services from the eastern and southern portions of Co. Donegal. At present letters for these parts are being sorted and dealt with at Strabane, as in former times.

It appears that about two years ago, owing to the establishment of the Customs barrier, parcels were transferred for examination and sorting to Lifford, but all letters for Raphoe and the districts served by the Co. Donegal railways as far west as Killybegs and Glenties have been sorted at the Strabane office. When the proposed change takes place Strabane will cease to be the sorting office for these districts, and all letters and parcels for these will go to Lifford.

For the present the telegraph and telephone line through Strabane for various parts of Donegal must remain, because there is no other means of communication, but it is expected that whenever the Free State postal authorities get new lines laid to connect Donegal and Ballyshannon this arrangement also will cease.

FREE STATE DEATH-RATE.

TWELVE TOWN AREAS.

The Registrar-General's report for the week ended Saturday, the 18th of September, 1926, states that the deaths from all causes appertaining to the undermentioned areas for last week and for the past four weeks, respectively, were equal to the following annual rates per 1,000 of the population:—

Twelve town districts, 16.5 and 14.9; Dublin Registration Area, 16.8 and 14.4; Dublin County Borough, 16.3 and 14.7; Cork, 19.3 and 19.6; Limerick, 11.8 and 17.1; and Waterford, 25.4 and 15.7.

The deaths from the principal epidemic diseases recorded for the twelve town districts during last week were equal to an annual rate of 3.3 per 1,000. The 29 deaths from all causes for Cork included four from measles, one from whooping-cough, and one from diarrhœa and enteritis of a child under two years; among the nine deaths for Limerick were one from scarlet fever and one from whooping-cough; one of the four deaths for Dundalk was from scarlet fever, and one of the three deaths for Kilkenny was from measles.

DUBLIN REGISTRATION AREA.

In the Dublin Registration Area the total number of births registered during the week amounted to 186—96 boys and 90 girls—and the deaths to 148—70 males and 78 females.

The deaths registered, omitting the deaths (numbering 13) of persons admitted into public institutions from localities outside the Area, represent an annual rate of mortality of 16.3 per 1,000 of the population. During the thirty-seven weeks ending with Saturday last the death rate averaged 15.3, and was 3.3 below the mean rate for the corresponding portions of the ten years 1916-25. The rate for all deaths registered during the thirty-seven weeks was 17.0, and during the corresponding periods of the preceding ten years 20.2.

Included in the 135 deaths appertaining to the Area are one from enteric fever, one from scarlet fever, two from whooping-cough, one from diphtheria, 23 from diarrhœa and enteritis of children under two years, and one from influenza. In the three preceding weeks deaths from scarlet fever were 0, 0 and 2, deaths from whooping-cough were 1, 0 and 1; deaths from diphtheria were 1, 0 and 0; and deaths from diarrhœa and enteritis of children under two years were 22, 19 and 17. There were no deaths from enteric fever or influenza in the three preceding weeks.

One death from encephalitis lethargica and one from epidemic rose rash were registered.

Tuberculous disease caused six deaths (four of which were from pulmonary tuberculosis, and two from other forms of tuberculous disease), as against 15, 14 and seven from all forms of tuberculosis in the three weeks preceding.

Eighteen deaths were caused by cancer and nine by diseases of the heart.

There were six deaths from pneumonia, comprising three from broncho-pneumonia, two from lobar pneumonia, and one from pneumonia (not otherwise defined). Bronchitis caused 11 deaths.

One accidental death was registered.

Among deaths of infants under one year old, one was due to whooping-cough, four were due to convulsions, one to broncho-pneumonia, one to lobar pneumonia, one to pneumonia (not otherwise defined), 20 to diarrhœa and enteritis, four to premature birth, and seven to congenital debility.

Fifty-five of the deaths registered during the week, appertaining to the Area, were those of children under five years of age, 43 being infants under one year, of whom seven were under one month old, and 26 deaths were those of persons aged 65 years and upwards, of whom 21 were 70 years of age or over.

Of the 135 deaths recorded, 52 occurred in hospitals and other public institutions.

ENGLAND AND SCOTLAND.

The mortality among civilians for the week ended 18th September in 105 large English towns (including London, in which the rate was 9.2) was equal to an average annual death-rate of 9.3 per 1,000 of the estimated civil population.

TYRONE BUILDING SCHEME.

SERIOUS ALLEGATIONS.

At a special meeting of the Dungannon Rural Council yesterday—Mr. T. C. W. Marshall, J.P., presiding—serious allegations in connection with the foundations of forty labourers' cottages which are in course of erection at Brackaville, Coalisland, were made, resulting in the suspension of Mr. Samuel Hamilton, clerk of works, and a direction to the contractor to have the present foundations removed.

The Clerk said that in connection with the Brackaville cottages on the 11th inst. he was informed on the telephone by Mr. Musgrave, Coalisland, a member of the Council, that the foundations at Brackaville were not in accordance with the specification. He (the Clerk) immediately communicated with Mr. Hunter, Lisburn, the architect, and requested him to make an inspection and investigation of the foundations. As he left the office that evening he met Mr. Hamilton, the clerk of works, and asked him as to the foundations, and if he were satisfied with the manner in which they were put down. Mr. Hamilton assured him that he was quite satisfied. He subsequently met Mr. Samuel Cummings, the contractor, who said that he knew they were right. On Monday Mr. Hunter arrived, and went to Brackaville, and had the foundations opened in three places. The architect found that they were not correct, and there were places unfilled between the displacers. Mr. Cummings's foreman was there, and admitted that all the rest of the foundations were as those opened.

Mr. Hamilton, in his letter, stated that he never accepted the foundations at Brackaville as being correct, nor would he until the proper period had expired for consolidation—namely, six to eight days, the time allowed for bonding. If then, after a thorough examination, he found that they were not correct, he would refuse to let them be built on. He was prepared to admit to a thorough examination of any foundation that he had passed as correct. The foundations were only in three days; therefore, it was impossible for him to pass them as correct.

Mr. Hamilton, called before the Council, said that he had not passed the foundations, and denied that he told the Clerk that he would swear they were all right. He challenged any person to find a flaw in the cottages already erected, and would certainly condemn the Coalisland foundations at his next inspection.

Mr. Loughran inquired whether the suspension would apply to the clerk of works in respect of the repairs to cottages and other general Council work, and the Chairman said that the suspension would be general.

Mr. Lee said that he considered it rather drastic, and the Clerk explained that Mr. Hamilton could ask the Ministry for a sworn inquiry.

Mr. Hamilton's suspension was agreed to, and Mr. James Kerr, Dungannon, was appointed temporary clerk of works.

MILITARY SITUATION.

CANTONESE DEFICIENT IN ARTILLERY.

FROM "THE TIMES" CORRESPONDENT.
PEKING, Friday.

The situation in regard to the civil war on the Yangtse is now becoming clearer. The Cantonese cannot push northward while Sun Chuan Fang, based on Kiukiang, is on their flank and aiming at their communications in Honan. The bulk of the Cantonese forces are now confronting this menace.

Sun Chuan-Fang is not yet ready to attack in earnest, and the Cantonese are reported to be deficient in artillery. The Cantonese forces on the Honan border are small and faced by Wu Pei Fu's forces at Sinyangchow. Chang Tso-Ling has detailed eight brigades to proceed to the assistance of Wu Pei Fu when required, but the question of transport presents some difficulty.

In the far south the Tuchun of Yunnan is in the field against Kwangtung, the Cantonese, and according to Chinese reports he has occupied Nanning, the capital of Kwangsi. The ramifications of the present war exceed anything in recent Chinese history; practically every province is, or is certain to become, involved.

PROVOCATION IN CHINA.

THE TRADES UNION CONGRESS RESOLUTION.

The Times in a leading article criticises the recent resolution adopted by the General Council of the Trades Union Congress in regard to the policy of the Government in China, whose attitude it describes as provocative and aggressive.

It is high time that some of the current misrepresentations of British policy in China, of which the resolution of the Congress is a typical example, were exposed, says The Times, and, after recapitulating the facts of the Wanhsien incident, proceeds:—The Chinese policy of His Majesty's Government has been diversely criticised. The large British community in China, with few exceptions, accuse it of timidity; the Trades Union Congress accuses it of provocative aggression. It is quite obvious that both cannot be right; it is very probable that the line which the Foreign Office has steadily followed ever since China fell into an ever-deepening confusion is the only course which a British Government can safely take.

There is, be it remembered, no central government in existence. A number of military chiefs, great and small, wage endless war with one another, and rule what are in reality independent States by the rifle. A vague, but powerful, negative nationalism influences many of these provincial chiefs and governments, and the national dislike of the privileges of foreign residents in China is expressed in anti-foreign boycotts, which, for various reasons, but chiefly because British trade is most obviously vulnerable, have usually become simply anti-British boycotts. Attempts have been made by numerous Chinese faction leaders, including the Canton Government, to obtain the help of this country against their rivals. Such help might well be fatal to its recipient, and would, in any case, impose moral and financial commitments upon this country which it is not in a position to support. We should, indeed, be ill-advised to take sides in a very sordid struggle. Military action on a large scale in China could not be undertaken by any single Power, except Japan—and possibly Soviet Russia. International military action is at present a dream—or a nightmare—which is scarcely likely to be fulfilled.

The only policy which a British Government can safely and honourably follow is to defend the lives and the property and the legitimate interests of British subjects in China by force, if and when they are endangered by political brigandage, and the use of force is practicable and can be easily localised. Otherwise British policy must seek to remove legitimate grievances by negotiation with an authority with whom negotiation is possible. That appears to be the course which His Majesty's Government is pursuing. It may be regarded in some quarters as unnecessarily limited, but by no legitimate use of words can it be described as provocative or aggressive.

CENSUS OF PRODUCTION

TO BE TAKEN NEXT YEAR IN FREE STATE.

The Minister for Industries in the Irish Free State has made an Order under the Statistics Act of 1926 directing the collection of statistics in the year 1927 of trades, industries and businesses which are named in a schedule to the Order.

Another schedule sets out the information which must be supplied in so far as it will be required in respect to each trade, industry and business.

The statistics will be collected by means of forms which will be transmitted by post on or before January 15th, 1927, to all persons by whom returns are to be made. These forms must be completed and returned by post on or before March 1st, 1927.

LIVE PIG TRADE.

PROGRESS REPORTED IN THE NORTH.

At the last meeting of the Executive Committee of the Ulster Farmers' Union at the head offices in Belfast, Mr. William Jackson presiding,

The General Secretary reported on recent developments in connection with the live pig trade, and the committee expressed their gratification at the progress that had been made in this direction.

The Committee instructed the General Secretary to communicate with branches of the Union, advising them that, where there were not sufficient facilities for weighing live pigs, the members of the branches should take steps to have these provided. Some members of the Committee present gave their personal experiences of transactions and the benefit that they had received through being able to sell their pigs on foot.

The Committee, by unanimous resolution, asked the Northern Government officially to support the continued prohibition of the importation of foreign pork, on the ground that it had now been proved beyond doubt that these foreign pork products had been the direct cause of introducing and disseminating foot-and-mouth disease.

PROVINCIAL PIG MARKETS.

The following are the latest pig prices at provincial markets:—Athlone, 70s. per cwt. live weight, the same as last week; Graiguenamanagh (Co. Kilkenny), 70s. per cwt. live weight; Tipperary, 72s. per cwt. live weight, the same as last week; Monaghan, 91s. per cwt.

THE GREEK CONSTITUTION.

The text of the new Greek Republican Constitution comprises 125 articles. The mode of election is by direct universal suffrage and secret ballot with proportional representation. The Premiership will be limited to one year. The Senate will comprise 150 members. The President will be elected by Chamber and Senate jointly for a period of five years. The elections to the Chamber are fixed for October 24, the new Chamber to assemble on November 11, and to have power within a fortnight of its assembly to revise or to ratify the Constitution. A special decree raises the state of siege throughout the country.—(Reuter.)

SUSPENSION OF AIR MAIL SERVICES.

The British Postmaster-General announces that after to-day the morning air mail service, London-Paris-Bale-Zurich, will be closed for the winter. The despatches of letters for Switzerland and beyond by this route and the supplementary despatches by it of letters for Paris, Morocco and French Senegal will be suspended. The parcel air mail to Switzerland also will be suspended from the same date.

MEDICAL OFFICERSHIP OF CORK.

RESIGNATION OF DR. DONOVAN.

When he sat to transact the business of the Cork Corporation yesterday Mr. Monahan, the Commissioner, announced that the resignation of Dr. D. D. Donovan, Superintendant Medical Officer of Health, had been received with regret. For upwards of forty years he had served the city with distinguished ability, and at the end of that period he had generously stood aside to facilitate the organisation of the public health service of the city. His exertions during his period of office drove typhus fever from their midst, and the city was much indebted to him for its present satisfactory condition of public health.

It was proposed that the position of Superintendent Medical Officer of Health be combined with that of Tuberculosis Officer. The person appointed will be required to devote his whole time to the service of the city, to supervise public health work, such as child welfare, school medical inspection, etc., subject to the sanction of the Minister of Local Government. The salary will be £800 per year, rising by annual increments to £1,000 per annum.

In accordance with the Local Authorities (Officers and Employés) Act, 1926, the vacancy has been notified to the local Appointing Commissioners, and they have been asked to recommend a suitable person for appointment to the position.

FIREMAN'S BRAVERY RECOGNISED.

The Commissioners presented the Royal Humane Society's certificate to Fireman O'Leary, who rescued a woman who had fallen into the River Lee at Sullivan's quay on the 13th May.

The Commissioner said that he had great pleasure in presenting the certificate. He congratulated the recipient on his gallant conduct, which was a credit to himself and to the force of which he was a member.

THE FAROE ISLANDS.

DEMAND FOR INDEPENDENCE.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.
FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.
COPENHAGEN, Friday.

Independence is again being claimed for the Faroe Islands. The Danish Government, however, maintains that the islands are unable successfully to govern themselves. The Lagtinget, the local administration body in the Faroe Islands, has now protested against the Danish Government's attitude concerning the interior affairs of the islands without consulting them.

DISSENSION AMONG COMMUNISTS.

OPEN STRUGGLE PROBABLE IN NEAR FUTURE.

RIGA, Friday.

The Communist Party in Russia is stated to be ever more openly expressing concern at the persistence of the Opposition parties. Uglanov, speaking about the Communist Party's organisation, declared that an open struggle within the party was probable in the near future, as the illegal activities of the Oppositionists were always increasing.

According to Uglanov, the Opposition chiefly consisted of followers of Trotsky, who had come to life again, politically speaking. He, therefore, urged the Communist Party to concentrate its attention on this development of Trotsky's supporters, who were now copying their leader's earlier methods.

Refuting the Oppositionist reproaches of inactivity enforced upon the members through lack of freedom to express their opinions and to participate in the discussion of the Communist Party, Uglanov said that in a State party, consisting of a million members, it is impossible always to reveal details of the most important decisions of the Central Committee.—(Reuter.)

RUSSIAN WORKS OF ART FOR ENGLAND.

NEGOTIATIONS WITH SOVIET GOVERNMENT.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.
FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.
RIGA, Friday.

According to the Soviet newspapers, there is some speculation regarding the mysterious arrival in Leningrad on an "English dealer," with whom the Soviet Government is negotiating the sale of "superfluous" works of art. The "English dealer" has been authorised to inspect the entire stocks of the art museums in the palaces of Leningrad. The Soviet newspapers refer to the matter as an "export of works of art to England."

The Soviet Concessions Department has requested permission from the Commissar of Education to found a mixed company for the sale of Russian art treasures abroad.

PARIS BEGGAR LEAVES FORTUNE

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.
FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.
PARIS, Friday.

The death of one of the familiar characters of Paris, an old woman, who for many years has begged small sums from passers-by on the Grand Boulevards, has revealed that she had amassed by her mendicancy nearly two million francs. The money has been found in the mattress of the bed in which she died, in a miserable tenement near the Place de la Republique. Two cousins in poor circumstances become heirs to what, in France, is still regarded as a large fortune.

MAYORS AND M. POINCARE.

PARIS, Friday.

One hundred and sixty Mayors of France, meeting in Paris to consider the Government's decrees, in pursuance of which a number of Sub-Prefectures and local tribunals are to be abolished in the provinces, decided that a deputation should wait on M. Poincaré. M. Poincaré, however, declined to receive the deputation as representing an association not legally constituted. He was ready, however, to confer with the Mayors individually.—(Reuter.)

It is reported in well-informed circles that the marriage between Princess Astrid of Sweden and the Crown Prince of Belgium will take place in Brussels in November.

SOLDIERS INJURED BY MOTOR CAR.

AMSTERDAM, Friday.

The Telgraaf's Nymegen correspondent reports that a private motor car at 10 o'clock yesterday evening suddenly dashed into a group of marching soldiers, seriously injuring four and slightly injuring five.—(Reuter.)

TALE OF A PIG.

Mr. Norman Angell, the author of "The Great Illusion," who sailed from Liverpool yesterday in the White Star liner Megantic, said that he had taken to pig farming and had acquired Northey, one of the small island off the Essex coast. He claimed that he was breeding amphibious pigs, and said that one old sow with a litter of twelve pigs, being stranded on a sandbank, swam back to the farm, nearly a quarter of a mile, with her litter following behind.

PARLIAMENTARY CANDIDATES.

Major H. A. Proctor has been selected as the Conservative candidate for the Stratford Division of West Ham, which is at present represented in the House of Commons by a Socialist, Mr. T. E. Groves.

Brentford and Chiswick Labour Party have chosen Dr. Stella Churchill to oppose Colonel Grant Morden at the next election. Dr. Churchill recently resigned the Labour candidature for North Hackney, owing to the local Labour organisation's Communist tendencies.

NURSE'S LEGAL COSTS.

THE GUARDIANS AND PAYMENT.

At Dungannon Board of Guardians, Mr. W. J. M'Minn moved that, subject to the approval of the Northern Ministry of Home Affairs, the Guardians pay out of the rates the taxed costs of Nurse Elizabeth Walsh in defending the two High Court actions brought against her by infirmary nurses and wardsmaids, on the grounds that these actions were brought on account of her answers to questions on hospital management put to her by a committee of the Board, and that these questions and answers were privileged.

Colonel Howard considered that she was a successful litigant, and the only point was whether the Guardians could legally sanction the payment.

Mr. Atkinson said that Nurse Walsh gave her answers in good faith to the committee. It would be ridiculous to think that a nurse who stood over her statements, and proved them correct, should be asked to pay her costs of litigation. It would take two years' salary to pay it.

The Chairman (Mr. J. R. Erskine, J.P.) said that it would be better to ask the Ministry if the Guardians had power to pay.

The Clerk—Will you pay my costs in connection with the sworn inquiry?

Mr. Loughran—If we pay one set of costs we will have to pay them all.

It was decided to request the Ministry to sanction the payment.

Colonel Howard said that the Guardians had been criticised as to the big bill of costs in connection with the recent sworn inquiry.

The Clerk explained that the bill was for two years' work, and, in the criticism, there was no mention made of Clogher, where £800 of taxed costs were passed.

NURSE'S MEDICAL CERTIFICATE.

The Guardians considered the medical certificate forwarded by the assistant infirmary nurse, stating that she was suffering from bronchial catarrh, and would not be able to resume duty for three weeks.

Colonel Howard, J.P., said that it was an attempt to prolong the nurse's holiday. Several nurses at the end of their leave had sent in medical certificates that they were unable to resume duty.

The Chairman—Several nurses going on leave have sent in medical certificates and thereby got extra leave.

It was decided to ask the nurse to return immediately.

UNEMPLOYMENT EVIL.

FREE STATE GOVERNMENT'S PATCH-WORK.

NAVAN, Thursday.

Speaking at a public meeting in Navan, on Wednesday night, under the auspices of the Navan Labour Club, Mr. Denis Cullen, Vice-President of the Trades Union Congress, said that the biggest problem facing the country was the unemployment problem, and, giving even the fullest credit to the Government for what had been done, it was patchwork. The Minister responsible for dealing with unemployment had said that the solution of the problem was not a function of the Government, and when the Government did attempt to provide some employment, as on the Shannon scheme, that same Minister tried to defend the miserable wage of 32s. a week.

The Shannon scheme had the support of the Labour Party, because they saw in it a big constructive scheme, which, if well handled, could be of great worth to the country. If they examined the policies of the Republican Party or the new National Party, they would see that these people were content to keep away from economic or social issues. They were trying to revive issues that should be regarded as dead. It was only the Labour Party that faced the economic problems in a way that would lead to their solution.

Mr. A. Heron, Political Secretary of the Labour Party, in the course of a vigorous address, charged both Republican parties and the Government with responsibility for the fact that the country was partitioned. How were they going to bring about one Government for the whole country? he asked. Social conditions were better in the six counties than in the Free State, and they would never get the workers of the six counties to act for the abolition of the Northern State until the conditions here were made at least as well as they were there. In the Labour movement they had solved their boundary, and the Labour Party in the North was about to be affiliated with the Labour Party here. They had united the Labour movement in Ireland, and that was a step towards a united Ireland. (Hear, hear.)

HISTORICAL BUTTONS.

EFFORT TO TRACE VANISHED COLLECTIONS.

Mr. G. F. Barwick, general editor of the Directory of the Special Sources of Information in Great Britain and Ireland for the assistance of research workers and others, in his report to the conference of the Association of Special Libraries and Information Bureaux, which opened at Oxford last evening, said that one of the main objects of the directory was to ascertain where collections of all sorts of articles were located and to register them.

Many years ago he heard of a great historical collection of buttons, at Manchester, he thought, and he would like to know where it was now. Somewhere, too, there was a collection of violins stored in cases, and seldom, or never, touched. They would be glad to know whether it was in the United Kingdom.

He declared that newspapers were one of the readiest and simplest means of getting information, and they were always ready to help an inquirer. Willingness to help he had found everywhere. The only exceptions were certain business firms, who, he feared, thought that the Association wanted to know too much.

END OF THE WORLD IN SIGHT.

AN ADMIRAL'S CONVICTION.

Admiral Sir Harry Stileman is one of the believers in the imminence of the end of the world. Explaining his reasons for the anticipation to a meeting of Bible students at Westminster yesterday afternoon, he said:—It seems that the devil is getting more active on this earth. He is bringing his forces to the front and is showing them more openly than he has ever done in the past. This is to me a sign that the last days are coming, and that the devil knows it."

MOTOR RACES CRITICISED.

DECISION OF A GERMAN FIRM.

COLOGNE (By Mail).

On the ground that they not only serve no good purpose, but are actually detrimental to the best interests of the motor industry, both from the manufacturers' and the national points of view, the makers of the Opal cars have decided to abandon motor racing in trade competitions.

In making this announcement the firm claims that motor racing has outlived its usefulness, and that what is wanted nowadays is less speed and more reliability. It is much more meritorious in a car, they urge, to be able to cover from 500 to 600 kilometres in a day than to compass a given distance in one-fifth of a second less time than another car.

When the trade as a whole protested against the excessive attention being given to road racing in Germany, the German automobile clubs threatened to promote races exclusively for foreign cars if the German trade support were withheld. The public who attend these races only do so for the excitement. This year, the firm recalls, there have been so many fatal accidents in races, particularly in the "Avus" race, that the next meeting will attract many more spectators in the hope that more "thrills" will be forthcoming.

Motor racing is a pure luxury, while touring, business and commercial cars are a necessity. Other German motor car manufacturers are expected to follow this lead, which deals a big blow at German road racing.—(Reuter.)

AMERICAN TYRE PRICES "CUT."

NEW YORK, Friday.

The Firestone Rubber Company have "cut" the prices of their tyres to motor car manufacturers by 7½ to 10 per cent. Other companies are expected to make similar reductions.

U.S. MARKETS.

STOCKS STRONG AT THE CLOSE.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAMS.)
NEW YORK, Friday.

Stocks at the opening ruled firm. The New York Federal Reserve Bank rate, remaining unchanged, allayed fears of a stiffening in call money rates, and pools experienced little difficulty in attracting a professional following in selected issues, but public support was apathetic and trading comparatively dull. Rails were well supported owing to the strength of August earnings, but the early activity and firmness of the Vansweringen issues diminished at the noon hour, when New York Central, Atchison Common, Southern Atlantic Coast Line, and Delaware and Hudson advanced briskly. Covering of timid shorts enhanced several specialities, but Oils became sluggish following a cut in Mangolia Crude Oil. Fossibilities of stock dividends by corporations with large surpluses created an eager demand for high-priced shares in the last hour, and the market closed strong. Government Bonds irregular; Railroad Bonds irregular. The day's sales totalled 1,400,000 shares.

Money on call closed easy at 5 p.c. bid and 5¼ p.c. asked; all business was transacted at 5 p.c. Sterling exchange irregular. Silver ⅞c. lower at 59⅛.

THE NEW PARTY.

PROMOTERS STATE ITS NEEDS.

Last night a meeting was held at Jury's Hotel, Dublin, of the Provisional Organising Committee of the new Irish Party. Mr. Thomas O'Donnell presided. The meeting was private, but a statement was subsequently issued to the Press.

Mr. O'Donnell declared that, although he had always been an optimist as to the nature and amount of the support which the electorate would give to the new Party, he was amazed at the nature of the reports which had been reaching him from all over the country. The Waterford meeting had been a tremendous success and its echoes had been resounding since far and wide throughout the South of Ireland. The first great need now was for men and money for the necessary organisation. The second great need was for speed in bringing a provisional organisation into being in every constituency, for the time was very short, in any case, and there was no guarantee that a general election might not be sprung upon them much sooner than the country expected. The new Party would conduct its campaign on clean, decent, constitutional lines.

Captain Redmond, T.D., urged the need of immediate organisation in view of the widespread cordiality of the welcome accorded to the new Party. He said that he was proud to have been a member of the old Irish Parliamentary Party, which was still held in loyal and affectionate remembrance, but that Party could not appropriately have been revived in Ireland to-day. The new Party, however, would draw its inspiration from the fountain-head of traditional Irish nationalism from which the old Party derived its origin and effectiveness. There was no desire to hark back on old political disputes. There was urgent need to deal with present problems and to cure present evils, to avert present and growing hardships. The new Party would apply no tests drawn from past controversies. All were welcome who desired honestly to serve Ireland. Its origin and its authority would rest with the conference to be summoned on national and democratic lines, and it would offer the broadest possible platform of Irish nationalism on which all good citizens could meet and work for the common good, without regard to sectional or religious distinctions and untrammelled by the control of any other organisations, whether of home or foreign origin. Success was assured, provided that the necessary organisation was pressed forward.

Captain Henry Harrison laid stress on the possibility of a surprise general election and upon the need of immediate hard work to establish at least a provisional machinery of organisation. The economic policy of the Government had been a failure. It was, in fact, more accurate to say that it had failed to produce any coherent and consistent economic policy. That was why the rigours of the present spell of economic depression had been so bitterly and so universally felt. The Government, having successfully emerged from the revolutionary period, had proved themselves unequal to the problems of economic reconstruction and were striving to govern the people without the people's consent, without public discussion, and by arbitrary and undemocratic methods. The real task of Irish patriotism to-day was to enable the people of the Irish Free State to govern themselves in accordance with their own needs and wishes and to work for the ultimate re-union of their partitioned country.

The Chairman announced that offices had been secured in Middle Abbey street and would be opened shortly. The business subsequently transacted related to organisation.

UNITED IRISHWOMEN.

PROPOSED INDUSTRIAL EXHIBITION.

At a meeting of the County Wexford Advisory Committee of the United Irishwomen in Enniscorthy, Mrs. H. Lett, Ballymadorra, presiding, it was decided to ask the County Wexford United Agricultural Society to co-operate in having an industrial exhibition at next year's show in County Wexford, at which practical exhibitions would be given in cheese-making, dress making, basket work, spinning, weaving, preparing poultry for table, and other activities of the Society.

On the suggestion of Miss Slattery, Organising Secretary, it was decided to endeavour to establish a co-operative egg depôt in the county. It was pointed out that eggs, when sold at 1s. a dozen in Enniscorthy, fetched 2s. in Dublin. With co-operation the packing would be done by voluntary help, and the eggs sold direct to Dublin factors. The proposed depôt could work in conjunction with the Irish Poultry-Keepers' Society.

ROYAL IRISH ACADEMY OF MUSIC.

The first meeting of the Governors of the Royal Irish Academy of Music after the summer vacation was held in the Academy, 36 Westland row, Dublin, on Wednesday, Mr. James W. Esposito, Mus.D.T.C.D.; Dr. John F. Larchet, L.R.I.A.M.; Mr. J. E. Geoghegan, Mr. B. Warburton Rooke, Mus.B.T.C.D.

Apologies for non-attendance were received from Sir William Taylor, K.B.E., C.B., M.B., F.R.C.S.I., and Mr. George Prescott, A.M.I.E.E.

Reports on the work carried out by contractors during the vacation to the roofs and painting generally of the premises were submitted, and the accounts were referred to the Finance Committee.

A sub-committee appointed to arrange for the putting in force of certain improvements in the keeping of the Academy accounts, pupils' register, etc., furnished a report in reference thereto, and it was ordered that the wishes of the Government auditor should be complied with.

An application from the Musical Director of the Dublin Broadcasting Station, suggesting further performances (vocal and instrumental) during November and December, was referred to the Board of Studies.

Mr. Richard J. Mulcahy, T.D., Lissonfield House, Rathmines, and Mr. Edward C. McGee, Elphin street, Boyle, were unanimously elected members of the Academy.

It was decided that the annual general meeting of members to receive the report and statement of accounts for the year 1925 should be held on Wednesday, the 27th October, at 4.30 p.m.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

BORDER AMENITIES.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—Now that the Border question has been amicably arranged, and the two Irish Governments are no longer biting their thumbs at each other, would it not be possible for them to agree to a little reciprocity as regards sporting licences? I have the misfortune to live on the Border, and, as I wish to fish and shoot with friends on both sides of it, I find myself obliged to pay (a) for shooting, Irish Free State licence £2, Northern Ireland ditto £5; (b) for fishing, Irish Free State salmon licence £2, Northern Ireland ditto £1. Surely some arrangement could be made by which a man who took out the usual licences from the Government under which he lived would be permitted to shoot or fish beyond the Border without having to pay for a duplicate set?

The present system is as hard on the unfortunates who live on the Border as it would be to make them pay the full motor tax for driving a car on either side of it.—Yours, etc.,

"BORDERER."

Co. Donegal, September 23rd, 1926.

TOWN-PLANNING.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—In view of building activity in all districts, it is interesting to note that the London County Council, to save the outer circle of South London from overcrowding, has taken advantage of its rights under the Town-Planning Act, 1925, to schedule a belt of 11¼ square miles, from Putney to Blackheath. The L.C.C. can now determine in this great area (1) the building, or not, of factories; (2) whether open areas can be built over or shall remain open spaces; (3) how many houses shall be erected per acre.—Yours, etc.,

"SMARTEST MAN IN NEWRY."

OLD MAN'S CLAIM IN MOTOR ACCIDENT.

Stating that he was supposed to be 71, or over, John McKeown, of Monaghan street, Newry, who sought damages from Messrs. W. and G. Baird, Ltd., in respect of injuries which he alleged he received on the 11th February last, when he was knocked down by a motor car, owned by the defendants, told the Belfast Recorder yesterday that he had to be attended by a doctor regularly and was not the active man that he was before the accident.

"As a matter of fact," he declared, amid laughter, "I was told before Christmas I was the smartest man in Newry for my age." Now he was unable to carry the basket which he customarily used in the course of his business as a dealer.

Describing the accident the plaintiff said that he was crossing the street, making his way to the Mall, when he got a "bat" on the leg and was knocked down. The wheel of the motor car which had struck him stopped on his ankle. He heard no horn or warning.

Dr. McMahon stated that the plaintiff was badly bruised after the accident, and there was a swelling on his right hand which appeared to be permanent.

Constable John Melvin stated that the defendant twice sounded the horn of the car, and he gave him the signal to come on. McKeown, who was well across the street and out of danger, suddenly turned and walked back. After striking him the car pulled up in an instant.

In dismissing the case on the merits the Recorder said that everyone felt sorry for the old man, but they must not overlook the fact that he was himself to blame.

KILLED BY A FOOTBALL.

OLD MAN'S DEATH AT MANCHESTER.

How a football, which grazed his head, caused the death of an old man was described at Manchester yesterday, at the inquest on Thomas Cumstay (71), a cotton worker, of Miles Platting, Manchester. A verdict of accidental death was returned.

The evidence showed that when a football was kicked out of Hulme Hall recreation ground a passer-by picked it up and kicked it back. The ball grazed the old man, who staggered and fell. He died on the following day without recovering consciousness.

TRAVELLING BY AEROPLANE.

PARIS, Friday.

Just as the over-land route, via Marseilles and Paris has replaced the voyage round the Bay of Biscay for travellers to and from India, so the new air route will eventually replace the train. When the Indian mail boat docked at Marseilles this morning, nine British passengers hurried to Marignane Aerodrome, where they immediately left aboard two planes for Paris and London.—(Reuter.)

EGG INSPECTIONS BY POLICE.

WHAT WESTERN MERCHANTS WANT.

An official report has just been issued to the Press of a meeting of the West of Ireland Egg Merchants' Association, which was held at Claremorris recently. Mr. J. Moran, Tuam, presided, and members of the trade were present from Mayo, Galway, Leitrim and Roscommon.

Several shippers complained of their egg dealers' licences being withdrawn, and a deputation interviewed Mr. O'Donnell, Department egg inspector, who was in the town, and who promised to recommend the restoration of licences.

A resolution was passed requesting the Government to give power to the Civic Guard to inspect eggs offered for sale, and to take action against all persons found offering dirty, stained or bad eggs.

A NEW FILM.

VALENTINO IN "SON OF THE SHEIK."

To-morrow night "The Son of the Sheik," Rudolph Valentino's last picture, will begin its Irish run at the Coriuthian Cinema, Dublin. The film, as may be guessed, is a sequel to the screen version of Mrs. E. M. Hull's novel, "The Sheik," a highly romantic story of desert loves and hates. An affair of love adventure in a land of sand and oases, it may be said to run on well-worn lines. There is a gallant and handsome Sheik, there is the lonely desert, and, lastly, there is a helpless, but prepossessing, young female in the person of Yasmin, a dancing girl.

From these ingredients the producer has woven a high-powered romance. Valentino is disclosed as Ahmed, the gallant and handsome; Vilma Banky is the exotic dancer. It is not a remarkable film in any sense of the word, and at the end one is left still wondering how much Rudolph Valentino has contributed to the occasional artistry of the screen. One cannot help feeling that the success of this, his last, picture is due not so much to the efforts of the actors, individually or collectively, as to the producer's efficient handling of his material.

DUBLIN THEATRES AND CINEMAS.

NEXT WEEK'S PROGRAMMES.

"Katja the Dancer," will be presented by the George Edwardes' Company at the Gaiety Theatre. On a visit to Dublin a year ago, it proved a great success; and, no doubt, it will be equally popular on the occasion. Miss Edith Hill will play the part of Katja, Miss Billie Hill Patricia, Billie Leonard Leander, and Roy Russell the Prince. There will be matinées on Wednesday and Saturday at 2.30.

Jack Taylor's version of "Wild Oats" will occupy the stage at the Theatre Royal. There is a good deal of the comedy element in the revue, and the principal artists are Jack Hodges, Billy Rowlands, James Ross, Ivy Wright and Henry Weste.

"No Waiting" is the title of the revue at the Olympia Theatre. It is written by Grahame Watson, and produced by Harry Gordon. The cast includes Frank Hull, Tom Rees, Elsie Hulland, Ruby Stewart, and the Graham Watson Girls.

"The Two Shepherds," a comedy in two acts, by G. Martinez Sierra, will be presented at the Abbey Theatre. It reduced several times previously at the Abbey Theatre the play always has been well received. Fand O'Grady's comedy, "Apartments," will also be staged.

"The Shock Punch" will be the principal picture at La Scala Theatre. It is from the story by Mr. John Monk Saunders.

"The Feminine Lon Chaney," in which Mary Philbin takes the leading part, will be shown at the Carlton Cinema.

Seated by his father on a lorry, a Lewes boy, consuming chocolates, dropped one. Stooping to recover it, he overbalanced, and fell and was killed by the back wheel of the vehicle.

PUBLIC LIBRARIES.

INTER-COMMUNICATION PLAN IN THE NORTH.

The question of co-operation between the libraries of Northern Ireland was discussed at a meeting of the Libraries, Museums, and Art Committee in the Belfast City Hall yesterday.

The Town Clerk informed the Committee of the correspondence which had taken place on the subject with the trustees of the Carnegie Fund, the proposal being one by which the stock of books at the Belfast public libraries, the libraries under the jurisdiction of county authorities, and the library at Queen's University might be available for circulation throughout the entire area of the Northern State.

The Chief Librarian of Belfast, who had been in communication with the other librarians, reported that up till the present he had received three replies, and that these were in favour of the inter-communication idea.

The Committee declared itself in favour of the proposal, and the hope was expressed that the county authorities would take the matter into consideration, with a view to such arrangements being effected as would enable the scheme to be established on a satisfactory basis.

The question of establishing branch libraries in the principal public elementary schools of the city also had attention, and the hope was expressed that the proposal would materialise, and that as a result of it books suitable for school children would be within their reach.

NORTHERN LINEN TRADE.

PROSPECTS SAID TO BE BRIGHTER.

The Right Hon. J. Milne Barbour, P.L., M.P., writing in the Ulster Section of the Chamber of Commerce Journal (London), states:—

"The value of Northern Ireland linen exports last year was estimated at about £18,000,000. The home market absorbs a considerable part of the linen produced, but, as indicated above, the United States forms the greatest export market. The Dominions and Colonies have a high rate of consumption of linen per head of population, while Central and South America are also important and growing markets. It is particularly gratifying to observe the steady increase which is taking place in Dominion trade. Australia's imports are growing annually, as also are those of Canada and New Zealand.

"The adverse trade conditions in recent years have stimulated research and investigation into possible improvements in processes and methods, not only of manufacture, but of marketing and salesmanship. Northern Ireland, in spite of all the trading difficulties of the period, continues to maintain its position as the premier linen manufacturing centre of the world.

"At the present time there is a somewhat more optimistic spirit in the trade. Manufacturers are beginning to feel that they are past the trough of the wave, and prospects appear brighter than they have been for some time."

FOOT-AND-MOUTH DISEASE.

THE OUTBREAK NEAR LONDON.

In connection with an outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease, confirmed on 22nd instant, at New Southgate, Middlesex, which has involved the imposition of restrictions on the movement of animals over a wide area, including the City and County of London, and portions of the Counties of Essex, Hertford, Middlesex and Surrey, the British Department of Agriculture are officially informed that fat stock from Ireland may be moved into this area to places not two miles from the place of the outbreak on the authority of a licence, granted by the local authority for the district concerned.

In addition to the County and City of London, the following cities and boroughs are situated in the infected area:—The City of St. Alban's, the county boroughs of East Ham and West Ham, the boroughs of Hertford, Watford, Acton, Ealing, Hornsey and Richmond.

DUBLIN DISTRICT COURT

ALLEGED EMBEZZLEMENT.

MANAGER AND CASHIER SENT FOR TRIAL.

(BEFORE MR. COLLINS.)

William James Burns (25), Claude road, Drumcondra, and Walter William Finn (39), Haddington terrace, Kingstown, formerly cashier and manager, respectively, of Kodak, Ltd., Grafton street, Dublin, were returned for trial on the charges of alleged conspiracy and the embezzlement of sums of money belonging to the firm, and also money belonging to fellow-employés. Burns was also charged with the alleged falsification of the accounts of the firm.

Mr Clarke, solicitor (State Solicitor's Department), prosecuting, said that mention had been made at the previous hearing of a cheque for £40 13s. 3d., sent by Mr. Erskine Mayne, of Belfast, to Messrs. Kodak in payment for goods supplied. That cheque was not passed through the books of the company, but was used to replace an equal amount of cash that had been taken from the till. This cheque, he said, was the subject of a fresh charge.

Mr. Edgar Harwood, the company's auditor, from London, said that the cash takings on December 28th were £66 19s. 10d. In addition to the cash, there were four cheques for £52 7s. 3d., making altogether £119 7s. 1d. On that date £119 7s. 1d. was lodged to the credit of Messrs. Kodak in the Provincial Bank, the lodgment docket being in the handwriting of Burns. There was no record in the books of Mr Mayne's cheque having been received. The lodgment consisted of £26 6s. 7d. in cash and £93 0s. 6d., the amount of five cheques, including Mr. Mayne's.

Cross-examined by Mr. Bradley (who appeared for Burns), witness agreed that the cheque for £40 13s. 3d. had gone to the credit of Kodak.

Mr. Clarke—But it was put in to make up the deficiency of the cash? Yes.

Witness produced a receipt for £2 2s., signed "W. W. Finn," in payment by Messrs. Maxwell Lemon, Nassau street, to Kodak for twenty-eight empty cases supplied. The £2 2s. was not accounted for in the books of the company.

Mr. Maxwell Lemon stated in evidence that on March 30th last he paid £2 2s. to Mr Finn and got a receipt. Finn told him he left the money on Burns's desk. After Finn's suspension he got an account from Messrs. Kodak, and on meeting Mr. Finn the latter said that he distinctly remembered witness paying the account.

Inspector O'Connell said that, when charged, Finn said: "I admit having received the £2 2s., but I thought I put it into the cash desk."

Mr. Clarke submitted that there was sufficient evidence on which to send the cases forward for trial.

Mr. Collins—I think that there is.

Mr. Taylor (who represented Finn), applying for bail, said that his client wanted to make every effort to meet the charges.

Mr. Bradley, also applying for bail, said that the Circuit Court would not sit until November 16, and the new charge against his client was of a flimsy nature.

Mr. Collins—What: The taking of £43 out of your employer's till?

Mr. Bradley—That is not the charge.

Inspector O'Connell opposed bail, and the defendants were returned for trial in custody.

RAID ON RAILWAY CLOAKROOM.

THREE YOUTHS REMANDED IN CUSTODY.

(BEFORE MR. LITTLE.)

Francis McCluskey (16), Peter King, alias Moran (19), and George Walker, alias Clarke (19), were charged on remand by Detective-Sergeant Crimmins and Guard Bonner with having, on the night of September 7th last, broken into the cloakroom of the Great Southern Railways Company at Amiens street Station, Dublin, and with having stolen three bicycles valued at about £30.

They were also charged with damaging the cloakroom and the property it contained to the amount of about £24 17s. 6d.

A number of employés of the railway company having given evidence, the accused youths were again remanded in custody till Wednesday next.

Result of Competition No. 81.

No competitor gave all eight answers correctly. Five, however, the with five correct each; of these two are already prizewinners, Mr. H. E. O'Dowd, Howth, and Mr. J. F. Lombard, Chatham. Therefore, we award the prize, giving 1/- each to the following three:—Mr. H. Johnson, Glenomly, Galway; Mrs. C. A. Jeffares, Ballykelly, Drinagh, Wexford; and Mr. R. McElhinny, Carrigoona terrace, Susanville road, Drumcondra, Co. Dublin.

(1) Answer—The 9 of Clubs. While the blind opening of a worthless three-card suit is one of the most undesirable leads that can be made, it frequently happens, as is the case here, that any alternative lead would be equally undesirable, if not more so. The undesirability of a three-card opening is due to the fact that a suit of three or less cards is necessarily a remainder of a longer holding of the same suit in another hand, with the chances two to one in favour of its being benefiting declarer rather than partner. Having thus criticised this selection, it is to be defended on the ground that it is probably the least of the possible evils. To lead from an ace, or to lead from Q, 10, 2, is even more apt to be expensive.

(2) Answer—The 2 of Clubs. A four-card holding is not necessarily a remainder, and can, therefore, be opened with greater confidence than a three-card holding, although as weak or weaker in top strength. Note that the lead of the 2 here and of the 9 in No. 1 are both number showing leads.

(3) Answer—The 9 of Clubs. Holding four or more trumps, the rule is to open the longest side suit in the effort to force "Y's" declaring hand. Where the only suit of greater length than three cards is the trump holding itself, the lead must be determined by the relative desirability or undesirability of the alternative leads in the hand.

(4) Answer—The 4 of Hearts. While, as a rule, with two suits of equal length, the weaker should be opened against a no-trumper in order to conserve the stronger for re-entry to establish the long cards of the weaker suit, this rule is applicable only if the weaker suit has a reasonable chance of being established. Were the spades in this hand stronger or longer, they might be opened, but, as it is, there is no option but to open hearts.

(5) Answer—The Queen or 6 of Hearts. The choice of suit is determined by the rule stated above. The weaker suit is opened to conserve the stronger suit for re-entry. The card to lead from a suit of but four cards, Q, J, 9, 6, is an open question. Some recommend the Queen, and others the low card, but, while I consider it optional, I much prefer the Queen. From five or more cards authorities agree that the Queen is the correct lead.

(6) Answer—The King of Hearts, followed by the Knave of Clubs, unless partner, by the play of an unnecessarily high card, calls for a continuation of the Hearts. Short suits of less strength than A, K, J, or A, K, Q, should not as a rule be opened as a preliminary to opening long suit. The object of opening the short suit is NOT "to get a look at the dummy"—the usual alibi when a player is criticised for the unjustifiable opening of a short A, K, X suit—but to show partner the location of re-entries for the long suit, if establishable, and of two of the three sure tricks, in case the long suit subsequently be is not establishable and saving game becomes a matter of top cards alone.

(7) Answer—The King of Diamonds. While the consensus of opinion is that the King of Diamonds is the correct lead, a trump opening could be supported by stronger arguments. "Z's" showing of a two-suiter and "Y's" leave-in of the Hearts makes it very probable that "Y" holds fewer spades than hearts, and that declarer will endeavour to clear his spades by ruffing one or more rounds in dummy. With Spade strength the leader might well attempt to block this play by opening trumps.

(8) Answer—The 10 of Diamonds. The reasoning given under No. 1 justifies the otherwise inexcusable opening of a worthless three-card suit. The Ace of Clubs is a possible alternative, because its lead would not, as in the case of the lead of the 9 of Hearts in No. 3, give up all command of the suit. The Diamond lead is, however, distinctly preferable.

FINANCIAL NEWS AND NOTES.

TONE AND COMMENT.

DUBLIN DULL.

DISTILLERS SLUMP.

The week-end market—the last dealing day for the present settlement—was exceedingly limited, with not enough business to really test prices, and practically an absence of feature, though a few points of interest were traceable, judging by the trend of one or two markets. There was a steady demand for Government National and other loans. British Funds were idle and practically unchanged. Banks weakened slightly at a few points. The weakness in Distillers (Scotch) carried the price a good deal lower than last marking here. Guinness opened at a further slight recovery, but towards the close weakened, and closed easier. Dundalk and Newry Steam Shares came on offer. Rails were practically idle, with only a small transaction in Great Southern Ord. Stock, which shows a better tendency. Among Financial Trusts, Parent Def. were 7½d. lower at 30s. 4½d., with 30s. 3d. the best unofficial bid at the close. The Pref. also eased. Among Drapery Shares, Pim Brothers Ord. were in demand and realised a higher price. Tobaccos had again an easy trend. Textiles were weaker, with Cottons a dull spot. Chartered eased slightly.

LONDON QUIET.

NO DECIDED TENDENCY.

Yesterday being the last day of the account, business in the London Stock Markets was restricted in the majority of sections, but despite the paucity of business a generally steady tone was maintained, and slightly firmer values were registered in a few directions. Rubbers remained a firm market, while Tins, despite a further decline in the quotation for the metal, were steady to firm. Little of interest transpired in gilt-edged securities, where business was again on the small side. Foreign Government Stocks also experienced a quiet session, but here and there a slightly easier tendency was noticeable. A distinctly easier tone prevailed in Home Rails, the absence of results from the Coal Conference keeping business extremely small and tending to send prices lower. Apart from Cordoba Centrals and Entre Rios, which were marked to higher levels, Colonial and Foreign Rails were easier. Oils were dull, but Mines maintained a steady appearance. Industrials were quiet and generally steady in tendency. Textiles showed a few small irregular movements, and Tobaccos also eased in places.

NEW YORK TYRE PRICES CUT.

The Firestone Tyre and Rubber Company has announced a downward adjustment of prices by 5 per cent. on deliveries to manufacturers on original equipment.

TRANSVAAL PLATINUM CLOSING DOWN.

The Transvaal Platinum Company, Ltd., announces that early development estimates have not been confirmed, and the consulting engineer recommends that milling operations be suspended. According to the cablegram, the reduction plant milled 632 tons during the month of August. The crude platinum produced is estimated to contain 98 oz. platinum and allied metals. In view of the disappointing values disclosed by recent development and the fact that milling results have not in general confirmed estimated development values, the consulting engineer, as stated above, recommends suspension of milling operations. The cable adds that funds are practically exhausted, and that the board has decided to close down the plant immediately. Last year the shares were "boomed" to 84s., and some 5s. shares were issued at £3 prem. and others at £2 12s. 6d.

GENERAL ACCIDENT, FIRE AND LIFE ASSURANCE.

Mr. Stanley Noris-Miller, M.C., J.P., M.A., the deputy general manager, has been appointed a director on the Head Office Board of the Corporation.

THE LARAS (SUMATRA) RUBBER ESTATES.

There will be an issue next week of two million 2s. shares in the Laras (Sumatra) Rubber Estates Company, as well as £625,000 7 per Cent. First Mortgage Convertible Debentures of £100. It is intended to extend the operations of the company by the acquisition of three fully-equipped estates—viz., the Kerasaan and Bah Bajoe Estates, which adjoin each other and form a compact block, and are situated in the district of Siantar, East Coast of Sumatra, about ten miles from the Bah Lias Railway Station. Kerasaan is held on a 75 years lease from 1900, and Bah Bajoe on a 66 years' lease from 1910, the annual rental in each case being about 8d. per acre; and the Aer Temam Estate, situate in the district Moesi Oeloe, in the Residency of Palembang, Sumatra, which is held on a 75 years' lease from 1917 at an annual rental of about 11½d. per acre. The present issue of shares and Debentures is being made to provide funds for the purchase and working of these estates and the expenses incidental thereto. Kerasaan and Bah Bajoe Estates were visited in July, 1926, and Aer Temam in the early part of August, 1926, by Mr. J. K. Swaine, the experienced and well-known visiting agent. The statements in the prospectus relating to these estates are based on his reports. Mr. Swaine reports all three are first-rate properties, and, together, will make one of the finest propositions in the East.

Sir J. L. Hulett and Sons, Ltd., announces its intention to redeem the whole of the 5 per Cent. First Mortgage Debentures at the expiration of six months' notice from September 25, 1926. The amount of the Debentures outstanding is £288,400. Under the terms of issue, the amount authorised was £300,000, redeemable at par on September 29, 1939, or at 105 per cent. on notice on or after September, 1919.

THE MERCHANTS' TRUST, LTD.

As the result of a recent decision of the Board of the Merchants' Trust, Limited, stockholders are now in receipt of a circular offering them a pro rata participatoin in a new issue of 25,000 shares of £10 each at £12 5s. per share. The terms are as nearly as possible one new share for every £55 of either Pref. or Ord. Stock held, fractions being disregarded. The instalments are spread over a period running up to the middle of January next, the shares to carry interest at 6 per cent. per annum of the amounts paid up. The Ord. capital in issue has stood at £687,500 for many years, and a steadily progressive net profit has permitted of corresponding increases in the dividend. In 1922 9 per cent. was paid, followed by 9½, 10, and 11 per cent., respectively, in the three following years; while for the year to January 31, 1926, the record net revenue of £81,000 made 12 per cent. possible. The stock is rarely on the market, being strongly held for investment purposes.

LONDON MOVEMENTS.

Gilt-edged securities experienced another extremely quiet session. Conversion Loan 3½ p.c. were finally marked at an advance of ⅛ to 74, but among War Loans the 4½ p.c. at 95 were ⅛ down. Irish Land 2¾ p.c. were content to repeat their lower level of the previous day.

The volume of business passing in Foreign Government Stocks was also quiet, but price movements were few and far between, though, where they occurred, lower levels were registered. French Loans were steady and unchanged, while among Reconstruction Loans the only movement was that of a decline of ½ in Greek Sevens to 92. Peruvian Corporations were generally maintained, but the Pref. were finally ½ down at 49½. Brazilians 5 p.c. Funding, 1914, on the other hand, eased to 84, or a full point below Thursday's level.

RAILS LOWER.

The absence of any results from the coal conference exercised a depressing influence among Home Rails. Midland Ord. were finally quoted a point lower on the day at 73, while North-Eastern 5 p.c. Pref. Ord. at 52 and the Def. Ord. at 17¾ were ½ and ¼ lower respectively. Metropolitan Consols shed ½ to 61½.

Business continued small in Colonial and Foreign Rails, while an irregular tendency prevailed. Cordoba Central Ord. were a firmer market at 36½, or ½ firmer on the day, while the 2nd Pref. gained a similar amount to 58½. Entre Rios Ord. were content to repeat their overnight level, but the 6 p.c. Cum. Pref. at 90 were a full point to the good. Buenos Ayres Great Southern, on the other hand, dropped a point to 101, while the Pacific at 89 were also a full point down. Central Argentine lost ½ to 76½.

RUBBER SHARES FIRM.

There was no noticeable expansion in the volume of business passing in the Rubber share market yesterday, but the firmer tone manifest for the past two days continued in evidence, and some further appreciable improvements were registered. Here and there a reactionary tendency was evident. Rather unsettled conditions ruled in the commodity market, and the quotations for the raw material displayed an easier tendency at one time. Spot and October were quoted at 1s. 9¼d. per lb. at the outset, and after easing to 1s. 9⅛d. were finally the same as at the opening. November fetched 1s. 9⅝d. to 1s. 9½d., and December realised 1s. 9⅞d. to 1s. 9⅝d. per lb. January opened at 1s. 10d., but, after hardening to 1s. 10¼d., was finally no better than 1s. 9⅞d. In the share market Allied Sumatra finished 1s. firmer at 24s. 6d., while Asahan were a similar amount to the good at 25s. Bah Lias at 51s. 3d. c.d. registered an improvement of 1s 3d., and Bernam Perak at 50s. were also 1s. 3d. to the good. Bukit Rajah were a firm spot, and an improvement of 1s. 10½d. was recorded to 46s. 10½d. Glenbervie jumped to 60s., or 2s. 6d. higher, and Highlands at 62s. c.d. were 2s. up. Java Amalgamated at 52s. 6d. were 1s. 10½d. to the good. Kuala Lumpar was 2s. 6d. to the good. Kuala Muda put on a further 1s. 3d., while Kapar at 70s. and Labu at 64s. 4½d. were also both 1s. 3d. better on the day's business. Linggi finished with an advance of 1s. 7½d., and Ledbury at 66s. 10½d. were 1s. 10½d. up. Manchester N.B. gained 2s. to 45s. c.d., and Sekong and Sedenak were 1s. 10½d. and 1s. 3d. higher respectively. Sendayan also finished 1s. 3d. better, while Tebrau at 70s. were 2s. 6d. firmer. Tali Ayer, Tandjong, Tandjong Malim, and Toerangie and United Sua Betong were all 1s. 3d. better on the day's business, while Yam Seng gained 1½d. to 6s. 3d. The only decline of any importance was that of 3s. 1½d. in Sialang to 65s.

TEA SHARES SMALL.

Although the volume of business put through in the Tea Share market yesterday remained on a small scale, a distinctly brighter tendency was manifest, and quotations were marked forward in several directions. Here and there share values were a trifle lower, but, taken as a whole, price movements were decidedly in favour of holders. Amalgamated Estates closed 1/16 higher at 41 11/16, and Dimbula Valley at 78s. were 1s. 1½d. better. Jhanzie and Lanka were firm spots, and an improvement of 1s. was recorded in each. Pabbojan hardened the turn to 7 7/16, or ⅛ to the good. Brahmapootra, on the other hand, were finally ⅛ lower at 38½, while Consolidated Tea and Lands dropped back to 32 5/16, or ⅜ easier. Doom Dooma shed 4½d. on the day to 99s. 1½d., and Kanan Devan at 36⅛ were ⅛ lower.

OIL SHARES IDLE.

Quiet conditions prevailed in the Oil Share market yesterday. Very little public interest was observable, business being mainly professional, and consisting of evening-up of books prior to the carry-over. There was a tendency to hold off until option time, after which a few specialities were bid for. At the close price movements were generally of a slight and irregular character. Despite the improvement in business in Oil Shares on the previous day in New York, and the fact that international counters, such as Royal Dutch, Shells and Lagos, were quoted higher in that centre, an easier tendency developed in the leaders on this side. Shells lacked support, and moderate week-end realisations resulted in a shrinkage of 1/16, the shares closing at 4½. Royal Dutch made a firm start at 31⅞, but in the absence of buyers the price weakened gradually to 31½, which left them ¼ down on the day. Mexican Eagles became easier, business in the shares being of little importance, and shrinkages being marked in the Ord. at 19s. 1½d., in the 8 p.c. Part. Prefs. at 17s. 9d., and in the 7 p.c. 1st Prefs. at 16s. 10½d. A quiet business was transacted in British Controlled with offering in progress, more particularly in the Pref. shares. At the close the Common shares registered a shrinkage of 1½d. at 3s. 4½d., while the Preferred showed a loss of 4½d. at 5s. 9d. V.O.C. Holdings were a steady market, the Ord. at 3¼ and the Prefs. at 3 5/16. Lobitos displayed firmness, improving 1/16 to 7½. Caltex hardened to 1s. 9d., but Kern Rivers left off easier at 15s. 1½d.

INDUSTRIALS MARKING TIME.

In the absence of incentive, Industrial and Miscellaneous securities marked time yesterday. Drapery issues again attracted attention, trading being on a reasonably broad scale. Harrods were in request and finished higher at 50s. 6d., a large turnover being seen. The B and A issues continued a good market, but the Ords. were never better than 11s. 3d. Cook, Son and Co. looked a better market, but business was small; they finished firm at 18s. 9d. Foodstuffs were indifferent, A.B.C.'s enjoying most of the trading, but showing no change at 31s. Liptons were sold at 11s.; Lovell and Christmas rose 1/16 to 11 9/16. News shares again proved lively, but the close of the account led to some profit-taking, and Associated Defd. lost another 1/16 to 7½, but "Daily Mirrors" presented a firm front and finished buyers for choice at 7 5/16, a net gain of 1/16. "Sunday Pictorial" rose 1/16 to 4 1/16. Little of interest took place in the Tobacco department apart from Imperials, which proved an uncertain market and closed 9d. down at 114s. "Bats" held at 96s. and Carreras at 16 7/16, while Godfrey Phillips shed 1/16 to 5⅝. More activity is looked for in the new account. Textiles passed a quiet day, the older issues showing little change.

Among Artsilks, Courtaulds sagged, with trading on the small side. After touching 5½, they closed 1/16 down at 5 7/16, sellers being still in evidence. A further loss of 1/16 to 1 5/16 was seen in Snia Viscosa. There was no pressure to sell, but the weakness of the shares listed in Italy, which are not marketable here, was responsible for the adjustment of the quotation to a lower level. Listers remained under the shadow of a large selling order, and lost another 6d. to 22s. 6d. British Dyestuffs were an uncertain market. Cheap buyers were in the field, but on balance a loss of 4½d., reduced the price to 11s., which appeared to be buyers' limits, and they had a firmer tone at the close. The best of the Miscellaneous section was Nobels, which gained 3d. to 28s. 9d., with the Defd. equally in request, and 3d. up at 13s. 6d.; otherwise the tone was dull, Dunlops losing the turn to 28s. 3d., and Swedish Match "B" falling another 1/16 to 14½. Brunner Monds continued on offer from the north, losing 6d. to 35s. 9d., and closing weak; no change was seen in United Alkali at 30s. Oil Cakes rose 3d. to 27s. Further "bear" covering helped Watney Defd., the final quotation of 261½ leaving them 2 higher on balance; although most of the business done was around 258. Distillers were more active, but small sales depressed them 1/16 to 2½. Banking and Insurance descriptions were not seriously tested, and, apart from investment inquiry for Barclays "B" 55s., Midland one-pounders 72s. 6d., and National Provincial Fours, little real business was put through; the last-named rose 1/16 to 12⅞ and Union Discount falling that fraction to 8⅜. London Assurance recovered ⅛ to 11⅜. Among Land Shares, talk of a bonus helped Sudans, which were a good market throughout, finishing 1/16 up at 4⅞. Bays held at 5¾, and Duffs had brisk trading around 28s. Traction issues proved irregular, trading in Brazilians drying up, the Common showing no change at 124. Barcelonas also remained at 39½, but Sidros recovered to 13¾, and a rally in Mexican Trams lifted them ¾ to 16¾. Shipping Stocks enjoyed quiet inquiry on the freight outlook. Cunards were a good market at 19s. Withys held at 35s. More business was seen in United British Steamships, the few shares which came out being well taken at 18s., and on balance they gained 3d. at 18s. 3d. King Line rose 1/16 to 1¼. Cairns put on 3d. to 15s. 9d., and Court Line held at 30s. Steel and Coal issues remained steady without sufficient business to test quotations. Armstrongs and Vickers finished a few pence easier at 5s. 3d. and 9s. respectively.

LONDON MINING MARKET FAIRLY BUSY.

KAFFIRS VERY FIRM.

Members were busy yesterday arranging preliminaries for Monday's carry-over, and after the quietness of the preceding days it was hardly to be wondered at that business was by no means brisk. In the Mining market the open account was found to be somewhat larger than a fortnight previously, but no difficulties are expected to arise. The Kaffir department again presented a very firm front, and Central Mining, which were bought from Paris, were quite a feature, closing substantially higher. Anglo-American Corporation were firm, some quiet buying being induced by the further improvement in C.M.S. and Rand Selection, both of which were in good demand. Geduld and Government Mines, in the Far Eastern list, were well supported, and Generals were wanted on the advance in West Rand Consolidated. Sub-Nigel were in request on Cape account, and T.C.L. were also supported from that centre. S.A. Townships and some of the other Platinum issues were dullish on the disappointing news from the Transvaal Platinum, which is suspending operations. H.E. Proprietaries were again an active centre and rose sharply. In the Rhodesian department Rhodesian and General Asbestos stood out prominently, a growing demand at advancing prices being noticeable all day. Rhodesia Broken Hill, Wankie, and Bwana Mkubwa, among the Northern issues, were being nibbled at, but were finally unaltered. Chartered marked a further decline, but Tanganyika were strong, and Zambesia Exploring and Cam and Motor were steady. Among Diamonds, Jagersfontein and Premier Pref. improved, but there was some end account realising of Consolidated Diamond Shares and Options; both left off a shade easier. Tin had a hesitating appearance; the final price of £306 17s. 6d. showed a loss of 15s. on the day. Many shares left off lower, but the shrinkages were mainly due to professional operations in view of the settlement. Southern Perak and Renong, among Eastern descriptions, were in request and higher, the latter on the announcement of a final dividend of 22½ p.c., making 35 p.c. for the year. Rio Tinto were inactive and closed appreciably lower, and Messina became dull, while a couple of Canadians sought lower levels. Elsewhere San Francisco were being steadily absorbed, but Santa Gertrudis were dull and Burmas suffered a set-back. Closing prices:—

These figures would indicate an average rate of about £4 13s. per cent., or practically the same as last week. Money was in comfortable supply yesterday, with short loans usually obtainable at 4 per cent., although occasionally 4¼ per cent. was paid. Fixtures for a day or a week were renewed at 4 per cent. The discount market was quiet and without quotable change in rates. Fine three months' bills were still called 4 7/16 per cent., while second-hand Treasuries were offered at 4⅜-4 7/16.

There were no bullion movements at the Bank yesterday. Bar silver was weak owing to heavy China selling, both the spot and forward quotations falling 1/16d. to 27⅛d. and 27 3/16d., respectively. Some speculative purchases were reported at the lower level, but the market closed uncertain. The market price of gold remained at 84s. 11½d. per fine ounce.

The American exchange continued weak and closed ⅛ lower at 4.85 3/16. In the South American group Uruguayan dollars were better. There was not much activity in French francs, the closing rate for which (174¼) was just a shade lower than before, and there was a trifling improvement in the Belgian currency to 181¾. Spanish pesetas rallied a little, and to a slight extent Switzerland, Germany, Poland, Holland, Norway and Bulgaria moved against us. The currencies of Greece and Rumania were cheaper. In sympathy with silver, the Hong Kong rate fell sharply, finishing ⅞d. lower at 2s. 0⅜d., while the Shanghai quotation declined ½d. to 2s. 8d. Rupees were a little better at 1s. 5 15/16d., and the yen recovered to 2s. 0⅛d.

Inferior scoured merinos, however, showed slight irregularity and weakness.

ROYAL BANK OF IRELAND.

COAL STRIKE AND IRISH TRADE.

The meeting of the Royal Bank of Ireland was held in the bank's offices, Foster place, Dublin, yesterday—Major J. W. H. C. Cusack, D.L., Chairman, presiding.

THE LATE MR. BARRINGTON JELLETT.

Before the ordinary business of the meeting was commenced, the Chairman referred to the loss sustained through the death of their late Chairman, Mr. M. Barrington Jellett. He said—Mr. Barrington Jellett joined the Board of the bank in 1915, and became Chairman in 1920 on the resignation of the late Sir James Murphy. From the time he joined the Board Mr. Jellett gave a very large amount of his time to forwarding the interests of the bank, and in so doing he did not spare himself. It was mainly through his energy that in 1923 the Royal Bank acquired the branches of the Belfast Bank situated in the Irish Free State, thus giving to the Royal Bank, which up to that time had been mainly a Dublin and suburban bank, an opportunity of extending into the country. Everyone who had the privilege of association with the late Chairman will remember his genial and kindly disposition, and, I am sure, will join with us in regretting the loss of a valuable friend and leader.

Mr. William S. Hayes proposed—"That the shareholders of the Royal Bank of Ireland desire to express their sense of the great loss the bank has sustained by the death of Mr. M. Barrington Jellett, their late Chairman, who had been on the Board of the bank for ten years, during which time he rendered most valuable service to it." He spoke of the indefatigable industry of the late Mr. Jellett in the affairs of the bank, and of the very genial way in which he met all those who had business transactions with him.

Mr. Stamford H. Roche, who seconded the motion, said that the good that Mr. Barrington Jellett had done for the bank was far-reaching, and his memory would be associated with the bank for many years to come.

The motion was passed in silence, all present standing.

CHAIRMAN'S ADDRESS.

The Chairman, proposing the adoption of the report, said—During most of the period under review the trade of the country has been seriously interfered with by the unsettled conditions prevailing in England, the cattle trade being seriously hampered by the restrictions on the other side of the Channel owing to the continuance of the foot-and-mouth disease, and, although the coal strike is at a distance from us, its effect, nevertheless, seriously interferes with the trade of this country. The loss in wages to those engaged in the strike, and also losses sustained by those directly or indirectly affected, naturally reduces the purchasing power of the community as a whole, and, when the country's best customer is burdened with such conditions, the turnover in your exports is very much less than when they are normal. In addition, prices are not so good, with the result that you are affected, not only as regards turnover, but in values as well.

THE YEAR'S OPERATIONS.

In view of this I think we may congratulate ourselves that the result of the year's operations are so satisfactory, the net profit for the year being £70,531, as compared with £73,842 in the previous year. If you refer to the balance sheet you will see that the deposit and current accounts have been well maintained, being, in fact, only £25,000 less than the figure they stood at a year ago. The fluctuations in the other items of the balance sheet are unimportant and do not call for any special comment by me. There is no doubt that, with the ever-increasing stability of the country, if our people adopt up-to-date methods in the production and marketing of their goods, as advocated by the Government, they can, owing to their proximity to what one may term "the world's best buyer," compete successfully with other countries. I am pleased to say that the Government are alive to this, and legislation has already been passed dealing with the export of farm produce, notably butter and eggs.

THE BANKING COMMISSION.

In January of this year the Government appointed a Commission to inquire into, and report upon, the Irish banking system. The Commission was presided over by Mr. H. L. Parker Willis, the well-known American economist. Numerous sittings were held, and evidence was given on behalf of various bodies. Interim reports have, I understand, been drawn up and presented to the Government, and are now under consideration. Some forecasts have appeared in the Press as to the probable recommendations that the Committee may make, but it is not right, I think, to discuss matters here which are still sub judice. You may rest assured that your directors will carefully watch the interests of the bank.

The Chairman of the Committee, in a letter which appeared recently in the "New York Journal of Commerce," and which was reprinted in the Irish Times, alluded to the "well organised system of banking which obtains in Ireland and to the facilities for the convenience of the public which are afforded." I feel sure you will be pleased to know that Ireland is not considered behindhand in its banking methods, and will agree that the favourable comments are justified.

THE NEW DIRECTOR.

As mentioned in the report, we have been fortunate in securing for the Board the services of Mr. David Telford, who is so well known in business and financial circles. His wide experience will be of much assistance to the bank.

Our law agents, Messrs. Orpen and Sweeny, after a connection with the bank extending over a period of eighty years, recently asked to be relieved of their bank duties, their private practice now requiring all their attention. I need not say that their resignation was accepted with great regret. The duties of law agent have been undertaken by Mr. T. A. Purefoy, whose entire time will be devoted to the bank's business.

In conclusion, I desire to take this opportunity of thanking the staff of the bank on behalf of myself and my co-directors for the whole-hearted support and interest they have shown in its welfare during the past year. Prosperity depends to a very large extent on the active co-operation and good-will of the staff, and I am sure you will agree that the staff of the Royal Bank are second to none in the manner in which they at all times further your interests. Before putting the resolution for the adoption of the report and statement of accounts, I shall be pleased to hear comments from any shareholders, and will endeavour to the best of my ability to answer any question.

THE DISCUSSION.

Mr. C. J. Reddy said that he would like the directors to consider favourably the question of putting one of the higher members of the staff on the Board of Directors. The bank was rather conservative in the distribution of dividend. They must keep moving with the times, and, in doing so, with the object of developing trade, he would seriously suggest that not only the directors of that bank, but the directors of other banks, should co-operate and not charge customers one penny greater interest than did the banks in England. At present it was about 1 per cent. more than in England, and by making it less they would help to keep the money in the country. The large reserve they had was a wise procedure, but he suggested that in future 5 per cent. should go to the shareholders as paid-up capital in consideration of the shareholders bringing in another £5, thereby making £10 capital. There would then be a far greater field for development.

The Chairman said that the Board would look into all the suggestions made by Mr. Reddy. As regards the directors, he said that, although it was allowable to have seven, there were never more than six, except on one exceptional occasion. He thought that the conservatice way the directors had dealt with the profits was the right policy for the bank, and they hoped to continue that policy. He did not know how the shareholders would like the suggestion to bring in £5, but the directors would look into that.

Mr. E. Clive Brooks seconded the motion to adopt the report, and this was passed.

A dividend of 12 per cent. (less tax) for the six months ended 31st August last was declared, on the motion of the Chairman, seconded by Mr. Brooks.

Major Cusack and Mr. John McCann, retiring directors, and Messrs. Kevans and Son and Mr. P. H. Grierson, auditors, were re-elected.

On the motion of Mr. R. Denne Bolton, seconded by Mr. C. J. Reddy, a vote of thanks was passed to the directors and to the staffs of the head and branch offices.

BRITISH MAGNETO TRIUMPH.

RESULT OF TECHNICAL CO-OPERATION.

The rapid growth of the British Thomson-Houston Company's magneto works at Coventry, which were visited by a large party of experts this week, is quite a romance of industry. When the Great War began the German magneto reigned supreme; none was made in this country, the motor manufacturers using those of German make. The British Government approached the Thomson-Houston Co. and asked them to supply magnetos for all the motor vehicles in use for the front, and for all the fighting aeroplanes, and the response was immediate and satisfactory. In the course of three years the firm dropped the manufacture of imitation German magnetos and produced a better type of its own.

The enormous expansion of the British magneto industry during the past decade is, to a large extent, due to the spirit of co-operation in the matter of technical difficulties that has always existed between the magneto designers and the manufacturers of the basic materials in Great Britain. In some instances the manufacture of these basic materials—as, for example, permanent magnets and varnished silk insulation—did not exist in Great Britain before the war, but, as a result of this hearty co-operation, the manufacture of all the basic materials for the British magneto industry is now established on a sound and trustworthy basis.

The manufacture of all British Thomson-Houston magnetos is carried out at the Coventry works of the company, which comprise two large factories—the Lower Ford street and Alma street factories—both being well equipped with the most modern machinery, laid out to deal with an intense magneto manufacturing programme on the "continuous flow" production basis.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS.

UNION BRANCH ESTABLISHED IN LOUTH.

A meeting, representative of all departments of Local Government Service in County Louth was held on Wednesday evening in the Courthouse, Dundalk, to initiate a Branch of the Irish Local Government Officials' Union for the county.

Messages were received from the staff of the Dundalk Urban District Council and other officials in the county expressing regret for their inability to attend.

A delegation attended from the Executive Committee of the Union, and addressed the meeting on the objects, scope and achievements of the Union.

It was unanimously decided to form a branch of the Union for County Louth, and applications for membership were received from all present.

The following provisional committee was elected to complete the organisation of the county:—Chairman—Mr. Joseph Carr, Town Clerk, Drogheda. Vice-Chairmen—Mr. Charles McAlester, County Secretary, and Mr. P. J. Kearney, Secretary, Co. Board of Health. Joint Hon. Secretaries and Treasurers—Messrs Val. Warren, Assistant Secretary, Co. Board of Health, and T. Johnson, S.S.O., Dundalk Urban Council. Committee Members—Messrs. Patrick Gilmore, Accountant, County Council; B. Moynagh, Assistant Engineer, Dundalk Urban Council; John Woods, Rate Collector, Carlingford; James Kearney, Louth County Committee of Agriculture; J. J. McQuillan, Rate Collector, Drogheda; J. J. Burke, Borough Surveyor, Drogheda; Miss S. Comerford, Accountant, Dundalk Urban Council; Miss Rose Callan, Home Assistance Officer, Dundalk.

Arrangements were made for the holding of future meetings and for representation of the branch at the annual Conference of the Union to be held in Dublin on Saturday, October 30.

BELFAST LINEN TRADE.

FIRMER CONDITIONS.

IMPORTANCE OF MAINTAINING QUALITY.

The official report of the Belfast Linen Trade for the past fortnight states:—The Irish flax crop is all harvested in good condition, a few lots have been scutched, which have yielded very well; quality good; average prices not yet fixed. Courtrai—No change in value; selection still poor, but this will improve from now forward. Latvian—The Government are still stiff as regards prices. Offers have been put up to them to clear the balance of the crop, but the business has been turned down. The first of the new crop will not be available for export before November. Esthonian—The crop promises well, and good progress is being made with the saving. Acreage is down, but the yields should be higher than last year. Lithuanian—Little offering at the moment. Prices unchanged. Soviet—Further negotiations for bulk are taking place. A sale of 7,000 tons is reported to-day, but not definitely confirmed yet.

There is, in the whole, more disposition to operate in the yarn section, and, as a consequence, prices are firm. This is more marked in tows, which are still a leading feature in the market. In common with other trades, the coal strike is adding seriously to cost of production.

The underlying conditions in the weaving trade are very firm. Manufacturers cannot now get concessions in yarn, and they know exactly where they stand; this should make it much easier for the representatives of Belfast houses who are now in the United States to sell forward. A larger range of goods is being inquired for than for some time past, and this is all to the good. Business is spotty, some factories seem to have booked quite respectable quantities; others are complaining. There is no question that, with a termination of the coal strike, business would improve.

A moderate amount of orders are being received by merchants, mostly of a filling in character. Trade still remains quiet, but from reports just received from the salesmen who are now in the States, it is expected that buying may start early next year. This is later than usual, but the indications are that a fair business may be expected. Unfortunately, both in the States and home markets, we are still suffering from foreign competition, mainly owing to depreciated currencies. Once these were improved and on a steady basis, Belfast would be sure to get a greater volume of business than it has enjoyed of late. A steady and increasing business is being done in dress linens for various markets, and prospects as regards U.S.A. are decidedly better. It will take some time, however, to eradicate the harmful impression created in the minds of consumers by the large quantities of Irish and Continental low end coloured linens shipped to that market, and which were found unsatisfactory when made into garments. We have frequently called attention to the importance of maintaining quality, which must be adhered to if dress linens are to regain their popularity in the American market.

Chambers, was in danger of being drowned, when he was rescued with great difficulty by Mr. George Chambers.

The Earl of Kilmorey, who made the presentation, and Mr. Thomas R. Chambers, J.P., paid tribute to Mr. Chambers's heroic action.

GOOD PRICES FOR HEREFORDS.

DISPERSAL OF NOTED HERD.

(From Our Agricultural Correspondent.)

BIRR, Friday.

Before a representative company, including breeders from Cork, Tipperary, Meath, Dublin, Westmeath, Longford and Offaly, the herd of Hereford cattle, belonging to Major A. H. C. Trench, was yesterday dispersed at Redwood, County Tipperary, some eight miles from Birr. Forty years ago this herd of "white-face" cattle was founded at Redwood on a very sound basis. For the most part the stock have been kept in natural condition, a few being selected for exhibition at local shows, with gratifying success. Members of the herd have also done well at Ballsbridge and elsewhere, while from a commercial point of view they have been uniformly successful. For this reason the annual sales of young bulls usually held in Birr have been looked forward to with interest. With such a record to its credit, it is not surprising that the dispersal of the Redwood herd should have attracted a large and business-like attendance.

The stock were forward in nice bloom, and Mr. Telford, of Messrs. R. Telford and Sons, had no difficulty in eliciting bids. A brisk demand was experienced right through, and a nice range of prices was realised. Admiral Craig Waller paid the best price for cows—50 guineas—for the nice-looking three-year-old, Rossan, a first prize winner at the recent Birr Show. A feature of the sale was the strong demand for calves, of which at least three brought more money than their dams—namely, 47, 47½ and 49 guineas.

It would seem from this sale that if really well-bred Herefords are available they will meet with a good inquiry at remunerative prices.

Appended is a list of the principal sales—

Good prices were realised for one and two-year-old heifers, as well as bulls, the latter being very strongly sought after.

Some pure-bred Shropshire rams were sold at prices ranging from 2½ to 5½ guineas.

The Keighley, West Riding, magistrates yesterday found a prima facie case against the Rev. John Crossland Hirst, rector of Haworth Church, on eight summonses for assault. The defendant reserved his defence, and was committed for trial at the Quarter Sessions, bail being allowed.

KEY UNDER A STONE.

LABOURERS CHARGED WITH THEFT FROM FARMHOUSE.

Two young men named James Patton, of Drumeagle, and William Patterson, of Magheragar, were remanded on bail at a special court in Strabane yesterday on the charge of breaking into the dwelling-house of James Hemphill, farmer, of Tullywhisker, and stealing therefrom the sum of £26.

Patton, according to Hemphill, had worked for him at the harvest, and promised, when paid off, to return the following week, but did not do so. Hemphill paid him in the sittingroom, off the room where the money was kept, first going to the drawer, from which the sum of £26 was later missed. Before this Hemphill had occasion to ask his wife where the key of the kitchen door was, and Patton was between them when she answered that it was on the right-hand side of the door under a stone.

Sergeant Flanagan stated that when he charged Patterson with breaking into Hemphill's house, Patterson replied: "Righto." Patton, when similarly charged, said: "Can you prove it?"

UNEMPLOYMENT IN THE NORTH.

There was an increase of 484 in the number of persons unemployed in Northern Ireland last week. The total registering for employment on September 20th was 53,745, of whom 44,235 were wholly unemployed; 6,645 were unemployed owing to temporary stoppages, and 2,865 were casual workers.

The increase in unemployment is chiefly due to workers engaged on a basis of systematic short-time being out of employment.

PRODUCE AND FOOD MARKETS.

CATTLE.

BIRKENHEAD.—Supplies: 2,116 Irish cattle and 3,203 lambs. A large supply of cattle on offer met a very poor trade. Best quality hardy weight heifers made up to 9d., bullocks 8½d. to 8¾d., secondary descriptions around 8½d., cows and bulls from 5d. to 7½d. A quiet trade prevailed for lambs, and late rates governed most transactions. Prices ranged from 11d. to 1/- per lb., sinking the offal.

BIG SALE OF PEDIGREE CATTLE.

NEXT WEEK'S FIXTURE.

For their fourth annual sale of Shorthorn, Aberdeen-Angus and Hereford cows, heifers and calves at 50 Prussia street, Dublin, on Thursday next, Messrs. Gavin Low, Limited, have an entry of 241. This includes representatives of the principal herds in all parts of the country, North, South, East and North-West. It will be quite the largest collection of pedigree stock offered at a joint sale in Dublin, outside of Ballsbridge, and a glance through the catalogue shows that breeders appreciate it as a centre for the disposal of surplus stock. At the same time they have recognised the importance of offering only stock of a type that will attract buyers and so ensure the confidence of the public. In view of the difficulty of obtaining fresh blood from cross-Channel herds, these sales are certain to command more attention, and it lies with breeders to make them what they should be, a permanent fixture.

Shorthorns will make by far the largest display, and a feature of this section will be the dispersal of the entire herd belonging to Vice-Admiral Craig-Waller, Allenstown, Kells, who is confining his energies to Herefords. This herd includes the four-year-old bull, Boyne Lord, a second prize winner at Dublin as a yearling. The females include representatives of the Booth Mantiline, Broadhooks, Clermont, Tulip and Louisa families, and, with one exception, are all under six years old. There are nine entries from Mr. Joseph Bowden, Cortober House, Cootehill, who is reducing his herd, and now offers good representatives of the Broadhooks, Groat, Princess Royal, Undine and Clipper tribes. There are nineteen entries from Mr. R. W. Wright, Kilkea. Mageney, and these include Rosewoods, Goldies, Brawith Buds, Princess Royals and Missies. From his herd at Straffan, Co. Kildare, Mr. B. H. Barton is sending over a dozen well-bred animals. There are also large entries by Mr. G. N. Jessop, Maryborough; R. Hall, Smithborough, Co. Monaghan; F. N. Greve, Dundrum, Co. Tipperary, and Mr. G. E. Moore, Athboy.

Amongst the useful lot of Aberdeen-Angus, representing some of the best strains, Mr. R. C. Williams, Macroom, will have the largest entry, while the largest selection of Herefords will come from Senator Sir Nugent Everard, Bart.

"NOT UP TO STANDARD."

RETURNED MOTOR CAR AND THE SEQUEL.

Holding that the plaintiff had described his car as in perfect mechanical order, the Belfast Recorder yesterday dismissed a claim by Michael McKenna, shell metal worker, of Carnmoney, who sought to recover the sum of £19 from Charles Wilkinson and Son, 123-135 Donegall street, in respect of a motor car sold by them on his behalf, but later returned by the purchaser as "not coming up to the standard as described at the sale."

The plaintiff denied having given any guarantee beyond the statement that the car was running every day. He paid the defendants 10s. as a fee, placing a reserve of £10 on the car. The car was sold for £16, but he was not surprised that it fetched so much.

The evidence for the defence was to the effect that the car was returned on the day of the sale. The car was guaranteed by the owner. A good figure for the car would have been £3 had there not been the guarantee. There was £2 due for commission and £3 for storage.

"ONLY SKIN AND BONE."

FATHER'S SHOCKING NEGLECT OF HIS CHILDREN.

Robert Bell Scroggie, Moorefield, was sentenced to three months' imprisonment, with hard labour, at Ballymena Petty Sessions yesterday, for neglecting his three children. A similar charge against his wife was withdrawn.

Describing a visit to the defendants' house on the 3rd May last, Inspector McGirr, of the National Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, said that there was neither food nor fire. The youngest child appeared to be starving, and the eldest child was poorly nourished, and its head was verminous.

The witness returned on the 17th May; there were no comforts in the house then, and the defendant was in bed, and was chewing tobacco, the floor being covered with tobacco spittles.

Dr. A. Duncan said that he paid innumerable visits and cautioned defendants. The conditions were as the inspector had described them. The youngest child was seven months old, and it was only eight pounds in weight, whereas it should have been about 17 pounds. In fact, it was only skin and bone. The conditions in the house were very serious. Scroggie had done nothing for his family for twelve months, and his wife was also suffering from starvation. For twenty-five years the witness had "seen nothing like it."

CHARGE OF FALSE PRETENCES.

FIRST LORD MAYOR OF CARDIFF TO BE TRIED.

Robert Hughes, first Lord Mayor of Cardiff, was committed for trial to the Glamorgan Assizes, by the Cardiff magistrates yesterday, on twenty-four charges of fraudulent conversion and false pretences. Bail was allowed in his own surety of £200, and two other sureties of £200 each.

The charges arose from eight transactions, it being alleged that defendant, who had been a representative of local brewing firms for many years, advertised for managers of South Wales hotels and public-houses. The applicants were interviewed, and deposits were paid, but the positions were not given to them, and the deposits were not returned, only small payments being made in some cases.
